Baptists Meet In Annual Session

The Chowan Baptist Association, composed of Baptists from Gates, Chowan, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Dare, Tyrrell, Washington, Camden and Hyde counties, met in annual session on Tuesday of this week at the Hobbsville Baptist Church in Gates County, and on Wednesday at the Sawyer's Creek Baptist Church in Camden County.

Dr. R. W. Kicklighter, pastor of the Blackwell Memorial Baptist Church of Elizabeth City and moderator of the Association presided over the two-day meeting. The Rev. Maurice Grissom, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Elizabeth City, conducted the congregational singing. Highlights of the program included addresses by Dr. J. P. Morgan of Raleigh, State Secretary, Baptist Training Union Department, and Dr. Bruce E. Whitaker, president of Chowan College, Murfreesboro. The annual sermon for the meeting was delivered by the Rev. Melvin Hughes, pastor of the Sawyer's Creek Church. Reports of the many activities of the association and the denomination were heard by the messengers from the 58 churches in the Association.

HD Group Attends Meeting Of Board

Mrs. Belle Parker, Tyner, member of the Wards Home Demonstration Club and Eastern District Public Relations Chairman, attended the annual North Carolina Home Demonstration Clubs Executive Board meeting in Raleigh last week.

Accompanying Mrs. Parker were Mrs. Elwood Stevenson, Elizabeth City, State Family Life Chairman; Mrs. W. L. Forbes, Shawboro, Health Chairman and Mrs. Reid Overman, Elizabeth City, 25th Federated District Chairman.

Be fit for more than the thing you are now doing.

Sunday School Lesson

GROWTH IN CHRISTIAN RELATIONSHIPS

International Sunday School Lesson for October 22

Memory Selection: "Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others."—Philippians 2:4.

Lesson Text: Philippians 2:1-18; Colossians 3:1 through 4:1.

Since we believe that growth in the knowledge of God, in Christian relationships, and in Christian concern is necessary to the achievement of the abundant life, today we pursue the question: What does Christian love demand in our relationships with others?

Prior to the passage in our Scriptures which we are studying today, Paul had repudiated the false doctrines previously taught, and here is calling on his fellow Christians to throw out the old life and put on the new man in Christ. He specifies clearly which virtues are to be put away, and which virtues are to be put on.

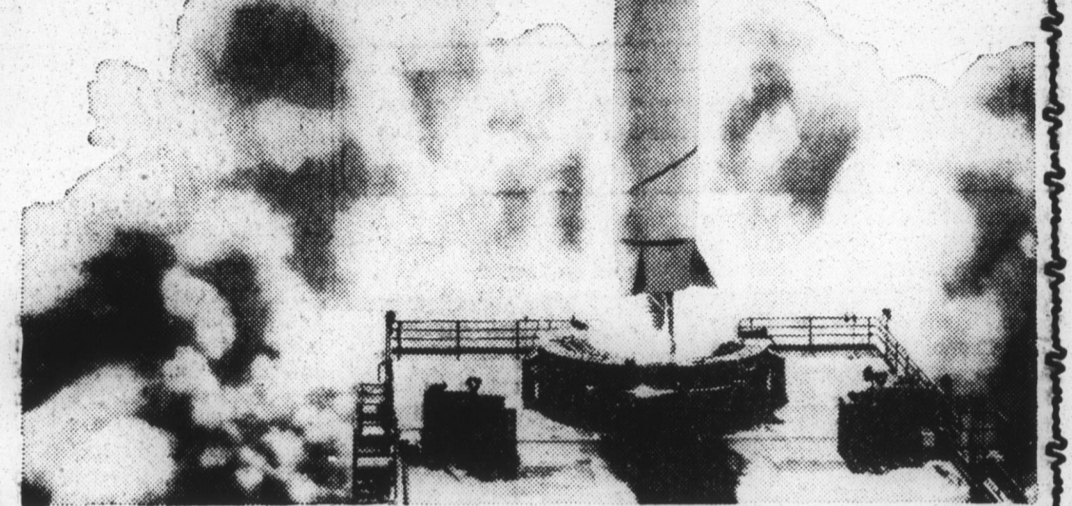

Paul, in his writing, was leading the Christians to realize their involvement with their brothers. The Christian must grow in his understanding of the need for sharing the burdens of others as well as being sensitive to their needs, rights and feelings. He must do this by gaining the Christian perspective on life, seeking to grow in the Christian virtues of living.

