NEWLYWEDS HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donald Stallings, whose wedding took place June 10, were honored on Tuesday evening at a floating miscellaneous shower given by Mesdames Merschall Stallings, Winice White and Sam Roebuck at the home of Mrs. Herschall Stallings.

Upon arrival of the guests, which were many, they viewed the gifts, which were numerous, then they were invited to the dinette for delicious punch, cake, ice cream, mints and nuts. The serving table, covered with white linen cloth, was centered with a three-tier wedding cake and crystal candelabra, holding red and white candles. Red and white gladiolus were used throughout the house to create a festive air for the occasion. The bride was presented a corsage of red and white gladiolus upon her arrival.

Ann Parks and Reba White presided at the punch bowl and were assisted in serving by Mrs. Maude Lane and Mrs. Beulah Stallings. After an enjoyable evening the guests departed with goodbyes spoken by Mesdames Winice White, Herschall Stallings and Sam Roebuck.

WILL BE COOLER

Another county office, the county health office in the Peoples Bank & Trust Company building, is now scheduled to be air-conditioned.

The County Commissioners authorized Mrs. Evelyn Williams, county accountant, to secure bids for a unit and to award the contract to the lowest bidder.

Married In Burgess Church

MRS. WILBUR RAY BASS

Burgess Baptist Church was the scene of a wedding characterized by simplicity and charm when Miss Emily Anne Lane became the bride of Wilbur Ray Bass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Walton Lane of Hertford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carey A. Bass of Edenton.

The Rev. A. J. McClelland, pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony in a setting of white gladiolus, mums, chrysanthemums, palms and ferns, lighted by cathedral candles.

Mrs. Rufus Marion Riddick of Hertford presented the nuptial music, using the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Johnnie Phillips, soloist, who sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer" as a benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a traditional wedding gown of beau de soie taffeta and chantilly lace. The empire bodice, designed with a sabrina neckline fastened down the back with self-covered buttons and re-embroidered with seed pearls. The long sleeves ended in wedding points over the hands. The voluminous skirt swept gracefully into a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a cascade pearl scalloped crown, with sequins and pearl highlights. She carried a white Bible topped with a purple-throated orchid and showered with stephanotis tied with love knots.

Mrs. James Jordan, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of blue, soie nylon organza over taffeta, fashioned with a very bouffant skirt. A sash of matching taffeta formed a cummerbund in front of the dress and tied in the back, reaching
