A LIFT FOR TODAY

He is our peace. — Ephesians 2:14.
OBEDIENCE to the will of God is the only science that can give peace to the nation and the individual.
We pray, O God, that we may have in our hearts Thy peace that passeth all understanding.

Progress With Pity

With the purchase of Hotel Joseph Hewes by the County Commissioners, which means the disappearance of a hotel in Edenton, Haughton Ehringhaus, present manager of the hotel, had the following to say. His thoughts more or less coincide with The Herald's editor and are therefore, presented as follows:

"For every birth there is a death. Edenton is on the verge of such a rebirth of spirit and economy. With the production of two films to be shown throughout the nation, a wealth of tourist traffic is inevitable. Accompanying this the announcement of the sale of bonds for the Chesapeake Bridge and Tunnel project will add its impact and impetus to such a rebirth by virtue of a tremendous flow of traffic directed through our community.

"The death that accompanies such rebirth will be felt by the sale of the Joseph Hewes Hotel to the county. It seems almost ironic that good fortune brings ill fortune. Since the early 1700's there has been a hostelry on the present site of the Joseph Hewes Hotel. It is well that the county can take advantage of a splendid opportunity financially, but it remains tragic that private sources could not have obtained ownership for a figure slightly over $30,000. There were, however, attempts to raise such money through local efforts to make the Joseph Hewes a place of retirement by conversion of some of its rooms into apartments. Plans also called for retaining some of its rooms for commercial travelers and tourist trade. Local efforts have faded and failed, and it seems a shame and pity that a community appears to be working against itself, but so it is.

"Our motels have but few rooms to offer the influx of traffic and they will enjoy capacity houses every night, but even the motel owners will be saddened by the closing of the hotel, and in spite of their prospective business they feel the significance of the loss of an accommodation that has been the center of tourist information for these many years.

"Progress with pity Edenton will now experience. The name of Joseph Hewes dies again."

Doing The Right Thing

It is encouraging to note that members of the Edenton Tea Party Chapter of the DAR and James Iredell Association have taken the initiative to have a longer film made of Edenton and countryside for promotional purposes.

The first plan was to make a 13½-minute film, but after so many shots were taken it was a foregone conclusion that the advantages of Edenton and surrounding area could not be packed into a film of that length. In fact there is a wealth of material to make a second film and even then some important places of local activity will of necessity have to be left out.

Those in charge of making the film, as well as local ladies who have been assisting, are very much enthused over the shots taken and those making the film express the opinion that the Edenton story will be one, if not the best, film they ever made.

To make the additional film, the ladies now need about $2,000. So sure are they that the longer film will meet the approval of Edenton people in general that they are very optimistic that this amount will be realized without much trouble. Anybody, therefore who is willing to contribute toward a film of which Edenton may well be proud and which will most assuredly benefit the community economically in years ahead, is requested to notify Mrs. John A. Kramer.

What is worth doing is worth doing well, so that the ladies who have backed the film can be commended upon their foresight in having a film made which will far more adequately present the Edenton story than the 13½-minute film first planned.

We have long since learned to let some people talk without interruption. The conversation ends so much sooner.

Heard & Seen By Buff

As hot as it was Sunday (and it's still hot, if you ask me) I thought the Methodist Church had gone ultra modern and had installed a swimming pool. There was a large vacant space back of the pulpit, but it so happens that the old pipe organ was removed to make room for a new one, so there'll be no swimming pool. Those in charge of the music will be very happy when the new organ is ready for use and they're hoping more people will turn out for church services to hear it.

An honest-to-goodness good dinner was served at the 125th anniversary of the Rocky Hock Baptist Church Sunday. Mayor John Mitchener was among those present and I asked what was served. "Well," said John, "I could tell you better what they did not have to eat. About all that I can think of that was not on the tables were shrimp, crab meat and fish." Anyway, a large crowd turned out for the occasion, which was a great success from every angle.