A new-born baby is naturally a self-centered scrap of humanity. In the early weeks of life, the youngster is aware of other people only in that they are there to minister to his whims and needs. By and by the child learns that he must start adjusting his life to the lives of those about him. The process is painful as he seeks to break the shackles of self-concern which have held him thus far in his self-centered existence. Growth takes place in the child's emotional and social personality only when he is successful in shaking off these shackles of self-concern.

The Apostle Paul had learned that the Philippian Christians had some growing yet to do. They were behaving, in general, like selfish and jealous little children, and Paul applied his energies to the task of improving this situation.

Christian love demands that

FIVE FOUR THREE TWO ONE ZERO

The countdown has been completed. At the word "zero," electronic miracles happen. The rocket zooms skyward, and seems to penetrate the infinite.

But it hasn't. Man's greatest efforts fall far short of solving the mystery that is life itself. The answer is known only unto God. And man's greatest troubles still concern not the universe but man himself, and his fellowmen.

The greatest scientists today realize even more acutely than most of us the limitations of mankind. From deep, personal experience they know how desperately man needs God's love and His guidance. And they know, too, that no matter how "invincible" their rockets may become, in the end, true peace can be achieved only by God's own workings within the hearts and minds of men.

Pray for this kind of peace in church next Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his neighbor's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FHA New Credit Regulations Went Into Effect On Oct. 15th

The Farmers Home Administration is moving rapidly to carry out the broad-scale improvements in the supervised agricultural credit program brought about by the Agricultural Act of 1961, Area Supervisor Paul V. Parks says.

An area meeting was held in Rocky Mount on October 11 and with the agency's field staff to review the new regulations prior to placing the program into effect October 15.

The expanded rural housing program, under which owners of tracts of nonfarm land in small rural communities as well as farmers may apply for loans to build or remodel homes, will also be discussed.

Administration in the Rural Areas Development Program will be a major item on the agenda. Recently the responsibility of coordinating the technical services of the USDA in the RAD program.

Never in the history of the Farmers Home Administration has there been such an over-all upgrading of the supervised agricultural credit service, Area Supervisor Paul V. Parks pointed out. This will give the thousands of farmers whose equities have been wiped out by the low net returns of recent years an opportunity to obtain needed financing.

The credit improvements will also mean much to those rural communities that are fighting to regain their economic strength through the Rural Areas Development Program. Farmers in those communities will have greater access to development and adjustment loans, rural residents will have access to credit for housing and domestic water supply systems.

The funds spent for improvement will spark rural businesses and provide employment for carpenters, electricians and other workmen.

The revised regulations reflect the increasing capital needs of farmers. The average investment per farm has increased seven-fold in the past 20 years, from $6,094 in 1940 to $41,923 in 1961.

Operating loans for equipment, livestock, feed, seed, fertilizer and similar items can now be made in amounts up to $35,000. The previous limit was $20,000.

Loans to buy and enlarge farms may now be made on any family farm if the total indebtedness on the farm is not more than $60,000 when the loan is closed. Previously these loans had been limited to farms whose value was no greater than that of the average family farm in the county.

Loans may now be made to farmers with off-farm income to buy and enlarge small farms. Previously such loans could be made only on farms large enough to support a family without the aid of off-farm income.

Small loans for farm real estate loans solely for refinancing has been placed on a permanent basis.

Loans to groups of farmers for the development of rural community water systems, irrigation and drainage systems now have a ceiling of $500,000 when made from appropriated funds and $1 million when insured loan funds are used. The previous limit was $250,000 on both direct and insured loans.
