A LIFT FOR TODAY

Whoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.—Matthew 5:41.
OUR SAVIOUR INVITED us weary and heavy-laden, to come to him for rest, he was not then thinking of the easy burden of a light load, but of a burden made easy through new-found strength from him.
Merciful Father, grant us Thy grace that our lives may be expended by Thee and for others.

Important To Parents

An important meeting is scheduled to be held at the Scout Cabin Monday night, October 10, at 7:30 o'clock. At that time the annual Boy Scout roundup meeting will be held, upon which a great deal will depend the program of Scouting in Edenton.

Especially important it is that parents of Boy Scout age attend this meeting, for while some boys easily acclimate themselves to the Scouting program, there are others who need the encouragement and prodding on the part of parents in order to become vitally interested in this great youth organization.

Scouting in Edenton has had its ups and downs. At times the interest and activity of the boys has been at a high pitch and then at other times interest has lagged so that few boys had much of a desire to carry on.

Scoutmasters contribute of their time and efforts to develop an active and worthwhile Boy Scout troop, but all of the time and effort goes for practically naught if not enough boys are members and become interested in Scout activities.

Boys between the ages of 11 and 14 are eligible to become Scouts and this is the age when Scout training can become an important factor in the future life of a boy. His inclinations can be directed to worthwhile activities and principles which will stand him in good stead in later years as he grows into manhood. Many of the lessons learned by Scouting never leave a boy and to be sure they have the effect preventing a boy from going astray.

With this in mind, parents of boys of Scout age are especially urged to attend Monday night's meeting in order to get Scouting off to a good start. Jasper Hassell is present Scoutmaster and no little encouragement is engendered in Scouting with the announcement that Jack Habit, one of Edenton's most active and successful Scoutmasters, will act as assistant Scoutmaster.

The Edenton Boy Scout troop has been sponsored by the Edenton Rotary Club for 25 years and Rotarians, too, are hopeful that all boys of Boy Scout age, as well as their parents, will attend the roundup meeting Monday night.

Fire Prevention Week

Though efforts should be directed to the prevention of fire every day in the year, the week of October 9-15 has been proclaimed as Fire Prevention Week throughout the nation.

In Edenton the week will be celebrated by a parade which will be held Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. In the parade will be the John A. Holmes High School and, Edenton's fire fighting equipment and the equipment used by Chowan County's forest ranger.

Because of carelessness or ignorance of fire safety facts of life, one American home is burned or damaged by fire every two minutes. Known facts for 1959 record 11,300 deaths from fire and a total of 906,000 fires in the United States.

With these facts in mind, we should not only cooperate with Fire Prevention Week, but we should observe every week as Fire Prevention Week.

Socking The Motorist

Just about every motorist, at one time or another, kicks about the "high price of gasoline". What he should be kicking about is the "high price of gasoline taxes".

Today—with the allegedly "temporary" fourth cent that was added to the federal gas tax last October—the combined national average of federal and state taxes is more than 10 cents a gallon.

This means that the taxes now average, on a nationwide basis, 48 per cent of the retail price of regular grade gas, 62 per cent of the wholesale price, and 85 per cent of the refinery price. Taxes actually amount to more than half of the retail price of the fuel in 20 states, and in some areas equal the refinery price. Such luxuries as fur coats and jewelry carry far smaller excise taxes and no other necessity is comparably treated.

Moreover, here is a tax which is demonstrating the validity of the law of diminishing returns. The swing toward smaller, more economical automobiles, foreign and domestic, is largely due to their thrifty fuel consumption. These cars account for more and more of our total automobile population. So gas revenues will decline because fewer gallons will be burned. Then, no doubt, it will be urged that taxes be further increased to make up the loss—and so the spiral can go on, ad infinitum.

The solution would seem to be a wave of protest by motorists—a category which includes most of the voters.

One of the ways you can support your church is by supporting your minister, and his program.

Those who can't control their tongues operate at a disadvantage in society; they can't compete with the quiet schemers.

Town Council and the Board of Public Works held a joint meeting Friday afternoon, the purpose being to act on the resignation of Ernest J. Ward, Jr., as Town Clerk. It was a severe shock to members of both boards and had anybody dropped in on the meeting they might have thought a funeral service was in progress—so solemn was the proceedings. Anyway, Mr. Ward's resignation was accepted with profound regret after it was definitely determined that he would not reconsider his intention to resign. He has accepted the position as director of finance for the City of Rocky Mount, a position paying a salary substantially above what he is paid in Edenton and at the same time puts him in better position for even higher promotions. The town in general regrets Mr. Ward's leaving for he will leave a void which will be hard to fill, not only in the capacity of Town Clerk, but in many other activities in town in which he has taken a prominent and active part. It goes without saying that his legion of friends in Edenton wish for him a great deal of success in his new position.

