PARTNERSHIPS What is a partnership?

A partnership is an association of two or more persons to carry on as co-owners a business for

A partnership is a contractual relationship and may be informally created. Its existence may be proved by acts and words of the parties. It is, however, desirable in most cases to have it evidenced by a written document, known as "articles of partnership."

There may exist a partnership, with all of its legal incidents, without the partners themselves realizing the fact prior to a suit.

What is the difference between a partnership and a corporation?

ship are called "partners." The co-owners of a corporation are the Law called either "stockholders" or

The shareholders of a corporation are not usually liable for the debts of, and damage judgments against the corporation beyond the amount of their investment. What the shareholders have invested they may lose, but beyond that they are not liable upon fully paid shares. In a partnership, on the other hand, a partner stands to lose not only what he has invested in the partnership but everything else that he owns. It is an important thing for a man to enter into a partnership with any person, unless he has the most implicit confidence in his integrity.

Pontiac tailors body design to a new Wide-Track Better balance and roadability! Control that can't be copied!

We've built more room and greater roadability into this sleek new '61 Pontiac. There's more headroom, legroom and footroom. Doors are wider and they're designed to open farther for greater convenience.

By trimming side overhang, we balanced more weight directly between the wheels. The '61 Pontiac gives you greater stability. It gives you a greater sense of control for every mile, every maneuver.

Isn't now the time to try the Wide-Track way to travel?