Here's one who would have been on hand for the Rocky Hock dinner, but due to a previous promise I attended a surprise birthday dinner for William K. Davis, foreman of the Street Department. There, too, a dinner was prepared by Mrs. Davis that just a sample from every dish would have appeased the most ravenous appetite. Among the food was country ham which was just about the best I ever ate. At any rate, Bill said he sort of suspected something was in the wind a day or two before Sunday but "I didn't think it would be this bad."

An Edenton quartet last week sailed from Edenton to Nags Head, and report a very good time. In the group were the Rev. Fred Drane, the Rev. George Holmes, David Warren and John Shackelford. It was a sailing trip, but the way I get it, there was not enough wind stirring, so the motor was brought into action.

E. L. Owens has retired after working 52 years at the Edenton Cotton Mills. Fifty-two years is a long time to work at one place and here's hoping Mr. Owens will enjoy his retirement. However, to work for such a long time, what in the dickens can a fellow do to pass away the time?

Calling on William Fuller the other night, it was good to see him looking so well. However, Mr. Fuller recently underwent a major operation and is far from being up to his normal strength. He's very appreciative for the hospitality of Edenton friends and here's one who hopes he'll soon be able to be about and resume his friendly visits to The Herald office.

Minton Small, a star of the Edenton Aces, will play in the East-West high school football game in Greensboro Friday night. Minton will be placed in a guard position and if the East wins or loses, it's a sure bet that the western team will know that Minton was in the line. Minton has made a splendid record and here's hoping he will keep up the good work when he enters college.

On the front page is pictured little Ronnie Nixon, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Earl Nixon of the Rocky Hock section. The youngster can lay claim to being Chowan County's youngest farmer and if his first venture is any indication, he should develop into a first class farmer. The boy, unknown to his parents, cleaned a small patch of woods near his home and planted some watermelon seeds. He did all the work and last week plucked a 30-pound watermelon from his patch. G. E. Nixon, a neighbor, was so impressed with the boy's initiative that he forked up $5.00 for the watermelon. Mr. Nixon has raised watermelons all his life and sells 'em instead of buying 'em, but he has no doubt paid the highest price for a watermelon in Chowan County this year. Nope, he's not buying any more at that price. Incidentally, watermelons are now so plentiful that some farmers have a hard time to even give 'em away.

De Witt C. Cooper, a Herald subscriber who lives in Richmond, Indiana, sent a letter the other day which included a check for his renewal. Said Mr. Cooper: "I wrote you weeks back asking when my subscription expires. I have not heard from you and you undoubtedly are the world's worst letter answerer. If you are not a grandpa, I apologize, although heavens knows you are old enough to be. My daughter came through July 4 with another boy. I was quite grieved to learn of the death of John Fletcher, as I liked him very much. He was one of the most gracious hosts I have ever known. I hope you never catch another fish until you answer this letter." Incidentally in the letter was a 4-cent stamp, beside which, written in red ink, was: "Note—This is a U. S. postage stamp. Use it!"

Flowers were placed in the sanctuary by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tynch in honor of their 57th wedding anniversary, and children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Joel White and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ward.

To say that the celebration was an enjoyable affair is putting it mildly and Mr. Allred extended his thanks and appreciation to everyone who had a part in making the celebration and homecoming such a wonderful success.

Promotional Film Doubled In Length

tion before the narration is added to the film. A committee, well-informed in the history of the area, has been named to okay the script.

It is felt that enough enthusiasm has been aroused over the film that individuals who are interested in their town's well-being, and businesses who did not contribute earlier, will be most generous in contributing to this worthy project.

Mr. McGowan and his group were in town ten days shooting scenes for the Edenton movie, which will be titled, "Edenton, N. C., Ye Towne on Queen Anne's Creek."

One of the ladies who saw the film of the first two days shooting here said, "if everyone in town could have seen those gorgeous homes, with the green of the grass and trees, and the rosy and pink of the crepe myrtles adding to their beauty, and particularly that scene on the lawn of the Penelope Barker house where about 15 Woman's Club girls were dressed in colonial costumes, and such lovely ones, too, they would be as enthused as we are over this thing!"
