A LIFT FOR TODAY

God is no respecter of persons; in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.—Acts 10:34-35.

We need a keener realization that true brotherhood in action is only the application of "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," for we are no closer to our Heavenly Father than we are to those whom we do not accept as brothers. Deepen our understanding of brotherhood, our fathers, that we may recognize all men as members of Thy Kingdom.

Persistency Pays Off

Again to prove that persistency has some semblance of a virtue is borne out by the fact that the Edenton Woman's Club this week was given the green light to carry out its initial beautification program in its entirety which was abandoned about a year ago due to the development of opposition.

County Commissioners and Town Councilmen agreed to go along with the club's proposed beautification plan, so that it will not be very long before work on this project will get under way.

The plan calls for considerable change to the Court House Green, including removal of the Confederate monument to a small park at the foot of Broad Street. The lower portion of Broad Street will be considerably beautified, permission for which was granted by Town Council.

Opposition to the beautification project developed when the plan was presented about a year ago, and there will, no doubt, again be some opposition, but with permission being granted, it is almost certain that the women will see the work completed according to plans.

The major objection to the initial proposal was the expected use of county funds to bear a portion of the cost. But now the Woman's Club will bear the entire expense of the proposal from profits of the recent Edenton pilgrimage. Whether objection is registered or not, the purpose of this comment is to point out what can be accomplished if a person or group of persons are determined and persistent.

Due Big Crowd

The John A. Holmes High School Band is scheduled to present its final concert of the season Friday night, May 19, in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock. It is hoped the auditorium will be filled to capacity which is as it should be.

It so happened that previous concerts were very sparsely attended, when the calibre of music should have been heard by far more people. The admission is free, so that there can be no complaint that it costs too much to attend.

In previous concerts and programs by the band the music was very worthwhile hearing and it is to be regretted that so few people apparently do not appreciate good music.

Friday night's concert will bring down the curtain on the directorship of Derwood Bray in Edenton, for he has accepted a position in New Bern. Mr. Bray has done an outstanding job with the high school band and it would be a fitting tribute and tribute of appreciation to him, in appreciation of his efforts, for the auditorium to be filled to capacity Friday night. Then, too, a large crowd is due members of the band, who in their particular field, are just about as outstanding as members of the football team or any other athletic aggregation at the school. They have devoted a great deal of time to practice and have developed into creditable amateur musicians, so that they, too, will appreciate many people being on hand to hear them display their wares in the way of music.

The writer does not hesitate to predict that the concert will provide an opportunity to hear a splendid program of music and, being the final concert of the season, the auditorium should not be able to hold the number who should attend. Music hath charms, so that the concert will provide an evening of high class entertainment and at the same time a full house will delight Mr. Bray as well as members of the band.

Over The Top

It is very gratifying to report that the 1961 Red Cross quota of $1,700 has been raised, thus saving the blood bank for the county for another year. As of last week the drive lacked about $225, but in a last minute effort the deficit was collected over the week-end.

Murray B. Lynch, Jr., chairman of the drive, senses a feeling of relief as well as pride in the fact that Chowan County people have rallied to a very worthy cause and put the drive over the top.

Mr. Lynch is especially grateful to residents of the rural area who responded magnificently to an appeal when it was reported that scarcely any previous contributions came from county residents.

Then, too, the Jaycess made a valuable contribution to the effort by operating a life line which helped bolster the amount collected.

It would have been next to a calamity to lose the blood bank and it again goes to prove that Chowan County people are sympathetic and willing to support a worthwhile project if they are aware of the needs and are contacted.

The people who smile often have more friends than the people who frown.

There will be better homes in the land when there are better people; not vice versa.

Heard & Seen By Buff

Edenton friends are delighted to learn that Bubba Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hopkins, and the ram-rod of the Edenton Aces last season, has been selected on the All-Star high school football team which will play the Western All-Stars in Goldsboro during the summer. Hopkins is one of 11 backfield men chosen for AA ranks. He had a brilliant record last season to wind up his high school career when he scored 19 touchdowns during the regular season and made a major contribution to the success of the Aces in winning another state championship. He is scheduled to enter East Carolina College at Greenville in the fall and here's one who hopes he will thrill college football fans as much as he did Edenton fans while playing for the Aces.

C. D. Stewart, who now lives at Morehead City, sent me the following note: "Dear Buff: For the past two or three years I have been wondering where would be a good place to retire when the proper time comes. If you will read the enclosed poem, you will see that I no longer have to wonder. The only trouble is that heretofore I have been thinking that St. Augustine had the Fountain of Youth, instead of St. Petersburg. However, that is just a minor detail. In fact, you might be interested yourself, since this story is 100% true. Hope things are going good for you and that you will be elected Councilman as long as you want the job."

The poem C. D. refers to follows:
THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH
When Albert Edward Anderson had time for contemplation
He and his wife together planned to have a grand vacation.

They'd travel to St. Petersburg, and at the Fount of Youth
He'd there regain the hair he'd lost, likewise his missing youth.

His wife also had a desire to gain her youthful grace,
To have the lines and wrinkles to vanish from her face.

They came to the Sunshine City and found the famous Spring,
And everything was so beautiful, they couldn't help but sing.

They were welcomed at the fountain and drank the waters there,
And did the same things every day with diligence and care.

The water proved its potency beyond their fondest dreams,
They danced and pranced and capered round just like antelopes, it seems.

Months went by; their son then planned to see his folks again,
He traveled many miles o'er land and stepped from off the plane.

He found the street, and on a seat there sat a maiden fair,
She looked just like his sister Maude—a child was in her care.

She spoke, and said, "How are you, son?" and met him with a smile,
"I'm glad you've come, you're looking fine; I hope you'll stay a while."

