A LIFT FOR TODAY

Let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us.—Psalms 90:17.

Complete surrender to Christ helps us bear his likeness and he then becomes part of our lives.

Let the beauty of Jesus be seen in us, we pray, Almighty God.

Have A Good (And Healthy) Time On Vacation

Vacationland isn't a place—it's a state of mind. At least, for some people. You belong to the club if you think you really become a different person on vacation.

The freedom from your routine work and possibly a change of scenery may make you feel like a different person. And that's not bad. But your body is the same body that's been driving to work, sitting at your desk, coming home to watch television, play bridge or read a book, for the preceding 50 weeks. This is hardly Olympic training, you must admit. A vacation is a good time to play, but don't play around with your health, cautions the North Carolina Heart Association.

Too many people seem to forget that a body used to soft living doesn't suddenly change at 5 P. M. when the Friday vacation begins. After a full day's work, they bundle the family into the car and start driving a couple of hundred miles—or until they're too bleary-eyed with fatigue to see the road.

You'll enjoy your whole vacation more if you take it easy the first few days of your two-weeks-with-pay or whatever it is.

If you're planning an athletic vacation, get into shape gradually, starting months before your vacation. Begin with daily moderate exercise—maybe just brisk walking at first—then work up to more strenuous exercise. Vacation or not, moderate exercise regularly performed will help keep you and your heart in good condition.

Remember too that few family men are the athletes they were while on the high school or college varsity. Participate in sports if you're physically fit and up to the particular stresses involved. But don't try to impress your family or friends with your strength or endurance. They'll love you anyway, and probably longer. No need to climb the highest mountain, especially if the stairs in your split-level house are the only things you've climbed recently.

Plan activities that are within your physical capacity. Before you start out on any vigorous type of vacation, get a thorough physical examination and tell your doctor how you intend to spend your vacation. This is important especially if you are overweight or plan to visit high altitude areas which can put an extra strain on you even if you're in good health.

If your doctor tells you that a particular sport—say scuba diving—is out for you, plan your vacation accordingly. There are many exciting and pleasurable activities that can be substituted with no worries attached.

While you're on vacation, or at any time for that matter, pay attention to warning signals like shortness of breath, tired muscles, dizziness or fatigue. They are the body's way of telling you to slow down, take it easy.

Aside from aching muscles and joints, the threat of sunburn, poison ivy and fracture-bones, consider your heart. If after leading a fairly sedentary life for most of the year, you suddenly throw yourself into 10 or 20 straight days of strenuous physical activity, you give your heart a pretty rugged work-out. It may supply blood to all those muscles you're using perhaps for the first time in many moons.

When temperatures soar, the heart must work harder because it helps cool your body in hot weather just as it helps warm your body in cold weather. If you intend to be unusually active on your vacation, give your heart some practice beforehand. Remember your heart has to last your lifetime. And one thing's for sure: you can't go on vacation without it.

Some Chickens!

Nowadays we talk about billions almost as if they were chicken feed. The vast growth of tax collecting and tax spending is largely responsible for that airy attitude.

Next year's federal budget, for instance, will be around $92.5 billion. And one commentator has visualized its magnitude in this fashion:

Suppose you were able to authorize your wife to spend $1,000 per day, ad infinitum. It would take her 277,500 years to spend that $92.5 billion!

To come closer to earth, suppose you were a tightwad and put a meager $1 billion ceiling on her $1,000 a day spending. It would take 3,000 years for her to run through the bankroll.

If billions seem to be chicken feed, about all one can say is: Some chickens!

Driving carefully may not get you anywhere as fast as possible, but it will probably get you there safely.

The next time you get mad with somebody just ask yourself how important the quarrel will be in about ten years.

There is no excuse for the attacks upon our public school systems. Considering the lack of financial resources, the public school system has performed wonders.

