

Negro Home Demonstration News

By Mrs. ONNIE S. CHARLTON, County Negro Home Economics Agent

Last month 4-H Club work got started for the 1959-1960 term. We take this opportunity to help you understand what 4-H Clubs are and what we attempt to do through the 4-H Club program.

Four-H Clubs are organized groups of young people who are engaged in agriculture, home-making or community activities under the guidance of Extension Workers and Local Volunteer Leaders. These clubs have young people from rural and urban areas. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 21 may enroll. The 4-H Club work is a part of the national system of Cooperative Extension Work in Agriculture and Home Economics in which the United States Department of Agriculture, the State Land Grant Colleges and the counties participate. There are 4-H Clubs in practically every county in all states of our union and in Puerto Rico. Some other countries have similar youth organizations patterned after the 4-H Clubs of our nation. There are 4-H Clubs in every county in our state. In North Carolina there are 54,126 Negro boys and girls enrolled in 4-H Club work.

Four-H Club work is just one of several programs available to help train youth to be useful citizens. It trains boys and girls in the art of living. The program helps increase farm incomes, improve standards of living, improve community life, prepare young people for the world ahead and helps them to assume leadership and citizenship responsibilities.

The 4-H used in connection with these clubs typifies the training of the Head, Heart, Hands and Health which the club program provides.

Some objectives under each "H" are:
Head—To instill in the minds of rural young people an intelligent understanding and appreciation of nature and environment in which they live.
To teach young people the value of research and to develop in them a scientific attitude toward the problems of the farm and the home.

Heart—To train rural young people in cooperative action to the end that they may increase their accomplishments and through associated efforts be better assist in solving rural problems.

Hands—To afford rural young people technical instruction in farming and homemaking, that they may acquire skill and understanding in these fields and a clearer vision of agriculture as a basic industry, and of home-making as a worthy occupation. To provide rural young people an opportunity to "learn by doing" through conducting certain farm or home enterprises and demonstrating to others what they have learned.

Health—To develop in rural young people habits of healthful living, to provide them with information and direction in the intelligent use of leisure, and to arouse in them worthy ambitions and a desire to continue to learn, that they may live fuller and richer lives.

The Agricultural and Home Economics Agents meet with each 4-H Club once during the month, giving a lesson-demonstration on one of the "H's". Local 4-H Club leaders play a vital role in the progress of 4-H Club work in any county. They meet with club members in their neighborhood and help supervise projects carried by 4-H Club members.

We encourage parents to work closely with their 4-H boys and girls. Help them to put into practice information learned through their club work and project activity. Help them to be citizens that any community will be proud to have.

1959 Peanut Quota Penalty Announced

Penalties Under Quota Program Figured At 7.2 Per Pound

Peanut marketing penalties under the 1959 crop marketing quota program will be figured on a basic penalty rate of 7.2 cents per pound. According to H. D. Godfrey, State Administrative Officer, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation, this rate of penalty reflects 75 per cent of the average support price of $193.50 per ton for the 1959 peanut crop.

Since marketing quotas are in effect for peanuts, Godfrey explained, the marketing of any 1959-crop peanuts grown on a farm where the peanut acreage exceeded the effective farm allotment will be subject to a marketing penalty based on the 7.2 cent basic rate. The penalty rate for each farm, however, will be determined and applied to each pound of peanuts marketed in the same proportion to the basic rate that the farm's excess acreage bears to the total peanut acreage on the farm.

Thus, if a farm has a peanut allotment of 8 acres and the actual farm peanut acreage is 10 acres, the excess acreage would be 20 per cent of the total acreage. The rate of penalty for this particular farm (called the "converted penalty rate") would be 1.4 cents per pound—that is, 20 per cent of the basic penalty rate of 7.2 cents.

Godfrey cautioned peanut buyers that they are responsible for paying the penalty on any excess peanuts purchased. All known peanut buyers in the State have been notified of the basic penalty rate applicable to the 1959 crop of peanuts, so that they may deduct the amount of the penalty from the price paid the producers, as provided by law.

Questions regarding the operation of the peanut marketing quota program should be referred to the local county ASC office.

Record Soybean Crop Is Predicted

Based on condition and probable yield reports from growers, soybean production in North Carolina as of September 1, is forecast at a record 10,971,000 bushels, according to the North Carolina Crop Reporting Service. This estimate is unchanged from the August 1 forecast. The expected production, if realized, would be 7 percent above the 1958 production of 10,212,000 bushels and more than double the 10-year average.

Yield per acre from the current crop is estimated at 23.0 bushels, also unchanged from a month earlier. Favorable weather has prevailed during most of the growing season, and growers have reported the condition of the crop to be above average for the past two months.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The divine source of all true power will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday. Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality" will include this verse from Psalms (62:11): "God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God."

Correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary B. Eddy include (228-25-27): "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God." The Golden Text is from Matthew (7:19): "Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire."

Any exception to the old wholesome rule, "Mind your own business," is rare.
 —Mary Baker Eddy.
