A LIFT FOR TODAY

★ It is time to seek the Lord. —Hosea 10:12. THROUGH PENITENCE and prayer and by study to know the mind of Christ, through obedience to God's commandment, we shall find the Lord, God of Hosts.

Our Father, may America seek Thee in Truth, that she may walk with confidence, leading the other nations to Thee.

Almost In The Bag

It is encouraging to note that Edenton and Chowan County is practically assured that a promotional film will be produced. The cost of making this film will be $3,500 and impetus was given to the drive to raise this amount Tuesday when the board of directors of the Edenton Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously to appropriate $1,000 for the purpose. To date about $2,500 has been either paid or pledged and on the strength of the interest in the project, Grayson Harding has placed an order to have the film made.

The film will be along the lines of one shown recently in Edenton of Jamestown and that vicinity, and is estimated to be viewed by between 30 and 40 million people through channels of television stations the first year after it is produced.

The film will be a highly professional job which can be used to promote pilgrimages, conventions and the ever important attention of year-around tourists, which in turn will lead to more business for everybody, and the quickest known way to attract industry. Local people point out that Edenton is situated between Williamsburg and New Bern, featuring Tryon's Palace, and both places are daily attracting hundreds of tourists, while at present Edenton is being by-passed. This film will let many people know what we have here that is so worthwhile seeing, and its value as an advertising medium will be difficult to estimate.

The goal of $3,500 has not yet been reached, but a drive is now in progress, sponsored by the Edenton Tea Party Chapter of the DAR and the James Iredell Association.

Anybody who might not be contacted and who desires to make a contribution to this very important project is requested to send a check to Mrs. Ralph Parrish, treasurer of the James Iredell Association or Grayson Harding at Hotel Joseph Hewes.

It is felt that Edenton and Chowan County have a treasure of scenes to produce an interesting film which should attract many people to the area. It is hoped that the sponsoring groups will have no difficulty in raising the remainder of the amount necessary to pay for the production of the film.

19 Volunteers Needed

Attention is called to a serious situation in Chowan County which can very easily result in the loss of the Red Cross blood program.

Tom Ridgeway, Chairman of the Chowan County blood program, has been informed that if Chowan County does not donate 19 more pints of blood the program will be discontinued.

Mr. Ridgeway points out that the Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Plymouth Thursday, June 9, at which time Chowan County citizens can attend and the county given credit for the blood donated.

Due to the seriousness of the situation, Mr. Ridgeway is appealing for at least 19 people in Chowan County to volunteer to go to Plymouth to donate a pint of blood each so that the local program will be continued. He points out the importance of having blood available for emergencies and the hardship which will result if the program is dropped.

Anybody who will volunteer is requested to contact Mr. Ridgeway at Chowan Hospital immediately or at his home, the phone number being 3242.

Free transportation will be furnished and if and when enough volunteers respond to the appeal, a time to leave Edenton will be determined.

Chowan County can ill afford to lose the blood bank, so that it is hoped at least 19 people will volunteer in an effort to save the program.

Back To Normal

With a heated election now over, Edenton has about returned to normal and the voters have made their choice of Democratic candidates for the general election in November.

Without doubt, all candidates for all offices would have made upright, capable and

The 1960 graduating class at John A. Helmes High School composed a group of very nice boys and girls, but I just can't figure out some of the girls. Some among them wore low neck dresses and bare backs and at the same time wore gloves almost up to their elbows. Can't understand why apparently some parts of 'em were hot and some parts cold.

Well, there was a mass "funeral" held sometime Saturday night, when a group of Herbert Bonner supporters were "buried" by Walter Jones' supporters at the foot of Broad Street. The funeral must have been arranged before the final outcome was known, for it would have been more appropriate to bury the Jones boys. However, Walter Jones did carry Chowan County, so probably that was the incentive for a "funeral". A rather significant angle to the "funeral" is that it was held at the foot of Broad Street most likely because it would be seen by more people. Signs for Herbert Bonner and Walter Jones were also displayed at the foot of Broad Street obviously for the same reason. All of which should be a good argument that the Confederate monument would be seen by more people at the foot of Broad Street than on the Court House Green. Anyway the corpses who were buried might have very aptly placed the following epitaph at the graves: "What profiteth a man if he wins the cart but loses his own horse?" Anyway, here's one who congratulates Walter Jones for making such a creditable run against a man who has been in office for so long.

