

60-SECOND SERMONS

By FRED DODGE

Text: "Where is wisdom to be found?"—Job 28:9.

A spinster was showing a group of girls through a museum, pointing out the beautiful works of art it contained. "This," she said, indicating a statue, "is Minerva."

What is wisdom? Can it be plucked like a plum, gathered like grain or dug like diamonds? Can we heap wisdom high, store it and go about our business knowing that we possess it? Or is wisdom more difficult to gain?

Certainly wisdom is not merely knowing things, the new, the spectacular, the astounding. That is "know-how." Many people with "know-how" are extremely unwise. Wisdom is "know-why." Dr. Julius Mark, comparing man's tremendous technical strides with his halting moral steps, was moved to write, "We don't need more 'know-how,' we need more 'know-why.'"

President Designates July 19-25 As National Farm Safety Week

Suppose you heard a news flash reporting that Albemarle, Reidsville or Elizabeth City had been wiped out without a survivor.

What a horrible thought, and yet the population of any one of these cities just about equals the number of deaths from farm accidents in the United States last year. To make this needless loss even more staggering, for each one of these deaths there were about 80 time-loss injuries and many of these were permanent.

Now, do you wonder why we need so many hospitals?

July 19-25 has been proclaimed by the President as National Farm Safety Week. Let's observe the week as the highlight of a year-around program, suggests H. M. Ellis, in charge of extension agricultural engineering for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, because just as sure as the old saying that practice makes perfect, safe practices can cut down on the number of accidents.

The theme for National Farm Safety Week is "Safety Makes Sense." Let's think about that for a minute, Ellis urges.

When an accident occurs,

GUM POND CLUB MEETS

The Gum Pond Home Demonstration Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Bass on July 1.

The meeting was called to order and Mrs. Charlie Peele read the 100th Psalm and the club collect was repeated by all. The group then sang "Oh Suzanna."

Mrs. Ellie Bunch gave a very interesting report called "Stand Up and Look Pretty."

The club members decided to have their annual club picnic at the regular monthly meeting in August.

Miss Katherine Aman, assistant home agent, read a very interesting poem called "She Leads the Band." Miss Aman then gave a demonstration on "Meals in Minutes." This was a demonstration that everyone got something out of because of this busy season.

The hostess, Mrs. Clarence Bass, and Miss Ila Bass then served cake, nuts and lemonade, which was enjoyed by all.

there is bound to be a reason. Careful investigation practically always reveals that the cause of the accident is human failure.

Do you want to argue with that? The person killed crossing the street might have been 100 per cent right, but the driver of the death car failed somewhere along the line. This simple explanation won't solve every case, but statistics definitely prove that human failure and not motor vehicles, not farm implements or animals is the basic cause of accidents.

Immediately many of us will say that to fail is only human, and that certainly is true; but let's take a good look at these human failures—and when we do, we find we can do something about them because human failures include: Hurry, lack of common sense, improper equipment, improper care and use of equipment, procrastination (a Sunday word for putting things off), false confidence, lack of knowledge.

"We can cut down on this needless waste of time, lives and suffering by developing proper attitudes," Ellis concludes. "The future happiness of your family could well hinge on your attitude."

Health For All

Unspoiled Summer Days
Picnics and barbecues are fun, but bellyaches aren't. The long hot summer is a time for rest and renewal. It's no time for cramps, nausea or diarrhea. But you probably have more upset stomachs in summer than at any other time.

For one reason, people eat more informally in the summer. Too often, that means eating irregularly, eating "a lot of junk", swallowing gobs of iced drinks and frozen custards, and skipping cooked meals altogether. Then, too, in this day of refrigerators and home freezers we're prone to forget that food still spoils, especially in hot weather.

weather and especially certain kinds of food.
Mayonnaise, milk and milk products, pastries made with custard or cream fillings, cold cuts like ham and liverwurst and various luncheon loaves, chopped meat, fish—these are all highly perishable and demand particular caution.

