

KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

John T. Grooms, representative of the Social Security Administration, is in Edenton every Thursday at the North Carolina Employment Security Commission office in the Citizens Bank Building.

If you had purchased an item on a lay-away plan, paying in cash every week, how long would you wait before demanding a receipt? A month? A year? Three years?

Many people might wait a month, or several months. Few would wait as long as a year. Yet many workers contribute to the Federal old-age, survivors, and disability insurance system, popularly called social security, over their entire working lifetime, without ever checking to see that they were receiving credit for their earnings. Remember, it is the record of your earnings in work covered by social security which will determine the amount of benefits you can receive after retirement or if you become disabled, and the amount payable to your dependents if you should die.

While we who administer the government's social insurance program consider this faith in the accuracy of our procedures a great compliment, we sometimes wish that people would check up on us more frequently. Our mechanical and electronic record-keeping equipment is the most accurate that modern technology has been able to devise, but the data fed to the recording equipment must be first prepared by people, and human beings are fallible.

Social security benefits are not gifts, but are paid as a matter of right based on your earnings under social security and thus on the tax contributions you and your employers have made. Eligibility for benefits and the amount payable to you and your family are determined by the wages and self employment earnings credited to your individual social security account. The accuracy of your account is of vital concern to you and your dependents; for most people social security is one of their major financial assets.

You can easily make sure that your social security account is complete and accurate. Your account is kept by both name and number. If your name is spelled properly, your social security account number accurately shown and the amount of your earnings correctly recorded on all tax returns which your employer prepares (or on the income tax return you prepare, if you are self-employed in your own trade or business), you can ordinarily assume that you will receive full credit for all your earnings. You can check all three of the essential items—name, account number, and amount of wages—by looking at the stub of your pay check.

Aces And Acelets Win Over Hertford

By BILL GOODWIN

The Edenton Aces, mad over a 75-31 stamping at the hands of Williamston Friday night, ran the Perquimans Indians off the court in Hertford Monday night in rolling to a 60-32 Albemarle Conference victory.

The Acelets won their sixth conference game against three defeats in the preliminary, by a score of 53-46.

The Edenton teams have one more regular season game left, with Scotland Neck on the local court Friday night. They then will be hosts to the Albemarle Conference Tournament next week.

With Herbert Adams hitting from the outside, Wayne Griffin rebounding and scoring from inside, and a fearsome fast-break duo of Jerry Tolley and Bobby Stokely, the Aces rang up a 36-8 half time lead over the outmanned Indians. A shifting zone defense was partly responsible for Perquimans' low score during the first half. The Edenton reserves played most of the second half.

Stokely led the balanced attack that saw four of the Aces starters score in double figures. He had 13, Griffin 12, Adams 11, Tolley 10, and Fred Britton, the other starter, had two.

Among the reserves, Richard Hollowell scored four, and Jimmy Dail, Carroll Forehand, Mac Wright and Bill Goodwin, two each. Franklin McGoogan led the Indians with eight.

The Acelets jumped into an early lead and were never headed throughout their game, although Perquimans got to within a point just before and just after the half.

Beverly Morgan led the Edenton scoring with 20 points while Sara Relfe Smith had 17 and Mary Anne Overton 16. Mary Phthisic paced the Squaws with 20 points.

Aces-Acelets Divide With Williamston

By BILL GOODWIN

The Edenton Acelets, sparked by 25 points from Mary Anne Overton, defeated the Williamston Green Wave 54-39 in Williamston Friday night.

The Aces fell before one of the hottest shooting performances ever thrown at the local club in the night-cap, 75-31.

The Acelets fell behind at the start of their game 6-0 before they could ring a basket, and it looked as though they were in for a rout. An excellent defensive job by Ida Campen, Mary Ann Hare, Nettie Lassiter and Phyllis Twiddy did the trick, however, as the Acelets caught up at the half and went on to win.

Overton tossed in 12 of her points in the fourth quarter that saw the Acelets ring up 17 tallies to Williamston's three. Beverly Morgan and Sara Relfe Smith were behind Overton in the Edenton scoring with 14 and 13 points, respectively. Sue Bunch had two.

Mary Rogers, who threw in 36 pointers against the Acelets in the earlier engagement of the two clubs, was held to 16 for Williamston. She was high-scoring for her team.

