

Home Demonstration Women Plan Tour Of UN Headquarters

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will speak to the delegation of Home Demonstration Club women when they go on their annual education study tour of the United Nations Headquarters October 17-22.

Each year, the local club groups make plans to send a representative from the county. The Home Demonstration women have been visiting the United Nations for six years with nearly 600 women serving as delegates. After the delegates return to their counties, they visit the local clubs to give a report on their trip.

Mrs. Samuel Levering and Mrs. W. Hugh Holcomb, both from Surry County, will travel on the buses to brief the delegates on current issues being discussed at United Nations now. Miss Current has urged the delegates to study ahead of time so they will be informed on current events taking place.

The United Nations Chorus will present a musical program for the delegates on Tuesday. There will be special briefings for the delegation during the week—two will be on Africa and China.

One morning will be spent in the Frick Art Gallery. It is the former home of Henry C. Frick who bequeathed his works of art "for the use and benefit of all persons whomsoever." The gallery contains an outstanding collection of paintings and other art objects as well as an excellent art reference library.

This year the delegates will visit the Franklin Roosevelt home at Hyde Park. They will also stop at West Point Military Academy Chapel.
