

4-H Girl Shows Off 'Mary'

By MAIDRED MORRIS
"With ample supply of pasture, clean water, feed, and shade, 'Mary' grew to be a desired type of animal," said Kay Lowe in speaking of her "Hampshire" pig.
In 1959, Kay Lowe, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Lowe, Edenton, R. 3, won first place in showmanship of her pig. She won a blue ribbon and trophy.
The main purpose of the livestock program is to teach the 4-H Club members to profitably produce livestock of the desired type and quality by personally caring for the livestock project.
In seven years of 4-H Club work, Kay completed 29 projects. She has served as assistant local 4-H Club leader for two years.

development fund. All of the commercials will feature the national slogan "Learn, Live, and Serve, Through 4-H."
For two days, the 4-H'ers will "take over" the radio station. They will give the news, make special announcements and "spin the records". Special feature stories will also appear in the local newspaper.
As 4-H County Council president, Kay has been active in planning the observance.
In past year, Kay has been a member of the tobacco and dairy judging team. She attended 4-H Club Week as district demonstration winner in entomology. She is now a senior at the John A. Holmes High School in Edenton and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Monument Removal To Be Voters' Decision

order that more visitors would see it," she said, "is not true, according to my way of thinking." She belittled the idea of changing the monument to attract tourists, saying that the Chowan County Daughters of the Confederacy selected the site as the most appropriate and wanted it in front of the Court House, but in 1960 to remove the monument to attract tourist dollars is not understandable to her. "Let's not stoop that low to attract tourists," she said, "but let's get money on a higher level, and not use the sacred monument as a decoy."
Ep Debnam stated that while he could not qualify as a native of Chowan County, he has lived here 27 years. He expressed the belief that moving the monument would bring more attention to more local people as well as visitors. He gave the Woman's Club credit for attracting many tourists to Edenton from in and out of the state.
At this point Ernest Leary took the floor, saying that he gave serious consideration to the project before he made up his

Miss Catherine Aman, assistant home economics agent, says "Kay helps younger 4-H members with project selection, completion of their record books, and has provided transportation for many club members to meetings. She has a genuine love for 4-H work and its development."
Mr. Leary in his remarks said he didn't see Albert Byrum in the audience, but that he was opposing Mr. Byrum as Chowan County's Representative in the General Assembly and that he wanted Mr. Byrum to take a stand on the issue. "Let the people who are in favor of changing the monument vote for Mr. Byrum," he said, "and those opposed to the change and expense vote for me." Mr. Leary made much ado about the cost to the taxpayer, saying he was under the impression that the whole proposed project would cost $100,000 before it was through.
Both Mr. Leary and Mrs. Carr rose to their feet quite frequently during the hearing to reply to remarks made by those who favor the improvements.
Mrs. John Kramer stated that the Woman's Club was not asking for money for the club, but rather that money be appropriated to underwrite the expense. However, The Herald has been informed that the Woman's Club will find the finances if they are given permission to move the monument.

Mrs. W. J. P. Earnhardt, who has done a great deal of work in connection with the project, stated that she understood that B. G. Willis plans to retire in June and that she believes the town should be concerned in buying his property on the waterfront. "The purpose of the Woman's Club is to enhance the attractiveness of the town," she said. "We have done nothing and surely are not planning to do anything detrimental to the town." She stressed that the Woman's Club has, by its tours, drawn over 15,000 tourists to the town and that the club surely is not interested in wrecking the town. She said the club has given $10,000 for various improvements to Edenton and that they are now again striving to do what they can to emphasize history and that the proposed plan would stand out in the future.
Mrs. R. P. Badham read some interesting minutes of the former Garden Club which had to do with improving the appearance of the Green and that she was favorable to the proposed improvements.
The Rev. James MacKenzie said he didn't question the motive of the Woman's Club and referred to a petition circulated at John A. Holmes High School objecting to spending public money for improvements which it was pointed out should be spent for a community center for young people. "The money could be spent more wisely if spent for a progressive Edenton instead of historic purposes," he said. "I wouldn't object if the Woman's Club secured the necessary money and not use public money," said Mr. MacKenzie. "The future of the town rests with our young people and while the Woman's Club has done a great deal of good for the town, money spent in the interest of our young people will be more wisely spent."
Robert Boyce, Jr., who now works in Norfolk, stated that the proposed new site of the Confederate monument is no worse than the Confederate monument in Norfolk.
Walter Bond spoke briefly in opposition to the proposed improvements, while Jimmy Ricks and Mrs. John Graham voiced their approval of the proposition.
Mrs. Joe Thorud was the final speaker, who defended the insinuations aimed at the club and stated that "the Woman's Club members were not here to go on trial".
The Commissioners then went into the transaction of regular business and after dinner went in the county accountant's office on the second floor. A considerable amount of time was spent with Sheriff Earl Goodwin, Tax Supervisor W. P. Jones and County Attorney John Shackelford relative to complicated tax matters.
Little progress was made in reaching a decision regarding moving the monument. Finally Gilliam Wood made a motion giving permission to move the monument to the foot of Broad Street providing Town Council gives permission to place it there and with the understanding that no tax money be used for any part of the project. His motion did not receive a second so it was killed.
Mr. Wood pointed out to the Commissioners that about $7,200 of the anticipated money would have been spent on the Green. He also stated that because the Green is county property, the Commissioners were obligated to improve and preserve it, and that it will mean county money in a sizeable amount will be necessary. "Refusing the request," he said, "is a mistake and loss to the county. It is a severe blow to the Woman's Club in their organized effort to beautify and preserve historical shrines in the town. This action can very easily have a far-reaching effect."