Heard & Seen

By Buff

We're rather proud this week to print the pictures on the front page of two Edenton boys who have come back home to cast their lot. Dr. Polk Williams will be associated with the Chowan Medical Center as a surgeon and Dr. Richard N. Hines, Jr., will open a dentist's office about September 1 at the corner of Broad and Water Streets. That time passes very rapidly is reflected in the fact that here's one who remembers, and it does not seem so very long ago, that these two youngsters were running around and going to school in Edenton. Would that many more of our Edenton boys to return to their home town.

With the insect season in full swing, Edenton Jaycees are scheduled to sponsor an insecticide sale Friday night. The Jaycees will make a house-to-house canvass beginning about 6:30 and hope a lot of people will buy the stuff at a buck per can, thus helping the Jaycees to raise some money and at the same time getting rid of some pests around the house.

Here's not the only one who was caused to wonder about the weird noise coming off the Albemarle Sound Tuesday night. Raleigh Hollowell, too, was among many who heard the noise, and he formed the opinion that somebody might be in distress out in the water. He called the fire department and was informed that the Coast Guard had placed a fog horn on the old bell buoy out in the Albemarle Sound. The weird sound is heard about every 30 seconds and apparently carries a greater distance than the old bell which was on the buoy for many years.

Among those to renew their subscription to The Herald during the week was Mrs. Pattie B. Ross, who has been living in Miami, Florida. In part Mrs. Ross had this to say: "Dear Buff—Thank you for reminding me that my subscription was about to expire and enclosed is a check to cover same. I enjoy all the news of Edenton and surrounding countryside, both civic and personal. I enjoyed all my years spent in Edenton and have many happy memories. Edenton shall always be first with me. Funny, how people change, eh? Being born and bred in New Orleans and then living in Edenton—what a change, but I love it—the small town. There is a feeling of belonging, the closeness and knowing everyone or rather you used to know all, but things are changing. Congratulations to you and the Mrs. Many, many years of happiness to you both." Mrs. Ross left Miami last week to visit in New Orleans and at Seattle, Washington, for the World Fair. She says Pensacola will be her headquarters until Old Man Winter comes along and then she'll chase back to Miami. Her many Edenton friends who remember her illness will be happy to know that she's again able to travel so extensively.

You've heard the old saying about watching your P's & Q's which originated in England's old taverns where ale was sold by pints and quarts. If a guest became a little tipsy he was cautioned to watch his P's & Q's. The local P & Q Super Market is using the same slogan in their advertising, but it does not refer to pints and quarts of ale. "The P," says Ernest Cahayes, "means Price and the Q stands for quality." But Phthisis's Super Market, the A&P and D&M Super Market also are regular advertisers in The Herald in an effort to acquaint shoppers with the price and quality of their merchandise. Which leads to the statement that Edenton is blessed with top rate grocery stores where shoppers can get first class merchandise just as cheap as anywhere else.

And speaking of quality, Chowan is one of the smallest counties in North Carolina, but that does not in any way minimize quality. Though competing with much larger counties, Chowan's 4-H airily foods demonstration team walked off with top honors in the state contest held in Raleigh yesterday in connection with the observance of 4-H Club Week. Kay Bunch and Judy Evans represented the Chowan team, so that their parents, slow 4-H Club members, the county agents and host of friends are justly proud of the accomplishments of these two young ladies. My hat's off to 'em.

And again speaking of "quality," Louis Francis banged on my door at the house Wednesday morning. When I opened the door there stood Louis with some cantaloupes and a watermelon, delivered without any charge. I tasted the cantaloupes, which were of high quality and nethinks when I tackle the watermelon it, too, will reflect the "Q" in quality. Anyway, the cantaloupes and watermelon are as much, or even more, appreciated than some of the "baby" igars I get, for some of 'em lack the "Q" for quality. And speaking about watermelons, while at the recent state press meeting at Morehead City I bought one of the Bogue Sound watermelons, which have a reputation for being good, but, give me the Chowan County watermelons as far as my taste is concerned.