Edenton's Aces are scheduled to play their ancient and arch rivals, the Elizabeth City Yellow Jackets, Friday night. The Aces, on paper, are favored to win, but that's been the case many times before and they came home on the short end of the score. The Aces have won all five of their games by impressive scores, while the Yellow Jackets have won only one out of four games played. The Yellow Jackets will, as they have done many times before, play an inspired game against the Aces, so the two records might not amount to much. At any rate, Coach Billings and the Aces as a whole are not expecting an easy battle, and are preparing for a real scrap. The game will be played in Elizabeth City and if the weather man does not throw a monkey wrench in the works, the chances are that, except for the police and firemen, practically the whole works will be in Elizabeth City Friday night. And if the Yellow Jackets upset the Aces, it will be a gloomy crowd heading back to Edenton after the game. Here's hoping the Aces will be able to once more take the sting out of the Yellow Jackets. The Edenton Band will join the crack Elizabeth City Band, so that an evening of exciting entertainment is in store for those who follow the Aces Friday night.

With football taking the limelight in the way of sports, below is a "poem" written by—well, he must be a State College fan:

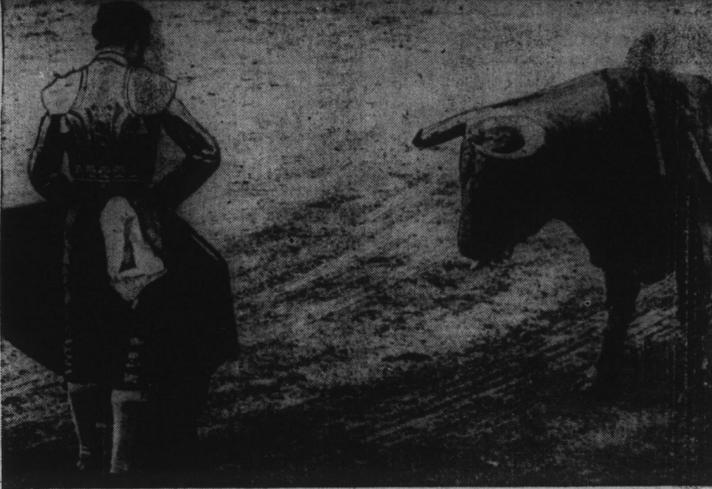

Hark! The herald angels sing
The State College Wolfpack is just the thing,
Peace on earth, and mercy mild,
Football's a man's game; Carolina is only a child,
Joyful all ye State fans unaged,
Join the triumph of the age,
With victorious hosts proclaim
The Tar Heels will never again be the same,
Four games of five won,
Those State tacklers hit like a ton,
It all started with "Big Jim,"
Now his assistant looks like "Little Tim"
As the final score leaves Chapel Hill on a limb,
With three to zero, Little Jim tried to be brave
As pore Old Big Jim turned over in his grave.
And the Carolina fans looked for a cave
As the State fans yelled, "Beat the Knave."
Big Gabe's throws were all true
As the Tar Heels' faces turned blue,
The field was flat—so was Carolina's score.
As the State fans yelled: "Have mercy,
Wolfpack, score no more!"
State—the cow college of yore
Made Carolina look like a bore,
With three to nothing the final score
As Carolina tried to come up from the floor,
What could be finer than to be at Carolina at the Old Well
Nothing except at State near the Bell,
The victory bell which shouts
There just ain't no Justice any more,
The Carolina team didn't even score,
The State guards were husky
And made the Tar Heels look rusty,
Maybe Carolina should hire
Marilyn Monroe—at least she's busty,
And hire B. B.—just as a trusty,
Little Jim says, "just one more year—
I'll have State by the ear."
By then my boys will have some traction
I'll give them salts to get some action."

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Haskett, who live in Rochester, Indiana, are in Edenton visiting relatives and friends. Both have been readers of The Herald for many years. Mr. Haskett, of course, is a native of Edenton, but Mrs. Haskett is not, so she told her husband that while she was in Edenton she wanted to see the guy who writes this column. Well, they dropped in the office Tuesday and Mrs. Haskett saw me. I'm glad for one reason that they came in, for Mr. Haskett paid three years' subscription to The Herald. Then I sort of regret the visit for another reason, for Mrs. Haskett having seen me, now I'm afraid she'll cancel the subscription.