Commissioner J. R. Peele said he was not especially opposed to the improvements, but with the opinion so divided he didn't want to be one to make a decision. Carey Hollowell and Dallas Jethro, Jr., said that while they had received postcards and letters urging a favorable vote on the project, most of the people in their respective sections were opposed and for that reason they were in favor of a vote to decide the issue. Mr. Peele subsequently made a motion to submit the proposal to a vote of the people in the Democratic primary election on May 28. Mr. Hollowell seconded the motion and, of course the three voted for the motion and Mr. Wood voted against it.
The State Board of Elections has been contacted and the Chowan County Board of Elections has been notified that it is legal to hold this election in connection with the primary election.
During the meeting John Shackelford was appointed as County Attorney.

Salutes 4-H Clubs

By MRS. ROLAND EVANS
I, as a 4-H Club Leader, along with all others of county, state and nation, would like to salute the 4-H Club members, Miss Catherine Aman and Harry Venters, on what a good job they are carrying on.
This being National 4-H Club Week, the 4-H'ers of Chowan County presented a program over WCDJ Monday and Tuesday. I kept my radio on all day so I wouldn't miss a trick. It was a thrill to hear who would come on next. I have a love for 4-H'ers as I worked closely with a local club in the county and since I have moved to Edenton, I hope I can be a part in organizing a local 4-H Club.
4-H'ers who are interested in a local 4-H Club out North Edenton way, get in touch with me at 811 Bond Street, phone 3542. 4-H is a family affair. The 4-H'ers in the United States make up the largest rural youth organization in the world. You learn by doing things. Leaders have the knowledge of knowing they are helping boys and girls to become better citizens. The motto—"Make The Best Better".

4-H Electric Congress

By EMMETT JONES, JR.
The thirteenth annual North Carolina 4-H Club Farm and Home Electric Congress was held on October 29-30, 1959. It was held in Asheville, N. C., at the George Vanderbilt Hotel.
We left Edenton at 7 o'clock Thursday, October 29, on a chartered Trailways bus. After an all day ride we arrived in Asheville around 5 o'clock.
After about an hour of getting acquainted with our roommates we had supper at 6:30 P. M.
Later on Thursday night we had a get-acquainted party which lasted until around 10 or 11 o'clock.
Breakfast was at 7:30 A. M., followed by a 4-H Club members' forum that lasted until 10:45 when we had demonstrations and reports.
At the noon luncheon we had an address by Dr. Alfred P. Haake who received the only standing ovation of the Congress. The rest of the afternoon was spent touring the Biltmore Estate, which proved to be very interesting to everyone.
At 6:30 P. M., the banquet, which was the highlights of the Congress, was held. During the banquet, territorial and state awards were given out. At 9:00 P. M., the last recreation program and last called get-together was held.
The next morning we had breakfast and boarded the bus for the homeward journey. We arrived in Edenton at 7 P. M., tired and happy, but had had an enjoyable trip.

ALL'S WELL THAT END WELL—Hostess Sharon Lorentzen is helped from a Martin 404 passenger plane in Olathe Naval Air Station, Kansas. She, two other crew members and six passengers were safe after their plane made a belly-landing on a snowy runway. The craft lost its port wheels on Chicago take-off.
