

Edenton Band Will Present Its Winter Concert Friday, March 4

The concert band of the John A. Holmes High School will present its winter concert in the school auditorium Friday night, March 4, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The band has been rehearsing regularly for the concert, so that Director Derwood Bray is of the opinion that the concert will be one of the best ever presented by the band.

The program will be as follows:

The national anthem with the audience participating.

Question: Where does the final rinse with a small amount of foamless, organic acid detergent in water. Before using tank again sanitize by spraying all milk contact surfaces with 200PPM chlorine solution and allow complete drainage before closing valve.

Answer: An estimated 80 per cent of the feed grains purchased by North Carolina firms comes from within the state. The remainder is supplied either by neighboring states or by the Mid-west. By volume and by value corn is the most important of the grains produced in this state. It accounts for 75 per cent of North Carolina's total grain production.

Question: How can I get rid of Bermuda grass in an area I wish to use for a flower bed?

Answer: You can treat the area with methylbromide, or remove all roots by hand, or by treating with a soil sterilant such as Dalapon, Atlaicide, or T.C.A. But if a soil sterilant is used it will be several months before soil will be productive.

Question: What is the best way to clean a bulk milk tank?

Answer: Use a modern bulk tank detergent in a higher than usual concentration.

The concentration, not the volume, makes for greater efficiency. Most farm tanks can be washed with a gallon of hot water and three or four ounces of the proper detergent. Mix ingredients in plastic or rubber pail before it is placed in the bulk tank. Brush-wash the entire tank — covers, bridge, agitator, valves — with the proper bulk tank brushes. Rinses thoroughly.

Home Owners Up Almost 9 Million Over Past Decade

Rising Population and Family Needs Back Of Attainment

An insight into some of the salient characteristics of the housing market in recent years and the increasing extent to which America is becoming a nation of homeowners is provided by the Federal Reserve Board in its recent Survey of Consumer Finances.

The figures show that the number of homeowners has risen from 20 million early in 1949 to nearly 29 million at the beginning of this year, a rise of 44 per cent in the decade. As a result, a decided majority of American families now own their own homes—58 per cent of all nonfarm families this year as compared with 51 per cent 10 years before. The home ownership ratio had never been as high as 50 per cent before World War II.

Role of Thrift Institutions

Behind the attainment of this record are rising population and family needs, a marked expansion in personal incomes, and the persistent upturn in the standard of living. But just as basic was the availability of mortgage funds from the people's thrift institutions, the predominant source of this lending, indicating the dynamic role that personal savings play in advancing the welfare of the people and the progress of the economy.

The survey's figures show that total mortgage debt on nonfarm owner-occupied homes rose $73 billions in the last decade to a total of $106 billions at the beginning of this year. An important role here has been played by the people's savings behind their life insurance policies. Life company mortgage holdings on one-to-four family nonfarm homes more than quadrupled in the 1948-58 decade, showing a net increase of more than $17 billions in the period.

Another significant development of recent years has been a marked trend toward the purchase of more expensive homes, according to the Reserve Board. This was found particularly noticeable in homes priced at $20,000 or more, which accounted for a sixth of all home transactions in the 1956-58 period, double the comparable proportion five years earlier.

Upturn in Prices

Similar trends are found in homes priced between $12,500 and $20,000. In fact, the Reserve Board figures show that half the purchasers of homes last year paid $12,500 or more, as compared with a comparable ratio of a third in 1951 and only

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

"WHEN GOD HEALS, IT'S FOR GOOD!"

Does divine healing really last? One of our friends in Massachusetts has answered that question!

"When God heals," says this devout lady, "He heals for good."

Mrs. Calogero was healed of a goiter, arthritis and a cyst on her eye after being prayed for in Pensacola, Florida, in 1957. "I was operated on for a double goiter in 1953," says Mrs. Calogero. "Three years later, another goiter started to grow. Only another operation could have removed it, according to the physicians."

She relates how the goiter would often tighten up, giving her the feeling of choking.

"I had to sleep with my head on three pillows to get relief. Arthritis afflicted my right arm until I could not raise it above my head. The cyst, on my right eye, often blurred my vision."

The woman tells how all her afflictions disappeared following the prayer of faith for her healing.

"Since my healing in 1957, I have had no trouble or pain a fifth in 1948.

Obvious factors in this development have been the upturn in income levels in recent years and the need for larger homes due to the pronounced increase in multi-children families in the last decade. But another major factor in the cost of the average home today has been the inflationary trend of the last two decades. In the 1948-58 period alone the dollar lost a sixth of its buying power, and this has had a fundamental impact on building costs and property values. The Reserve Board notes, however, that the burden of monthly payments to maintain a home has changed little in the past decade, since growth in income has kept pace with repayment schedules.

Practically every one of these serious anglers holds that it's more fun to catch one bass on a surface lure than at least two on an underwater. Some say they'd rather catch one on a topwater than ten on deep runners.

In the first place, just why is a topwater more sport to use than an underwater? It's partly because you see the strike—and, which isn't so exciting.