Perplexed, he asked, "Why, sis, how come you here to be,
And who is this here chap you have upon your knee?"

"Why, don't you know your mother, son? I've changed quite some, I know, I've been drinking at the fountain, where the youthful waters flow."

"And this child is your father, Tom—he held his nose so close,
He drank too much before he stopped, and took an overdose."

A married man must sometimes give a pretty good excuse to get out a night or so. I was told the other day that an Edenton husband, not so very long married, wanted to go out one night and told his wife he was going out to shoot craps. "Well, all right," said the wife, "but if you shoot any I'll have to call up mother for I don't know how to cook them."

Mrs. B. A. Chappell, who lives in Roanoke, Va., reprimanded me for not having received a bill for her renewal to The Herald. Said Mrs. Chappell: "My dear Mr. Bufflap—A few days ago I came across the check stub for my subscription to The Chowan Herald and discovered that the new subscription is overdue. As the wife of a business man, I'd like to know how you can run your business and not send bills. We haven't found the secret. I am enclosing my check for $3.00 for another year. I enjoy it and am beginning to get acquainted with the third generation names. We were in Edenton for the Pilgrimage and the old town never looked prettier to me. Everyone who helped with it should be congratulated. Send me a bill next year, for I may not have a reminder again."

Asa Dail was making the rounds Friday passing out cigars. Early Friday morning he became the pappy of a daughter, Sandra Jean, in Chowan Hospital, and when he arrived at The Herald office he was still a bit nervous, but he managed to hold on to the cigar until I got my mitts on it.

What a fellow says is many times misconstrued. For instance, the other day a local fellow told a friend, "I'm not drinking any more." The friend appeared very much surprised and asked, "What, you mean you've stopped drinking?" The reply was "No, I've not stopped drinking, but I'm not drinking any more than I have been."

Buddy Cannady, who operates a fishing boat at Oregon Inlet, reported Monday that bluefish really came into the Inlet Sunday. Glad to hear the bloomin' fish are somewhere, for apparently they're gone from here, so far as my fishing is concerned. And, rushed like I am, the scudders will have left Oregon Inlet by the time I can get to go.

It's hard to keep from making mistakes. Last week I mentioned in this column something about I. H. Spruill who, I said, lived in Norfolk. But in the mail Monday morning was a letter from Mr. Spruill politely informing me that he lives in Poughkeepsie, New York, and not in Norfolk. Sorry I made the mistake.

Hiram Mayo is editor of the Edenton Rotary Echoes, a "newspaper" distributed at Rotary Club meetings. In last week's issue was a bit of advice: "To drive a nail without marring your thumb, hold the hammer with both hands." Good idea!

With my daughter's chief ambition at my house now, last week she had the urge to plant a few tomato and bell pepper plants. I bought 'em and asked Leon Halsey what variety they were. He said "California Wonder." I can understand the "California" but I am wondering if the "Wonder" means that I am to wonder if any tomatoes and peppers will appear on the plants.

George H. Privott has been advertising in The Herald Want Ads a cottage for sale at Nixon's Beach. On Wednesday morning he received a letter from a prospect who lives in Pittsburgh, Pa., and informed Mr. Privott that he intends to come to Edenton soon to look over the place. Just another example to point out that advertising in The Herald is a good advertising medium.

C. Of C. Sponsoring Ton And Half Club qualify for the state-wide Two Ton Peanut Club in 1961, he will receive a special award from the Chamber of Commerce suitable for such an achievement.

For the past five years peanut acreage has decreased in Chowan County and while county-wide yields per acre came close to the two-ton average, they never quite made it. Last year the average yield fell to 1,800 pounds per acre on 6,300 acres planted to this crop. If peanut yield can be increased throughout the county by just one bag per acre, Chowan County farmers would increase their income by more than $65,000. This is only a 5 percent increase and the Agriculture Committee of the Chamber feels that this goal can be achieved. Farmers who qualify for the Ton and a Half Club will pull up the average considerably.

The Agriculture Committee of the Chamber of Commerce agreed at their last meeting that there should be a consistent, long-range promotion carried on to interest the farmers of Chowan County in the great savings to be made by feeding their own grain to livestock, instead of selling their corn and small grain for cash.

It was also moved and passed at the Agriculture Committee meeting that the Edenton Chamber of Commerce sponsor another Businessmen-Farmers Friendship Tour in September and at a time to coincide with the annual Farm Bureau fish fry. "The Friendship Tour last year was highly successful," according to George Lewis, chairman of the Chamber's Agriculture Committee, "and this year we would like to have more individual farmers participating. The tour's itinerary will cover at least six outstanding Chowan farm operations," Lewis said.

Green Light Given For Beautification

the pilgrimage event, especially pointing out the removal of the paint from the Court House which has resulted in so much favorable comment. Mrs. Earnhardt stated that Edentonians as well as the many visitors attending the pilgrimage will never forget the wonderful success of the event and that the Woman's Club has been urged to go further to promote improvements.

The Councilmen and Commissioners were informed that no town or county funds will be requested in the beautification program. The entire cost will be paid from profits of the pilgrimage.

It was pointed out that the women are exploiting the greatest asset for economic growth—history, and that the pilgrimage has been an asset on which the dollar and cents sign can be placed.

The women were frank in expressing their desire to move the Confederate monument, saying it will be transferred to a park at the foot of Broad Street, where it will be far more prominent and seen by more people and at the same time do away with the obstructive view of the Court House from the Green.

The former movement to make the proposed improvements was abandoned but, the women stated that much of this opposition has disappeared, especially since the Woman's Club will shoulder the entire expense. The women plan to get the work under way just as soon as possible.
