

60-SECOND SERMONS

By FRED DODGE

Text: "Like melons, we must try a hundred friends to find a good one." —Mormet.

Two men were talking together when one remarked, "I didn't know that you knew Russell Browne. Is he a friend of yours?" "Are we friends?" said the other man, "Say, we've been friends for fifteen years. There's nothing I wouldn't do for Russ and there's nothing he wouldn't do for me. In fact, for years and years we have gone through life together, doing absolutely nothing for each other." Too many of us stride selfishly through life doing absolutely nothing for anyone. Then, when we need them, we wonder why we have no friends. We do nothing to win friendship and blame others for failing to be friendly. Friends are won. Friendship is a generous reaching out of mind and spirit in sympathetic understanding toward others. It is a continuing process, in spite of rebuffs. You'll find that no friendly gesture is wasted. Even though your effort does not create a friend, someone is warmer inside because you tried. He is smiling. He might have been frowning. Someone thinks more highly of you because you offered sincere friendliness. You'll find that out. Keep trying. It's more rewarding than trying to win friends by doing absolutely nothing.

WITH THE FARM WOMEN

By MAIDRED MORRIS

Tomato Champion
Mrs. Lewis Stadler, charter member of Apple-Clark Home Demonstration Club is the undisputed champion of the earliest ripe tomatoes in Rockingham County. The earliest tomato is a Burpee anna transplanted from greenhouse to garden on April 17 because plants were too big to keep indoors longer. She sprayed with "Blossom Set," the blooms stayed on and produced tomatoes by June 1. Miss Isabelle Buckley, home economics agent, says Mrs. Stadler does not have disease troubles with her tomatoes because she plants in a different spot each year. Apron Contest
An apron contest has recently been held by 4-H girls in Cabarrus County, according to Miss Sara Stewart, assistant home economics agent. Forty girls entered the contest which created excitement over the assortment of aprons. Experience was gained in cutting patterns, stitching and trimming seams. Freezing Techniques
Home Demonstration Club women in Avery County are ready to freeze breads, cakes, cheese straws, pies, frozen salads, party sandwiches, and meat main dishes following a demonstration by Miss Martha Ross, TVA home economist. According to Miss Marie Scott, home economics agent, frozen food leaders in the communities are assisting their friends with frozen food information. Packing A Suitcase
Miss Janelle White, assistant home economics agent in New Hanover County, says adult leaders have been helping 4-H Club members get ready for camp by teaching them to pack a suitcase. The 4-Hers were told to plan travel clothes around a basic color, use of separates and miracle fabrics. In the first layer they packed odd shaped articles like shoes; in the second, dresses and suits; and in the third, things reache easily, such as pajamas, umbrella or sweaters.

the plain juice extracted from plants killed all kinds of nematodes—root knot, sting, stubby root and meadow. They also found that the juice, even in diluted concentration, gave considerable protection from this pest when poured around the roots of tomato plants. Further tests showed that spraying the juice formulation on the leaves of the tomato plants was even more effective than root treatment (indicating systemic properties). While we are on subjects that are new and comparatively new, we might discuss Perlite. This material is manufactured from volcanic rock (lava) which has been expanded by heating. When the rock is crushed and graded, it retains a small amount of moisture. Upon heating the water changes to steam and explodes the particles into small kernels. It is very light, weighing 86 per cent less than sand. This material has many uses; acoustical plaster, cement, etc., but in horticulture it is used as a soil conditioner, and in the propagating medium for rooting cuttings. If you want to try something new, use equal parts of Perlite and peat, by volume, for rooting cuttings. Sometimes good sharp sand is hard to obtain so use Perlite as a substitute. If you have a bad spot in your yard or garden—one that is hard, suburn, and poorly aerated—work some Perlite into it. It should improve the physical condition of the soil and encourage better plant growth.

Sunday School Lesson

DECISIONS DETERMINE DESTINY
International Sunday School Lesson for July 12, 1964.

Memory Selection: "It is the Lord who goes before you; he will be with you, he will not fail you or forsake you; do not fear or be dismayed." —(Deuteronomy 31:4)

Lesson Text: Deut. 29 thru 34. This lesson emphasizes the fact that persons should make wise decisions; it shows that choosing involves both freedom and responsibility. In reading the Scriptures designated for study today, we see Moses and Joshua being charged with God's covenant. The choices are clearly outlined. As we scan history, we can discern great turning points. These are landmarks, as it were, where man's decisions, discoveries, or inventions led to tremendous changes. At one time in the distant past, these turning points may have affected only the course of a single great civilization. The long-range consequences, however, may often be traced into later cultures. Today, mankind is going through the painful process of becoming one world, of hammering one civilization out of many diverse elements. Increasingly, we find the great decisions or turning points of our time are worldwide in their repercussions. No longer are we choosing only for our nation, or for Western civilization, or for Western civilization. How do national decisions affect the destiny of the nation? In our day we find ourselves in the midst of rapid social change steadily accelerated by the swift advance of science and technology. Great, and often conflicting, movements of men and ideas swirl around us, beat into our consciousness, catch us up and sweep us along, like a twig in a raging torrent. The great decisions we, as a nation, must make are many and varied. Some are the responsibility of the President. Others require action by Congress, or by Congress and the President jointly. Still others fall within the province of the Courts. But, whoever has the ultimate decision to make, no major policy of government can stand for long unless it has considerable support among the people. In the final analysis, we, as individuals, are the ones on whom these decisions are based, whether we are willing to acknowledge it or not. The health of the nation and the direction of history reflect our own sense of citizenship responsibility, our own grasp of world affairs, our own commitment to the coming of God's kingdom among men. Our nation, and others, is engaged in a feverish search for security in a world threatened by nuclear warfare. In this search we are relying primarily, but not entirely, on military preparations. There are, however, serious con-

Go To Some Church Each Sunday

Relaxation
If someone were to deprive you of the right of relaxation you would be a slave.
Yet relaxation itself can enslave us!
Nero is a villain of history because he fiddled while Rome burned. He couldn't have put out the fire ... but what a colossally stupid time to relax!
There are hours in every week when we need to relax. And there are hours that challenge our mightiest effort.
It is like those hours when, with millions the world over, we have opportunity to seek in our churches truth ... faith ... God!
The value of relaxation is unquestionable. But the value of religious and moral growth is supreme!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

In an earlier column, I told about the success University of California scientists were having with garlic juice as a control for many bacteria and fungus troubles. Now comes asparagus juice to the forefront. Two scientists at the University of Maryland, while making a statewide survey of nematodes, found that they had no use for asparagus plants. Following this clue, they discovered that just
