Watershed Celebration In Edenton An Outstanding Affair; Work Commended

Program Held at L. C. Bunch's Farm; 550 Attend Banquet In Armory at Night

Thursday was a big day in Edenton for those interested in soil and water conservation when the Burnt Mill Creek Watershed was dedicated and ground was broken for the Pollock Swamp Watershed.

Hundreds of people gathered at L. C. Bunch's farm near Hancock station in the afternoon, where the exercises were held in an appropriate setting which reflected a great deal of preparation. The speaker's platform had a background of pine trees and under shelters many pictures were displayed pointing out the advantages of soil conservation.

Boy Scouts moved among the large group of people handing out bags of Chowan County peanuts which were compliments of the local branch of Continental Baking Company.

Adding considerably to the program was a concert by the Cherry Point Marine Band and a group of Edenton ladies in colonial costume mingled among the crowd which added color to the occasion.

The program at the Bunch farm was presided over by West Byrum, Jr., who called upon the Rev. George B. Holmes to offer the invocation. C. W. Overman sang the National Anthem and two Edenton Boy Scouts raised the United States flag.

A welcome was extended by Mayor John Mitchener, W. E.

Bond, Chairman of the Chowan County Commissioners and H. A. Leary, vice chairman of the Albemarle Soil Conservation District, who also paid glowing tribute to L. C. Bunch, chairman, for his efficient and untiring work.

Mr. Byrum recognized a host of distinguished guests and spoke briefly on "What the Watershed Projects Will Mean To Us."

Congressman Herbert C. Bonner introduced Donald A. Williams, national administrator of the Soil Conservation Service.

Mr. Williams commended the Albemarle Soil and Water Conservation District, the Perquimans and Chowan County Drainage Districts and the Chowan County Board of Commissioners, sponsors of the two watershed projects, and all civic, service and youth organizations that have contributed to the program.

Over the years, Mr. Williams said, North Carolina has been one of the leading states in conservation work.

"The faculty to initiate watershed projects, to think progressively and effectively," said Mr. Williams, "is more or less expected in this historic Edenton area. This was true in colonial and Revolutionary periods when the area opposed the British Parliament. This was true in 1774 when the women of Edenton held their 'Tea Party' in defiance to British rule.

"Today, we dedicate the completion of the Burnt Mill Creek Watershed project and observe the start of the Pollock Swamp project. I'm sure that the satisfactory results obtained in the Group In Ryland Wins In Contest For Development

Awards Program Is Held at the Chowan High School on Wednesday Night

In the annual Chowan County Community Development Contest which came to a close Wednesday of last week, the Ryland community was judged the most outstanding for the year.

Contributing substantially to Ryland's success was the near completion of a community building and sponsoring a 4-H Club and other worthy projects during the year. The group was presented a purple ribbon and a check for $109.32.

The awards were presented by Richard Atkinson, Jr., vice president of the Edenton branch of the Peoples Bank & Trust Company at a program held at Chowan High School.

Blue ribbon communities included Enterprise and Center

Big Annual Holiday Event Again Sponsored By Edenton's BPW Club

Plans are rapidly being whipped into shape for Edenton's annual Christmas parade which is scheduled to be held Friday afternoon, November 24. The big event is again sponsored by the Edenton Business and Professional Women's Club, members of which are hopeful that this year's Christmas party will be one of the best ever staged in Edenton.

Youngsters from Edenton and the rural area are looking forward with pleasure to the annual visit of Santa Claus and with favorable weather youngsters by the hundreds, together with many parents, are expected to be on hand for the visit and party.

According to plans, the parade will begin at 2 o'clock at Hicks Field and the line of march will be down Broad Street to Water. Continued on Page 3, Section 1

Crane Cites Store Work Hours Permitted For Women-Minors

State Labor Commissioner Frank Crane reminds Tar Heel employers of maximum working hours permitted for women and minors under the State Labor Laws during the business rush between Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays.

"Employers employing nine or more persons may select a period of one week only, any time between Thanksgiving and Christmas, during which women 18 years of age or older employed in mercantile establishments may work as much as ten hours a day but not more than six days in the week," Commissioner Crane said. "Normally, maximum working time for these employees is nine hours a day, 48 hours a week, and six days per week."

"Women 18 or older working in establishments employing eight or fewer people are restricted to ten hours a day, 55 hours a week and six days per week," Crane stated. "The law does not provide any increased working time for this group during the Thanksgiving to Christmas period."

He pointed out that the law does not provide any extended