According to a recent letter received from the Wake Forest News Bureau, anybody wanting something good to eat should go see Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Layton at Wake Forest. The letter was in regard to a group of Edenton singers, headed by Joe Gatt, who attended the Baptist Choir festival held back in April. With more than 1,000 singers attending the festival, Mr. and Mrs. Layton realized that it's always a problem getting into the college cafeteria lines, so they decided to invite the Edenton group to their Faculty Drive home for lunch. Mr. Layton is a native of Edenton, the son of Mrs. H. T. Layton. He likes to cook anyway, so he got out a big pan and fried 15 chickens on one and a half hours. In the meantime Mrs. Layton prepared potato salad, string beans, cupcakes and pink lemonade. "Eating at the Layton home seemed to be a pleasant affair for all involved," wrote Russell Brantly, director of the Wake Forest News Bureau.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By G. SAMUEL COX, Work Unit Conservationist

Wallace Goodwin, Chairman, B. Warner Evans and J. C. Hall, Drainage Commissioners for the Pollock Swamp Watershed, and William Privott, Attorney for the Drainage District, met Monday afternoon, July 23, at 2 o'clock in Edenton to review and discuss the final construction plans for the watershed project. SCS Area Conservationist W. O. Lambeth, SCS Engineers L. D. Hunnings and Russ Tribou, and Work Unit Conservationist G. Samuel Cox were on hand to review the plans with them and the details. The Drainage Commissioners approved the plans with the exception of a few minor changes. As soon as the legal organization of the district is completed and the local people get their share of the money up, construction will get under way.

G. B. Potter, W. A. Bass and several other farmers in their community are planning to construct an open ditch to drain their farms. Surveys were run on this ditch in 1956. There was not enough interest in the group at that time to go ahead with the construction so they tabled their plans. Recently Mr. Potter contacted us and asked if we still had the surveys that were run on Martin Branch Group Ditch. We, of course, save all material on surveys as they may be used at a later date. To help him we had only to get this information from the file. This contained an estimate of the amount of excavation and cleaning needed to do this job. We also had a plan profile plotted of this job and knew how much fall there was and the total length of ditch needed. If your ditch has been surveyed we have the information on file and will be glad to help you revise operation to get started again to do this work. If it has not been surveyed, then contact your local Work Unit Office or the Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors and request help to plan your job. Soil Conservation Service technicians will be glad to help you with your problem whether it is already planned or needs planning.

Dodgers Hold Lead In Softball League

Skylarks and Bluejays Push Leaders In Race

The Dodgers are still leading in the local colored softball league. In a series of games played between the Dodgers and the Bluejays, the Dodgers won the series. Some of the outstanding players on the Dodgers' team are Rudy Robbins, Johnny Gregory, Sylvester Sutton, Lin Badham, Jerry Harris, Joseph Austin, James Leary and Charlie Bonds. Rudy Robbins ruled several Bluejays out of home runs. The Dodger team plays magnificent ball.

The Bluejays are struggling to get to the top. But they cannot dethrone the mighty Dodgers. Some of the outstanding players on the Bluejay team are Alvin Lewis, Earl White, James Moore, Clarence Moore, W. Reeves and Oras Blount.

The Dodgers and the Bluejays have lost very good players this season. Calvin Webster of the Bluejays moved away and Shelton Badham was injured while participating. The local boys send their best wishes and hope that his recovery will be speedy. The Angels of the girls' softball league are holding their own with eight wins and one loss behind the very good pitching of Doris Ann Gregory. The Angels won a three-game series from the Midgets. Some of the outstanding players on the Angels team are Doris Ann Gregory, Agnes Gregory, Patricia Jordan, Suzie Valentine, Jeraldine Shannonhouse and Paula Backus.

18 Go-Karts In Sunday's Racing

Continued from Page 1, Section 1 of the people were just visitors who came over to watch the individual karts," remarked Jackson Sunday after the races. Winners placing first and second, respectively, in each class were as follows: Class A—Carroll Palmer and Walter Sawyer. Class A Super—J. A. Brady and Walter Sawyer. Class C—Clarence Lane and Hunk Hollowell. Junior Class—Randy Williams and Dan Roebuck. More races will be held at the local track on Sunday afternoon, August 5. Time trials will begin at 1:30 and races at 2:30.