Saturday night's "burial" was taken very good naturedly by those who were "buried", but even one of Walter Jones' ardent supporters had this to say after he saw the "cemetery":

BURY ME DEEP

My name is Aftermath, my sire is confusion, my dam is revenge. One could almost say my existence is of illegitimacy as the purpose of my life leads inevitably to nothing; begets nothing.

My consummation and concealment was accomplished in this instance by an election of public officials and thusly I must assume some type of shape, form, action, or deed. The picture on the front page of The Herald conveys one of my intentions, and the talk of others involved commemorate my existence.

"What a lean and hungry look thou hast, dear Cassius." So be it with me. Spite, animosity, littleness, conceit, boldness, hatred, confusion, revenge—all of these and many others are my legs, arms, senses, nerves, muscles, veins. The victors and the losers will make me their slave, but not for long. They will soon cast me aside because the godliness of humanity will make them forget and forgive. Society will become society, this is the axiom we all live by and so I, Aftermath, am consigned to die just as I was born.

"When I will die find you none who weep
My last request fulfill, Bury me Deep."

Do you live in a bug house? If so, the Jaycees will be at your rescue Friday night, June 3, when they conduct their annual insecticide sale.

Two ladies dropped in the office this week to bid me goodbye and to say the least both of 'em had a deep feeling of regret to leave Edenton. One was Mrs. Eugenia Babylon, who left for Whiteman Air Force Base in Missouri. The other was Mrs. Jack Mooney. The Mooney family has moved to Raleigh and almost in tears Mrs. Mooney related how much she regrets to leave the old town. Both will be greatly missed, for Mrs. Babylon was the spearhead of the Pettigrew Regional Library and Mrs. Mooney has taught piano lessons for a long time, so that severing her connections with these youngsters caused a tugging at her heart which was not easy to overcome. Then, too, the talented Mooney family will also be missed, for they were often called upon to participate in one program or another. Here's hoping both Mrs. Babylon and the Mooney family will soon become acclimated to their new homes, but that they will not forget Edenton.

Saturday was the last day the Western Union Telegraph operated the office in the Hotel Joseph Hewes building. The office has been moved to the bus station with J. A. Wheeler in charge. The phone number is 2181 and Mr. Wheeler's office hours will be 8:30 A. M. to 7 P. M., except Sundays when they will be 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. Mrs. John worthy officials, but all could not be elected. The voters have spoken, so that those elected should have the respect, cooperation and support of the electorate.

In the heat of an election candidates, as well as their supporters, should respect the opinion of others, so that now after the smoke has cleared there should be no reason for any animosity to exist between the victors and the vanquished.

Wheeler, who for many years has been manager of the Edenton office, has retired.

Edenton Masons quite frequently put on a feed and the stewards shoulder the job of washing dishes and cleaning up the kitchen. It's an ill wind that blows no good and this is the case with Peck Lassiter. Peck is one who helps wash the dishes and he says that's one time he gets clean hands. However, he's not especially anxious for his wife to know that he washes dishes.

While a good vote was registered in Saturday's primary election, there were a number of citizens who went to the polls but could not vote because they were not registered on the county registration book. I have often pointed out that there are two registration books, one for Edenton elections and one for the county. A voter must be registered in both books if he expects to vote in a town and county election. There's a second primary election coming up for Governor, so that all who want to cast a ballot should check to see if their names are on the county registration book, and if not, see that it's put on.

Just as The Herald was ready to go to press, I was informed that the Chamber of Commerce made a $1,000 contribution toward the expense of producing a promotional film on Edenton and Chowan County. About $2,500 has been paid or pledged toward the $3,500, so that Grayson Harding reports that he has placed an order for the film to be made. It is the opinion of Mr. Harding that the film is so valuable to advertising Edenton that the remainder of the money needed will be raised. The film will be a wonderful advertising medium and should give a shot in the arm to Edenton's economic framework.