The Aces stayed in the game with the Green Wave boys for about six minutes, but then the taller foes turned on a blistering attack that gave them a 32-15 lead at the half.

The shooting kept up through the third quarter, and the Aces could not find the basket. Williamston out-scored the Aces 24-8 in that period. Coach Bill Billings let his reserves play most of the second half when he saw the cause was lost. The Greenies, though, left their first unit in until the score was 71-26 and got full revenge for the 34-0 football defeat administered by the Aces in the fall.

Fred Britton led the Aces' scoring with 12 points. Jerry Tolley had 7, Bill Goodwin 6, Jimmy Dail and Roland Tolley two each and Carroll Forehand and Wayne Griffin one apiece. Billy Wynn led Williamston with 20 points.

School Of Missions At Bethel Church

Bethel Baptist Church is one of the 26 churches of the Chowan Association participating in the Schools of Missions and the week of February 26th through March 3rd has been designated as a week in which these churches will emphasize missions—home and foreign, by having mission books taught and also listening to missionaries on leave.

The Rev. John Privott, a former Chowan County resident, will begin the services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, followed Sunday night with a message by the Rev. R. L. Smith. Beginning Monday night at 7:30 o'clock the mission study book, "The Dreamer Cometh" (the story of missionary Luther Rice by William Carleton) will be taught each night.

Mrs. Joe Webb, Jr., Associational WMU Mission Study Chairman will give the introduction of the book and teach the first chapter, followed with a message by the Rev. L. E. Blackman. Mrs. Cary Privott will teach the second chapter on Tuesday night and the Rev. Jerry Potter will bring the missionary message. The pastor, the Rev. A. B. Hammett, will teach the third chapter on Wednesday night followed by the Rev. L. D. Clepper. Thursday night the Rev. Paul Holoman of Edenton will teach the fourth chapter and the Rev. J. J. Cowsert will bring the missionary message. On Friday night the fifth chapter will be taught and the Rev. John Privott will again bring the message.

Mrs. Edgar Long and Mrs. Claude Long will teach the intermediate book "No Greater Heritage". Mrs. Charles White, Sr., and Mrs. E. J. Proctor, Jr., will teach the Junior book, "Sawgrass Missionary". Mrs. Charles Ward, Mrs. Joe White and Mrs. Thomas Proctor, will be in charge of the Sunbeam Bands, and teach their book, "Blue Flower".

The church extends to all surrounding churches that are not participating in the S. O. M., a cordial welcome and a special invitation to attend any or all of the meetings.

New Books At Local Library

Following are some of the new books acquired during the month of February at the Shepard-Pruden Memorial Library:

Week Of Missions Revival Will Be Held At Center Hill Church

The Center Hill Baptist Church will hold a missions revival beginning Sunday, February 26 to run through Friday, March 3, with services beginning each evening at 7:30 o'clock. The highlight of this revival will be that a different missionary will speak at each service.

On Sunday morning, the Rev. W. L. Lanier of Bristol, Virginia, will speak. Mr. Lanier has been working with the Goodwill Center of the First Baptist Church, Bristol, since 1949.

On Sunday evening, the Rev. Earl Martin, missionary to Africa, will bring the message.

On Monday evening, the Rev. John E. Carter, missionary to the Rowan Association in North Carolina, will bring the message.

On Tuesday evening the message will be brought by Mrs. W. L. Lanier, who has been working with her husband in the Goodwill Center in Bristol, Va., since 1949.

The service Wednesday evening will be led by the Rev. Ray E. Shelton, missionary to Uruguay.

On Thursday, a message will be by the Rev. E. C. Watson, missionary to the New South River Association in North Carolina.

Then to close out the missions revival, the Rev. W. L. Lanier will return for the message on Friday evening.

Another highlight of the revival will be the showing of a special missionary film each evening beginning at 7:30. This film will last about 20 to 30 minutes and then the missionary assigned to Center Hill for the evening will bring the message. The choir of the church will provide the special music. The public is invited to attend all services of this missions revival.

PROGRAM AT KADESH
The J. E. J. High School Chorus of Disputanta, Va., will present a program at Kadesh A.M.E. ion Church Sunday afternoon, February 26.
