KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Earl W. Trinkle, representative of the Social Security Administration, is in Edenton every Thursday at the North Carolina Employment Security Commission office in the Citizens Bank Building.

Many housewives in this area are not reporting household help for social security purposes.

As little as $4.00 per week in cash earnings totals more than $50 a quarter and should be reported to the Director of Internal Revenue.

Reporting is easier than many housewives think. Upon request, Internal Revenue Service mails a report form each calendar quarter as a reminder. The report has the form of an envelope. The housewife enters the worker's name, social security number and total cash earnings. She puts a check or money order in the pocket to cover the social security tax and mails the sealed envelope to the address already printed on it.

The tax rate for 1959 was 2½% for employees and 2½% for employers. This rate was increased to 3% each on January 1, 1960.

No detailed bookkeeping is required. The fact that a household worker is also reported by another employer makes no difference in reporting responsibility.

Proper reporting establishes social security credit for retirement, survivors and disability insurance benefits for the household worker and her dependents. Failure to report these earnings often deprives an older person or young children of needed payments from social security.

Frankly Speaking

By Frank Roberts

They say to see the world, but see America first. I'll amend that even more. See North Carolina first. That's where we vacationed and it's the prettiest state. It's certainly a diverse state, flat and pretty in this section; mountainous and colorful in the west. It's a trip I'll highly recommend to anyone who enjoys true beauty. We visited the western area of the Tar Heel state the first week of May. At that time many of the tourist attractions are closed (though by no means all) but the big advantage is the lack of traffic. Especially helpful when you want to park alongside the road and take some pictures, and there are so many attractions that make picture-taking fun. In addition to the larger-sized cities of Raleigh, Asheville and Winston-Salem, there are such fascinating sights as the beautiful Fontana Dam, the big TVA project; there's the fabulous Blue Ridge Parkway including the exciting climb up Mount Mitchell, the highest this side of the Rockies. Then, of course, there are such interesting places as Cherokee, with its Indian museums, it's interesting citizens. You'll find, too, that motels and restaurants in the Tar Heel State are among the finest anywhere. And you'll find plenty to buy, as we did, in the way of souvenirs and gifts, which, by the way, are relatively inexpensive, compared to similar layouts in many other states. Anyway, I did miss Edenton, but I did want a chance to see the rest of my adopted state and the trip made me prouder than ever to be a Tar Heelian. The history of the state, the beauty, the wonderful people, the excellent roads, the fine southern cooking, the comfortable accomodations, are just a few of the ingredients that make North Carolina a vacationer's paradise. Personal suggestion? Well, if you've never done it, take the family for a trip throughout this beautiful state; it's an unforgettable, thrilling and happy experience.

Closing thought: The use of money is all the advantage there is in having it.
