A LIFT FOR TODAY

★ Because I live, ye shall live also. —John 14:19.
CHRIST'S GLORIOUS promise means new life through Him now, and a wonderful life with Him throughout Eternity.
Almighty God, raise us from the death of sin unto a life of righteousness that we may be found acceptable in Thy sight.

Duty To Vote

Once again, next Saturday, May 28, citizens will have the opportunity to cast their ballots for public officials. Workers in this area, and the same may be said about the state as a whole, are and have been for some time working feverishly in the interest of some particular candidate. With the apparent interest in the election and large following of various candidates, the election should result in a large vote.

Too often, however, a voter takes the attitude of "What Can I Do? How I feel does not make any difference and my vote will not have any effect on the result." How wrong is this attitude. Too often only a comparatively few take the time to vote, thus exposing us more or less not to the rule by majority, but to rule by minority.

Each and every one of us has not only an opportunity but rather a duty to cast a vote for public officials. Each citizen has a weapon which can be used to elect or defeat a candidate to serve the public—a vote. This privilege should be used more generally in electing to office the persons deemed best qualified to serve. All too often some people gripe and many of this number do not care enough to go to the trouble to wend their way to the polling places in order to cast a ballot. Every voter should be willing to be bothered to take the time to mark a ballot whenever the opportunity comes around.

It is hoped Chowan County voters will turn out en masse next Saturday to take part in electing public officials. Polls will be open from 6:30 A. M., to 6:30 P. M., so that there should be very little excuse on the part of any voter that he or she did not have the time to cast a ballot in the selection of those who are to serve the people as a whole.

Buy A Poppy

Next Saturday, May 28, will be Poppy Day, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Those who wear a poppy on that day will honor the more than half million Americans who died and the nearly one million wounded during the past three wars.

The poppy became the memorial flower of the American Legion about 40 years ago. It is a replica of the wild European poppy which bloomed amidst the devastation of World War I battlegrounds, appearing along the trenches and in the cemeteries and is well remembered by soldiers who returned from Europe in 1918.

Proceeds from the sale of poppies will go to disabled veterans or their families, so that those who buy and wear a poppy will not only be helping veterans, but at the same time will be paying tribute to those who fought, many of whom paid the supreme sacrifice, for perpetuating the American way of life.

Where Crime Doesn't Pay

Banditry can be controlled—by aggressive, determined cooperation between the law enforcement authorities and interested enterprises.

If you doubt that, a remarkable record that has been set in Philadelphia may change your view.

Eleven years ago a team of bandits made a career of holding up the managers of a chain system, American Stores. They pulled 17 jobs in a row. In the last, a police officer was shot and killed.

That shot marked the beginning of a non-stop counter-offensive by the store organization and local law enforcement bodies, notably the Philadelphia Police Department. Since the offensive started, there have been 94 holdups—and every participant, save for two murder defendants yet to be tried, has been sentenced to prison! There hasn't been a single acquittal. The prison terms meted out amounted to a total minimum of 361 years and three months and to a total maximum of 996 years and 11 months.

As a result of that record, there have been no holdups in the past two years. The crooks have learned that, in this case, crime doesn't pay. And what has been accomplished in Philadelphia can be duplicated everywhere through the same kind of cooperation.

Heard & Seen By Buff

Edenton came pretty close to losing two very valuable men, so that it is encouraging to learn that Coach Bill Billings and Derwood Bray are scheduled to remain in Edenton where their wholesome influence has had and will continue to play a very important part with our young people. Goldsboro school officials tried their darndest to secure Billings to coach the AAAA conference football team. The coach at one stage of negotiations had about decided to leave Edenton and go to Goldsboro, but following several conferences he finally decided to remain. That his respect and influence is appreciated by high school boys in particular is reflected in what John Mitchener, a student at the University of North Carolina, had to say in a letter to his parents. Said John: "I reckon we've all known all along that sooner or later some larger school would seek Mr. Billings' services. I do hope he will remain in Edenton because he has meant a lot to all of us boys who have played with and for him. Among other things, he made athletics a lesson in life and for this I am grateful. Thus it is because he has meant so much to me that I hope he'll stay so that other boys may share this privilege."

Then one of the boys at school, when informed that the coach planned to leave Edenton said, "Coach, if it would do any good, I'd get down on my knees and beg you to stay." Another instance of how much the boys think of Coach Billings happened when Robert White was injured in an automobile wreck a few weeks ago. When taken to the hospital the first person the boy asked to see was Coach Billings. And so it goes. Young people have been made better by their association with Mr. Billings, so that by and large all of 'em, as well as Edenton citizens as a whole are glad that the coach will be around this neck of the woods for at least another football season. Along a different avenue, though just as important, is Derwood Bray's influence with young people who play in the band. Derwood tendered his resignation, but late withdrew it, so that he'll also be around a while. Most of the youngsters who have come under the influence of Mr. Bray were very downcast when they learned he intended to leave and a lot of 'em, as well as parents had something to do with his decision to withdraw his resignation. Derwood, too, had a very wholesome influence among young people which will stand them in good stead in the years that lie ahead. Here's one who is glad that both these fellows will remain in Edenton, for with them here we're assured of a good band, a good football team and a wholesome influence among our young people.

