Negro Home Demonstration News

By MRS. ONNIE S. CHARLTON, County Negro Home Economics Agent

The report below was written by our County Council Reporter, Mrs. L. E. Coston, Canaan Temple Community.

National Home Demonstration Week will be observed April 30 through May 6.

The setting aside of a week each year to honor Home Demonstration work, provides an opportunity to let all the people know of the great contribution being made by the Home Demonstration work in the progress of our County, State and Nation.

have proven to be the foundation of sound health. I cannot stress here every angle of improvement, but the standard of living in the rural homes of Chowan County has been incredibly raised.

A new and very impressive program is being emphasized now. It is "Community Development" which means that we can work together and do things that one person or one family cannot do alone.

With the Home Demonstration work for women, the 4-H Club work for children and the Community Development program for men, women and children, we hope everyone will cooperate and participate in helping to reach the desired goal—which is to continue to raise the standard of living in rural homes in Chowan County, the state of North Carolina, the nation and the world.

This work has been going on for a number of years, but there is no less need for it now, than when it first began, as a teacher fresh from college steps into his classroom for the first time finds it filled with eager pupils to be taught and on the last day when age has forced him to retire he leaves the room still filled with youth to be trained.

There will always be beginners. There will always be new and improved methods to be taught, therefore it is very essential for the Home Demonstration work in our county to continue. It helps us realize that important fact that the home is in the center of life and as the individuals of the home grow older new ideas and methods must be used if the home is to be kept healthy, happy and influential.

The 4-H County Council will meet Saturday, May 6, at White Oak Consolidated School at 10:30 A. M. Officers from each 4-H Club are asked to be present and on time.

The County 4-H Demonstration Contest will be held Saturday, at White Oak, at 10:30 A. M. The public is invited to be present.

This outstanding organization makes it possible to cut out much of the hard work and drudgery, thus enables housewives to become better informed homemakers and more intelligent mothers by which means they help to "Build Tomorrow's World." The influence of Home Demonstration Women is far-reaching. It extends to the civic, social, religious and educational affairs of the community.

The memorial wreath to the memory of the Chowan County troops who made the supreme sacrifice in the Confederacy, and in our other wars, will be placed at the base of the Confederate monument by little Miss Brabble Warren, a great, great granddaughter of Major Tristram Lowther Skinner, who organized Company A, N. C. Volunteers, C.S.A., and little Miss Betty Dixon, a great, great granddaughter of Captain William Badham, Jr., who organized "Edenton Bell Battery," officially known as Company B, 3rd Battalion of Artillery, C.S.A. These little girls are also daughters of veterans of World War II.

Our home agent endeavors to help the people to become conscious of the condition of their surroundings and willing to do something about improving it. Then by her aid, Home Demonstration work taught them how to take things they sometimes had discarded or thought worthless and make them into beautiful articles which greatly improved things around the house and yard. So many homes have been made more attractive. Yards and lawns correctly and artistically arranged, house work made easier, income increased by saving on garden, poultry and eggs, and also learning to make simple garments of clothing which otherwise would have to be purchased. Making the house and yard look better is just half of the battle because the proper preparation and conservation of foods and soap and cleansers.

After the placing of the wreath, the Rev. R. E. Fowlie, pastor of the Edenton Methodist Church, will speak the memorial prayer. This solemn ritual will be concluded by the firing of rifle salute, playing of Taps, by a unit of the National Guard, as a tribute to the war dead of Chowan County.

Jailer Bertram Byrum reports that during April 33 persons were placed in the Chowan County Jail with confinements ranging from one to 20 days. The expense was $213.17 which includes jail and turkey fees and soap and cleansers.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By JAMES H. GRIFFIN, Soil Conservationist

The Feed-Grain Program offers you an opportunity to get in several needed soil conservation practices on your farm this summer. First, you can build up the soil fertility while protecting the land by using one of the summer cover crops. Millet makes a good summer cover crop. It will grow on most of the land in Chowan County. It can be seeded in May or June with little cost or trouble. Hairy Indigo is being used in Southeastern North Carolina on deep sands in place of crotalaria. It shows great promise on low-fertility sands. Some farmers are still using crotalaria where they are hand-picking their corn or using a corn picker. Crotalaria is still the best soil-builder we have for poor sandy land. Giant Striata is the best variety to use. If you use crotalaria you will need to destroy the volunteer plants next year especially if you plant soybeans behind the crotalaria. Best crop behind crotalaria is corn or peanuts. By the way, the Hairy Indigo mentioned above is resistant to most nematodes. Velvet bean cowpeas and soybeans make a good summer cover crop. For details on summer cover crops see your county agent or the soil conservationist.

has never been buried on his own land. At first, I didn't get his point but after thinking a minute, I knew the answer. A man does not own the land, he has it only while he lives. When he dies the land passes on to someone else. The land belongs to God for use of His people during their life on this earth. Remember this and treat your land as a good steward... practice conservation. Your local soil conservation district is proud to sponsor Soil Stewardship Week for you.

Contour Rows
W. E. Bond has planned and applied contour rows in his tobacco field. Erosion has been taking his land away for years. He is determined to keep his good land. Besides the contour rows, he has a small grain-fescue rotation started for his tobacco. Interceptor drains are being tried in another tobacco field to stop erosion. Sericea lespedeza has been seeded along the steep slopes next to the woods for erosion control. Mr. Bond says it takes a lot of changes to stop erosion.

Conservation Plans
Eugene Jordan of Tyrner and Thomas O. Harrell of Edenton are scheduled to get assistance this month in preparing conservation plans on their farms. John Raines of Edenton is preparing a conservation plan on his woodlands this month. Technical assistance is being furnished by the Chowan Unit, Albemarle Soil Conservation District. This assistance will come from the Soil Conservation Service.

ents be urged to take their children to their private physician if able to pay the cost or bring them to the local health department for immunization. To begin the series of three immunizations at the present time will not only make possible the completion of the series of three inoculations during the Fall of 1961 but will also give considerable protection against poliomyelitis during the 1961 poliomyelitis season. All local health directors should urge immediate immunization for all children who have heretofore received no anti-paralytic poliomyelitis vaccine or have not completed the series of at least three injections. There will probably be no oral poliomyelitis vaccine available for widespread use during this year.

visions of this law. With this law in effect for two years, however, it is now time—and all local health directors are urged to advise all parents through publicity or otherwise—that all children who enter public schools in the Fall of 1961 should have the complete course of immunization before entering school. A minimum of three immunizations, the first two to be given two to four weeks apart and the third to be given five to seven months later, is recommended. A fourth inoculation, given a year after the third, is also approved. Only in cases showing adequate reasons for delay should children be accepted with the minimum of two inoculations.

Group singing was led by C. W. Overman, county agricultural agent, accompanied by Earl Harrell. The Rev. Thurman Allred, pastor of the Rocky Hock Baptist Church, gave the benediction. There were approximately 300 persons present for the music festival.
