

AROUND THE FARMS IN CHOWAN COUNTY

By C. W. OVERMAN, Chowan County Agent

All-Practice Peanut Demonstrations: Seven all-practice peanut demonstrations are being planted this week. Growers conducting demonstrations are A. C. Griffin of Advance Community, Edward Goodwin of Enterprise, George Bunch, Jr., of Rocky Hook, Troy Toppin of Cross Roads, Joe Wiggins of Center Hill, Will Elliott of Ryland and James Ward of Gliden.

Soils have been tested and lime and potash levels corrected. Soils are being fumigated for nematode control. Seed are being inoculated at planting time. Thimet is being applied to control thrips and leafhoppers. Chemical weed control is being applied on schedule. Other practices will be employed as timely.

Cotton in Chowan: According to the last figures from the ASCS Office Chowan County will plant approximately 3,600 acres to cotton this year. Cotton planting is still under way this week.

A new chemical combination, Terracap, is being tried for the control of fungus diseases which attack young cotton. The plant-erbox method of application is being used. Demonstrations using this material are being conducted by Lonnie Boyce of Yeopim, Clyde Lane of Cross Roads, James Ward of Ryland, Charlie Small of Advance and Edward Goodwin of Enterprise.

A cotton variety test demonstration is being planted with Edward Goodwin of Enterprise. Bristoe Perry of Advance community is conducting a variety trial using Rex, DeKalb 108 and Coker 100W.

Advance Community Development: The steering committee and officers of Advance Community met on Monday night, May 3, at 8 o'clock. All people in the community are invited. The steering committee will present their proposed 1962 plans for action. Permanent officers for 1962 should be elected. A busy one-hour meeting for community action is in store.

Chowan High Students Win Honors

JUDIE LEAKE JUDY EVANS

On April 26 the following from Chowan High School were contestants in the district typewriting contest held at East Carolina College. Judie Leake went as a tied top winner in the county beginning division. Judy Evans went as a second place winner in the county advanced division. The beginning county team won first place at the district contest and Judie Leake of Chowan High School first place on this team. At the awards dinner, which was held in the South Cafeteria on the East Carolina campus, Judie Leake received the following awards: For individual achievement, she received a medal for her tied first place score on the county beginning team. She accepted two banners for Chowan High School. The first banner was given for her having been on the county team with the highest score. The second banner represented her having been a member on the county team that won first place in the district. Judith Ann Evans is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin L. Evans and Judith Ann Leake is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Leake.

Hardin Comments On Cancer Crusade

they can show, in human terms, dramatic and remarkable results. Twenty-five years ago about 160,000 persons were alive, cured of cancer. Today there are more than 1,000,000 and the number is increasing each day. Even here in Edenton there are many who are alive and well after being successfully treated for cancer.

"The cure rate for cancer climbed from one out of seven in the late 1930's to one out of three in the late 1950's. Today it could be one out of two if all cancer were diagnosed early and treated promptly.

"Progress against cancer is attributed to two major factors. First, developments in research which have resulted in new diagnostic techniques and improved methods of treatment. Second, response to public and professional education which has resulted in earlier detection, prompt treatment and better, more available facilities.

"More women must be persuaded to have annual checkup—checkups which include pelvic examinations and the (pap) smear. This is a major phase of our public education program.

"This, you as individuals can do. Also it is you as individuals with your contributions to the Cancer Society which will make available the research and study necessary to eliminate this dread disease. The more we give the more we can cure. I sincerely hope this year's Cancer Crusade will be the most successful ever."

Income Tax Must Be Deposited In Bank

Employers liable for income tax withholding and social security taxes in excess of $100 for the month of May must deposit such taxes with a depository. J. E. Wall of the Internal Revenue office in Greensboro, N. C. reports. Stressing the importance of compliance with deposit deadline of May 15, 1962, J. E. Wall added that a Form 450 should be used for this purpose.

Deposits may be made in local authorized banks, or Federal Reserve Banks, said Mr. Wall.

Employers who do not have a copy of Circular E, "Employer's Tax Guide," may obtain it from any local IRS office. This publication contains a full discussion of employment taxes together with tables and percentage methods for computing such taxes.

LEGION AUXILIARY WILL ELECT OFFICERS TONIGHT

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. W. Porter. At this meeting new Auxiliary officers will be elected, so that every member is especially urged to be present.

Life's Greatest Question

By TERRY JONES

"Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." Matthew 25:34.

It has been said that life's greatest question is, "Whither do I go?" Or in everyday language, "What will happen to me after death?" I believe everyone sometime in his life faces this great question. No matter how much of an atheist he may be. Some people take this great question and fumble with it and then push it aside. Some really take this question serious and find the answer that gives them peace of mind.

It has been ? ? ? ? ? The world seems to have offered three answers to this question, "Whither do I go?" One by the poet, one by the atheist and one by the Christian. Will you take the time to analyze each one and find the logical one for you to choose?

(1) The poet's answer is life is a sleep, a dream, a shadow. Life is compared with a vapor that rises from a pipe, it appears for a while then fades away. To the poet life is but a flash of light hanging between two eternities. So the poet's answer to life's greatest question is "Whither do I go?" I go to the unknown."

(2) The atheist, the man who believes in no God offers this answer. His answer is opposite from that of the poet. The atheist knows no unknown. He thinks he understands it all.

"I go to dust," is his answer. There is no future for him after death, all is dark; life is snuffed out for all eternity. This is a poor answer.

(3) Then there is the Christian's answer. His answer explains something, it opens a doorway of light. Where does the Christian think he goes after death? "I go to my Father," in his answer. This is not a definition of death, the Christian knows no such thing as death. To him death is not a departure, it is an arrival. It is not a sleep but an awakening in the arms of Jesus. The Christian faces eternal life with God. He faces joys we can't imagine here on earth.

Which answer do you choose, dear reader? When your life closes will you leap into the arms of God or into a black eternity of loneliness? Trust Jesus to lead you into the arms of the Father.