Friends of various candidates are working hard for their favorites and quite a few predictions have been made that this or that candidate will be the winner. However, a very important part of an election is the counting of votes, so we're waiting until this is done before we say who the winners are.

State Highway Patrolmen are cracking down on automobile drivers who have no driver's licenses or licenses have expired. Frequent checks are being made, so that any automobile driver who wants to keep from a peck of trouble better see to it that his driving license is in proper shape.

Some people have been bothered with mosquitoes so far this summer. "One thing about it," one fellow told me, "is that they are so big this year that a fellow can feel 'em when they land."

One report has it that the Harvey Point base is out, then another report comes out that it will be utilized for some government purpose. With the situation as it is with Russia and Cuba, it seems that Uncle Sam should keep his mitts on it, for it is altogether possible that it might be necessary to use the base for some purpose which might not be so pleasant.

Mrs. E. H. Arnett, a Herald subscriber who lives in Shelbyville, Indiana, recently missed her paper and had this to say: "I didn't get the May 5th issue and do hope it'll show up. I do miss the paper when it does not arrive because I get most of my news from it. I like to read it as soon as it comes in to find out the news. Since kinfolk don't write much any more, I even learn something about them at times. Please keep The Herald coming." And it will, for Mrs. Arnett enclosed a check for a year's renewal.

The Herald has been having some extra pages lately due primarily to political advertising. However, Saturday will be the day of decision when voters will say who is and who is not elected. It's been a hard grind, so if I have enough strength left I'll be going to the polls to cast my ballot. Don't forget to vote. Vote for whom you please, but please vote.

Edenton Native Manager of The Arlington at Nags Head

Mrs. Sara Everett, left, daughter of Mrs. R. W. Burdette of Edenton, is shown at Nags Head recently on the eve of her resignation from the Carolina Hotel staff to become manager of Col. and Mrs. Alan Feldmiers' Arlington Hotel which they purchased recently from the Dewey Haymans. As the picture was made Mrs. Everett was being honored by Carolinian managers, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Oneto at a breakfast party which featured a cake with 12 candles, one for each year that Mrs. Everett had been associated with the hotel. As manager of the Arlington, she will be associated with the Feldmiers, who are former residents of Edenton, where Col. Feldmiers was stationed at the Marine Air Base. The Arlington under its new ownership and management will open for the 1960 season on May 27.—(Jordan Photo).

Mrs. Feldmiers has traveled extensively. Last summer she visited San Juan in Puerto Rico. She plans to emphasize the children and teenage activities at The Arlington's "Play House."

Mrs. Everett's contract as resident manager of The Arlington began on May 24. In the meantime the hotel's staff is in the process of completion. The Ar-

Frankly Speaking

By Frank A. J. Davis

By this time the spy plane goof is history and Congress is investigating or planning to investigate. One thing is certain, Khrushchev was under orders from his Kremlin bosses to sabotage the whole thing. Timing was perfect through courtesy of our government. A number of events contributed, possibly, as reasons for Khrushchev's unholy harangue against our country. There was the world-wide alert of all U. S. Air Forces. A totally unnecessary test, coming just before the summit meeting. Then there was Eisenhower's pre-summit statement, saying that if the summit meeting did run overtime, he'd have to go home and send Nixon. Playing politics and treating this most important meeting like a social gathering. Then the Eisenhower statements that contradicted each other, prior to the meeting itself. First, he said he would keep sending spy plane flights over Russia after which, of course, he changed his mind. Also the apology to Castro for the spying incident there (unofficial then the refusal (right or wrong, this isn't a judgment) to apologize to Russia for a similar incident. All in all, the government of the greatest country in the world seems to be running not quite as well as a small business organization. At this point, we can only hope and pray for a return to mature leadership. Roughly on this subject a Senate subcommittee is investigating the subject of the federal agencies that seem so eager to withhold important information to the public. This might result in the dispensing of vital information to the public on the subject of flying saucers.

This election year is turning out to be a hot one, statewide and locally. Much discussion, like it or not, on the religious issue with one item seemingly overlooked. Two states that voted overwhelmingly for Kennedy had large Catholic votes. Also many Catholics are voting for Kennedy merely because he is a Catholic, a switch on the current issue.

Lookalikes: Congressman Bonner and Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Clyde Adams and Vincent Lopez, White Bunch and the late actor Paul Douglas.

Closing thought: I think that I shall never scan A tree as lovely as a man. But God himself lives in a man.