VEV MEETS TUESDAY
William H. Coffield, Jr., Post No. 9280, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet Tuesday night, July 31, at 8 o'clock. Commander Hallett Chason requests a large attendance.

The Rotary won two games last week and managed to open a one-game lead over their close rivals, the Masury Indians, in four days of play in Bill Harrison's tight Little League races. Ronnie Harrell improved his batting average enough to overtake Mike DeBlois for first place among the league's top hitters. Other positions in the top-ten were shuffled, but only Joe Stokley dropped off the list. He was replaced by Robert Smith. The Rotary defeated the Indians to improve their lead Tuesday of last week and maintained the advantage by stopping the Falcons Friday. The Indians rebounded in the meantime to beat the Corvairs and keep from falling farther behind the Rotary.

Rotary Leading In Little League Race

Through last week's action the Rotary led the Indians by a full game and the Corvairs by 1 1/2 contests. The Falcons were in last place. Last week's action in the Little League went as follows: Tuesday—The Rotary pulled ahead of the Indians by defeating them 8-6. Phil Lassiter got the victory over Buddy White.

Ronnie Harrell Overtakes Mike DeBlois As Top Hitter

Wednesday—The Corvairs ended a Falcon winning streak behind Harrell, 1-0, in a real thriller. Mike DeBlois hurled a two-hitter in losing, and Harrell allowed only three hits. Thursday—The Indians rebounded behind White to beat the Corvairs and Harrell, 4-1, and keep the race practically tied.

Friday—The Rotary advanced again to their one-game lead by defeating the Falcons and DeBlois, 5-3.

In the Colt League, the Cubs and Tigers split the two games that were played to keep the Cubs in first place by a full game.

The top ten hitters in the Little League through last week's action, based on 26 times at bat, were as follows:

Rinky Dinks Meet Initial Defeat Of Softball Season

Winning Streak Is Snapped By Varsity Club; Dickie Cobb Leading Hitter

The Rinky Dinks went down to defeat before the defending champion Varsity Club in softball action last week. It was the first loss for the league leaders this year.

The Varsity used 8 Rinky Dink errors, a home run by Tom Bass, and two hits each by Leo Katkavek, Zackie Harrell, and Bill Cozart to end the Rinky Dinks' winning streak at 8 games by a 14-8 score Tuesday of last week.

The winless Jaycee Cubs threw a scare into the camp of the Rinky Dinks Thursday night when they rallied for four runs in the last inning before bowing 11-10. It was the closest the Cubs have come to victory.

In other action, Harvey Point blasted the fading Tigers, 17-7, Tuesday night and turned around and lost to the surging Varsity, 16-7, Thursday night.

Action Monday of this week found the Red Men playing Harvey Point and the Varsity meeting the Tigers. Tuesday the Red Men were to be in action again with the Tigers and the Cubs against the Varsity.

Tonight (Thursday) will, barring rain, be the last night of the regular season. The Rinky Dinks will play the Tigers and the Red Men meet Harvey Point again.

The playoffs are scheduled to begin next Tuesday, July 31, with the first place team playing the fourth place squad and the second position team against the third place outfit.

A tight race has developed between the Tigers, Ren Men, and Harvey Point for fourth place in the standings and a chance at the playoffs. Only 1 1/2 games separated the third place Tigers and fifth place Harvey Point early this week.

Dickie Cobb of the Rinky Dinks moved up to take the top hitting position from George Lewis of the Varsity, who went to bat four times without a hit against the Rinky Dinks.

Leading hitters in the softball league through last week's action were as follows:

| | W | L | Pct. |
|---------------------------|---|---|------|
| Cobb (Rinky Dinks) | 8 | 1 | .889 |
