

AROUND THE FARMS IN CHOWAN COUNTY

By C. W. OVERMAN, Chowan County Agent.

Cotton Promotion in Chowan County appears to be finding favor among producers and dealers of farm supplies in Chowan County. An effort is being made to encourage our cotton growers to make the most of our cotton allotment and to keep the cotton allotment on the farm.

Approximately 40 cotton growers recently met with farm supply dealer representatives and others interested in cotton. County Agent C. W. Overman and Extension Specialist George Jones discussed the important steps necessary to producing high cotton yields and good quality cotton. Movie films on producing cotton for mechanical harvesting and mechanical harvesters at work were shown.

A concerted effort is being made to get cotton growers to grow their allotments this year or release their allotment so that other growers may use it this year. Again, we want to urge every grower who has a cotton allotment to pay attention to this if he is interested in keeping his cotton allotment on the farm.

Improving Peanut Yields is one of the two main projects being promoted by the Agricultural Committee of the Edenton Chamber of Commerce. Peanut growers should give careful consideration to the necessary steps outlined in the Chamber's leaflet.

A brief resume of these steps is as follows: Have peanut soils tested and follow the soil test recommendations for fertilization. Plant a good variety with good germination. Treat

Frankly Speaking

By Frank Roberts

The publicity men advertise the movie "On the Beach" as the picture to see, even if you never see another motion picture. For a change, that is not an exaggerated claim. Now "On the Beach" is not entertainment, it was meant to be. However, it is a warning of the total destruction that could beset the world if we keep going at our present pace. The time is 1964 and the place is Australia. The rest of the world has been wiped out, mostly due to radioactivity and the Aussies know that their time is near. Take this plot, watch how people react when they know they're going to die. Try to imagine how you would react in a similar situation. Watch as people line up for pills with which to kill themselves and their children to save from dying the more painful way by radiation. See this movie, get good and scared, become slightly depressed. That's the normal reaction from this theatre-going experience. Fortunately, too, it's something that will stay in your mind and memory for a good long while. With all of that going on, some-portion of his life in a left-tinted organization. Mark it down to being mis-guided, or to poor judgment. But, as mentioned before the big issue is maintaining the peace and as pointed out in the movie doing it without using weapons that could mean total annihilation. Let's all get together and talk about and do what we can about that, the most vital issue the world has ever faced. I hope you were able to see "On the Beach." It'll probably be playing again, so see it next time around.

Closing thought: The sole equality on earth is death.

and Dives, in Luke 16:19-31. Jesus points to the importance of compassion. Humility, compassion, concern and loyalty to God's way of looking at people determine our characters, and, ultimately, our destinies. The rich man's pride had no power to sustain even himself; the poor man's humility before God and man sustained and empowered his life.

Nations can live like these two men, also. Self-contentment and arrogance can bring the judgment of God upon a nation. Likewise, humility before God's view of mankind and assertion of his will can bring his approval. Herein lies a nation's true strength!
