Frankly Speaking

By FRANK ROBERTS

Backlog of movie notes found in desk drawer, so-o-o-o: Natalie Wood began her screen career at the age of four, appearing with Barbara Stanwyck in "The Bride Wore Boots."

Jack King, Stanley Clements, John Goddard and Doug Henderson headline an all-male cast in a Korean war-story, "Sniper's Ridge." All of John Payne's movies are booked into the Park Theatre in Roanoke, Virginia. The theatre is owned by Payne.

A neat arrangement, "Mystic Island," star Michael Craig is a former boxer and sailor. My favorite actor, father of my child-star, is John Mills. His latest movie is "Singer, Not the Song." It's a far cry from being a musical, despite the misleading title. "Errand Boy," starring Jerry Lewis, was directed by him from a story by him. Incidentally, Lewis describes an errand boy as a gopher. Gopher coffee, gopher cigarettes, gopher lunch, gopher a long walk. Vincent Edwards, television's "Ben Casey," also has a good sized role in Bobby Darin's movie, "Too Late Blues."

Brenda Lee, now all of 16, made her screen debut in "The Two Little Bears." The horror movie, "The Mask," was filmed in Toronto, Canada. $450,000 worth of rare Chinese antiques were used in "Flower Drum Song." Beautiful stars Nancy Kwan and Miyoshi Umeki don't fall into that category. E. G. Marshall, who played a lawyer in "Town Without Pity," also played lawyers in "Compulsion," "Caine Mutiny," and "Man on Fire." He lost his cases in all of those movies. Of course, he's always the lawyer on his new tee-vee series, "The Defenders," winning most of those cases. "Breakfast at Tiffany's," filmed in New York City, shot on-location at, of course Tiffany's famed jewelry store, as well as the 42nd Street Public Library, Central Park, Fifth and Park Avenues, the Seagram Building and the Women's House of Detention. "Paris Blues," was the fourth film in which the husband and wife team of Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward co-starred. One of Hollywood's famed silent screen stars, Bessie Love, now 60, appeared as Bunny in "The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone." Lana Turner had 28 separate clothes changes for her role in "Bachelor in Paradise." "World by Night" spotlights night club activities around the world, and was filmed in Amsterdam, Blackpool, Buenos Aires, Copenhagen, Hamburg, Hollywood, Hong Kong, Honolulu, Las Vegas, London, New York, Paris, Stockholm and Tokyo. John Wayne's movie "The Comancheros," took place in Texas, but was filmed in Utah. Peter Falk, one of the co-stars of "Pocketful of Miracles," was formerly an efficiency expert for the state of Connecticut. Celeste Holm, a "Bachelor Flat" co-star, was nominated for the Academy award three times, winning it once. That was for her performance in "Gentleman's Agreement."

Closing Thought: True philosophy invents nothing; it merely establishes and describes what is.

KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

George Dietrich, field representative of the Social Security Administration, is in Edenton every Thursday at the North Carolina Employment Security Commission office in the Citizens Bank Building.

EARNINGS TEST

There's good news for Social Security beneficiaries who continue to work while drawing their benefits.

George E. Dietrich, Field Representative of the Greenville Social Security Office, has announced that the 1961 amendments to the Social Security law have set up a new rule for determining how much of his Social Security payments a beneficiary has to lose if he earns over $1200. A person who earns more than $1200 now loses benefits at the rate of $1.00 in benefits for each $2.00 earned between $1200 and $1700. On earnings of over $1700, $1.00 in benefits is withheld for each $1.00 earned. These new withholding rates apply to a person's earnings during 1961.

Some parts of the retirement test were not changed. A person still receives checks for all 12 months if he earns $1200 or less during the year. He can get a benefit payment for any month in which he is 72 years of age or older, regardless of how much he earns during the year. A beneficiary under 72 can get a full benefit check for any month in which he neither earns wages of more than $100 nor renders substantial services in self-employment.

For further information about the retirement test for drawing Social Security payments, visit, or write the Greenville Social Security Office, 814 W. Fifth Street, or call 758-3121.

Crime and punishment grow out of one stem. Punishment is a fruit that, unsuspected, ripens within the flower of the pleasure that concealed it.
