

Corn Production 6.7% Below 1958

Based on condition reports from farmers as of July 1, production of corn in North Carolina is forecast at 76,646,000 bushels by the North Carolina Crop Reporting Service. A crop of 76,646,000 bushels, if realized, would be 6.7 per cent less than the record 1958 crop of 82,192,000 bushels. Acreage for harvest is estimated at 2,017,000 acres, which is 8.0 per cent above last year. Discontinuance of the Soil Bank Acreage Reserve Program and acreage allotments in probably account for a major part of the increase in acreage. Average yield per acre is forecast at 38 bushels—6 bushels short of last year's 44-bushel record yield.

He also stated that Farm Fresh Foods is seeking growers of fall snapbeans to be planted between July 15 and August 1. Attractive contracts, approved by the N. C. Department of Agriculture, are now being offered to fall growers by Farm Fresh Foods, and Manager Logan urges growers to contact him before planting their small grain land in other crops. Snapbeans should provide a greater profit than soybeans, according to Logan, and arrangements are being made with the N. C. Employment Service to provide labor for picking these beans if there is a shortage of local labor when these beans are ready for harvest, Logan stated.

A committee reported on the Brown Company subdivision, stating that the Brown Company was anxious to know if the town will take over a street and provide utilities so that lots can be sold. No action was taken due to the uncertainty of the sanitary sewer problem, which necessitates a pumping station.

The committee was instructed to confer with the Board of Public Works relative to a type of lift station which is estimated to cost $2,500, with the Brown Company sharing in the cost of installation. The Councilmen also expressed the doubt as to whether the project as laid out is acceptable to the town.

The committee on a proposed municipal building reported that they had made more investigation and that a meeting was scheduled with Ed Pugh, Elizabeth City architect, for 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. He will be informed of what has been done and will be asked for proposals as to what is best to be done.

Town Councilmen appointed the present Zoning Adjustment Board to prepare a zoning plan for the area annexed north of Edenton. Members of this board are Geddes Potter, George Twiddy, Caswell Edmundson, William Holmes and Mrs. Katherine Goodwin.

During the meeting the Councilmen agreed to transfer the lease from the Edenton Veneer Mill to the Chowan Veneer Company. The lease is for five years with an option of five more years. A charge of $30 per month rent is charged.

It was reported that a lease is expected momentarily for 22.47 acres of land at the former Edenton Naval Auxiliary Air Station to be used as a sewage treatment plant. Bond attorneys in New York are preparing the preliminaries for a bond election for $500,000. Due to the present uncertainty of the proposed knitting concern coming to Edenton, there is a quarry as to including $300,000 in the bond issue to construct a water line to the industrial site north of Edenton.

Melvin Weaver New Edenton Policeman

Mr. Weaver is 34 years old and comes from Littleton, where he has served as an officer for four years. He will assume his duties in Edenton Monday, July 20th.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The divine, eternal source of all life and action will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" is the Golden Text from John (5:26): "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself." From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (289:32): "Because Life is God, Life must be eternal, self-existent. Life is the everlasting I AM, the Being who was and is and shall be, whom nothing can erase."

Scriptural selections include this passage from I John (2:25): "And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life."

NORTH CAROLINA MEANS BETTER LIVING

Nothing contributes more to better living in North Carolina than its climate. Four distinct seasons, all of them mild, with adequate rainfall throughout the year, make for an equable climate that is pleasant, healthful and with ever changing interest. It is the climate that makes North Carolina a vacationland of industrial opportunity.

And in those areas where better living is enjoyed to the fullest, they have adopted "legal control" of the sale of beer and ale as the most enlightened system for law-abiding communities.

Cotton Acreage Up 55 Per Cent

Cotton planted in North Carolina is estimated at 420,000 acres, according to the North Carolina Crop Reporting Service. The current acreage is 55 per cent above the 271,000 acres planted last year but 34.9 percent below the 1948-57 average of 641,000 acres. Assuming the 1949-58 ten-year average abandonment of 3.3 per cent would result in about 406,000 acres for harvest this year. This would be the largest acreage of cotton harvested in North Carolina since 1956 when 440,000 acres were harvested.

ed. The crop got off to a good start and weather conditions to date have been generally favorable for cotton. As is usually the case, the condition of the crop varies between areas within the State and between farms in the same area, but on the whole cotton has withstood the ill effects of hot, dry weather much better than other crops. Percent boll weevil infestation is reported to be unusually low; the crop is in good condition and better than average yields are now in prospect.