Just a reminder for Rotarians (and here's one who's liable to forget) that the meeting today will be held at the Parish House at 1 o'clock. The Rotarians were shoved out of the Parish House while additions and changes were made, so today it will be like going back home, although the Rotarians were very well pleased while they met at the Edenton Restaurant. President Elton Forehand would like to have a 100 per cent attendance for the "homecoming."

And speaking about forgetting, here's one who goofed Monday night. District deputies and other prominent guests attended the Eastern Star meeting and, of course, on these occasions the officers are supposed to wear evening clothes. I caught part of the Red Men meeting, chased off to the Eastern Star meeting in the hope that I'd get away in time to catch part of a church meeting. I rushed into the Eastern Star meeting in my working clothes while all the other officers were "dressed up." What I regret is that I forgot to dress up and therefore didn't take advantage of the opportunity to wear that 85-cent collar button I recently bought from John Ross.

An interesting visitor while this column was being written was Jake Levy, who now lives in Suffolk. Jake operated a clothing store in Edenton way back yonder near the corner of Broad and King Streets. In the few minutes he was here Wednesday he recalled the Edenton he knew. He remembered the bar rooms which dotted Chesapeake, the wall in the middle of Broad Street, the trees which lined Broad Street, the awnings over the sidewalks in the business section, "Uncle" Jimmy Roberson, Dick Lee and many other reminiscences which years truly also remembers. It's sort of a pleasure to get up with former Edentonians and reminisce for a spell.

No Conservation Reserve Sign-up Allowed This Fall

All Existing Contracts For 1960 and Previous Years Will Remain In Effect

There will be no sign-up this fall of additional land or contracts under the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve, W. E. Matthews, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, says in response to inquiries from farmers regarding the status of the program.

Matthews also said that program contracts which expire in 1960 or later are no longer eligible to be extended for an additional period of years.

"Under the Soil Bank Act enacted in May of 1956," Matthews explained, "the Secretary of Agriculture was authorized to enter into Conservation Reserve contracts with producers during the five-year period 1956-1960."

"The sign-up under the 1960 program was held last fall, so that farmers would know in advance of the cropping season whether their land would be accepted into the Conservation Reserve. Since the authorization to enter into new contracts has not been extended beyond 1960, there will be no sign-up period this fall."

"Farmers should understand, however, that the existing contracts for 1960 and previous will remain in effect and payments will continue to be made under them for the period of the contracts and in accordance with contract terms. The annual Department of Agriculture appropriation bills provide money with which to meet obligations already on the books."

There are 7,831 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect in North Carolina, involving a total of 271,200 acres, Mr. Matthews said. Contract periods range from 3 to 10 years, and annual rental payments for 1960 amount to approximately $4.1 million. Nationally, there are more than 300,000 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect in 1960, covering a total acreage of approximately 28.6 million acres in 48 states. The average rental payment is $11.85 per acre, and the rental payments for 1960 will amount to about $338 million.

Guaranteed by Uncle Sam:

A retirement plan that will return $1.93 for every $1.00 you put in

Would you like to be sure that every dollar you put aside for retirement will pay you $1.93 later, or? It can be done, and here's an example:
Buy a $100 Savings Bond (for $75) each month for 17 years and 9 months. (This is exactly ten years longer than the official maturity period for Bonds, and means extra interest earnings.) At the end of that time, you can cash in a Bond every month for the next 17 years and 9 months, and each one of them will pay you $1.93. This works out to $1.93 for every $1.00 you put in Bonds—and please note—the $75 figure is only an example. You can put as little or as much as you like into this retirement plan. See the chart.

SOME ADVANTAGES YOU MIGHT THINK ABOUT

You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan. Tell your company how much to set aside from your pay for Bonds. This way you won't forget to save and your savings will add up automatically.

You now get 3 1/2% interest, at maturity. This new rate, which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes your Bonds money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959, earn more, too—an extra 1/4% from then to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, any time you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash any time at any bank. But it pays to keep them.

Your money is guaranteed by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government promises you that the cash value of your Bond will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help save the peace with every Bond you buy. Peace costs money—money for science, education, military strength. And the money you save helps keep our nation's economy strong.

Pick the amount you would like to receive each month for 17 1/2 years

	$36.25	$72.50	$145.00	$290.00	$725.00
You save each month for 17 years, 9 months	18.75	37.50	75.00	150.00	375.00
At maturity, 7 years, 9 months from issue date, each bond will be worth	25.00	50.00	100.00	200.00	500.00

Hold each bond for another 10 years

You collect each month for 17 years, 9 months	36.25	72.50	145.00	290.00	725.00
---	-------	-------	--------	--------	--------

Tables based on assumption that 3 1/2% rate will be in effect 17 years and 9 months from original purchase date of each Bond.

You save more than money with U.S. Savings Bonds