Cases of food poisoning occur even where food is prepared under professional supervision, so it can happen when Mom's in the kitchen, too. The cases that get into the newspapers are those where large groups are stricken all at once, after eating tuna fish or cream puffs or some such perishable food that was, no doubt, prepared in advance and left standing around before being served. It doesn't take much time for such food to spoil on a hot day.

Just remember to keep perishable foods refrigerated, use frozen foods soon after thawing, and serve only food that is fresh and unspoiled. A salad may be made ahead of time, but it should be kept in the refrigerator, and the mayonnaise—always refrigerated—should be stirred in just before eating time.

Since germs cause spoilage, dirty fingers, open cuts, a boil on a food handler, and so on, can increase the risks. Where you are not sure care has been exercised, avoid certain foods altogether. Don't let spoiled food spoil summer fun!

EGG PRODUCTION CFF
Commercial hatcheries in North Carolina produced 13,609,000 chicks during May which is 2.2 per cent below the record high for the month of 13,917,000 set in May, 1958. Total chicks hatched from January through May this year is 87,988,000 or 9 per cent above the 62,206,000 produced during this period last year.

Production of broiler chicks was 12,710,000 for the current month which was under the May, 1958 production of 13,043,000.

FRIENDLINESS FOR NEWCOMERS
International Sunday School Lesson For July 18, 1958

Memory Selection: "He executes justice for the fatherless and the widow, and loves the sojourner, giving him food and clothing. Love the sojourner therefore; for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt."
—Deut. 10:18-19.

Lesson Text: The Book of Ruth.

This lesson should help adults appreciate more fully the story of Ruth as an interpretation of human friendship; it should also help them realize that true friendship knows no barriers.

In our Scriptures for today we read of the sorrows of Naomi, the devotion of Ruth, her daughter-in-law, the generosity of Boaz, as well as the fact that a foreigner, a Moabite woman, could demonstrate the highest virtues.

Today, as in the days of Naomi, people frequently find it necessary to leave their own country or neighborhood and go to live in distant and strange places. We would do well to consider the question: How can we develop a true concern for newcomers—especially those refugees from a tyrannical government, who have seen their countries trodden under the heel of an aggressor, and whose lives have contained much sorrow? Some move to a new location merely because their work demands it, or they are following a loved one. These, more fortunate in their background, are, nevertheless, strangers in a strange land, and subject to all the loneliness, the feeling of strangeness in unfamiliar surroundings, that such a move entails.

Still another group is formed by migratory workers. These people follow the crops all over the country, residing merely for a part of each year in varying communities. Sometimes this influx of families causes disruption in a community, taxing the schools and other community services. These, too, are sojourners in strange places.

Let us take a closer look at the needs of these various groups of "newcomers." Our list would include jobs, housing, medical care, language instruction (in a great majority of cases) adequate schooling, wholesome recreation and community social services. Orientation to life in the new community may be very important. Help in shopping, information on banking facilities, acquaintance with postal services, assistance in registering and voting, aid in enrolling children in school, help with budgeting expenditures and directions on local transportation are some of the essential ways in which these newcomers can be aided.

Should you, in your neighborhood, have immigrants from abroad, have them relate to you the prolonged, technical and

Go To Some Church Each Sunday

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is the storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	18	1-4
Monday	Psalms	103	1-4
Tuesday	John	3	14-17
Wednesday	Jeremiah	33	9-11
Thursday	Romans	14	19-23
Friday	Psalms	23	1-4
Saturday	Psalms	95	1-6

The sight of a child playing in the sun — a reflection of God's goodness!

At such moments, children seem like echoes of God's love. In their own boundless joy, with their unquenchable enthusiasm, they point the way to truth, love, faith and beauty.

It is a way all of us can follow. By turning to God with a child's simplicity, by seeking Him through the Church, we can emerge from life's shadows and stand again in the full light of eternal truth.
