Legion Auxiliary Conducting Drive

Auxiliary to serve side by side with the American Legion for America. Members believe firmly in the free American way of life and are determined that children and grandchildren shall live in freedom, not under communism as the Soviet leaders boast.

"Day in and day out," says Mrs. Mills, "women of the Legion Auxiliary are at work to help build a stronger America and inspire more devoted patriotism. We invite the aid of all women, inviting them into the Auxiliary if they are eligible." Mrs. Mills says there are new horizons of interest, activity and friendship and that now is the time to give urgency to the work of the Legion Auxiliary. "Service, not self," is an Auxiliary motto which is expressed in action in all Auxiliary activities.

The Auxiliary has many activities, some of which are disabled veterans, promotion of children's welfare, building a better community, inspiring patriotism and teaching good citizenship, peace and security, and keeping the memory of the war dead bright by distributing memorial poppies, as well as many more.

Mrs. Mills points out that eligibility to enroll as an Auxiliary member is: Mother, wife, sister or daughter of a member of the American Legion; mother, wife, sister or daughter of a man or woman who was killed or died while serving in World War I or II or the Korean War; mother, wife, sister or daughter of a veteran of either war who has died since discharge from service, or a woman veteran of World War I or II, or the Korean War.

Mrs. Mills will be delighted to furnish anyone interested in further information by phoning 2606.

JUNIOR 4-H CLUB MEETS
Center Hill Junior 4-H Club met Monday night, October 15, at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Emmett P. Jones. Tom Bulls, president, called the meeting to order and Vickie Goodwin gave the devotion, using Scriptures from the book of Luke and Keith Jordan led in prayer.

The minutes were read and approved and the secretary called the roll with every member on roll present.

Projects and project books were discussed and everyone chose one or more projects to work on during the year.

The president appointed Cary DuBois to lead the 4-H pledge and pledge of allegiance and Rickie Goodwin to plan the devotion for next month and Sara Belch invited the club to meet with her in November.

After the program the group made Halloween favors for the hospital and enjoyed games during the social period.

Harrell Treasurer Of ECC Drama Group

Members of the East Carolina College Playhouse, campus drama organization, have organized, elected officers and announced major productions for the 1962-1963 school year.

The Playhouse begins the current season auspiciously with a new director and technical director and with extensive improvements in lighting and other physical facilities of the McGinnis auditorium, where plays are staged, either already in progress or being planned.

Among the new officers elected was Gerald Harrell, Route 3, Edenton, as treasurer.

hand for some time for most of the projects, so that very little time will be lost in sending in the application. Local officials feel that they are in excellent position to get in on the ground floor for this government assistance. The $1,126,000 improvement program, of course, includes the proposed sewage disposal plant which is estimated to cost $543,000, for which the sale of bonds has been authorized.

The other proposed projects in the program include a new municipal building, new fire station and complete storm sewerage improvement which it is hoped will solve the water problem. It will also include street paving in some areas.

Projects included under the Board of Public Works include water and sanitary sewer additions and extensions.

From reports and comment, the Indians are believed to be the powerhouse of the conference this year, so that the Aces will be more or less the underdogs. However, Coach Jerry McGee's charges have specialized in defensive play thus far and are expected to put the brakes on the Hertford ball carriers. Reed Matthews, Carl Overton and the Holmes brothers have been the principal ground gainers for the Indians, each of whom can add yardage if given a ghost of a chance.

Coaches McGee and Bill Hardison are taking the Aces through the paces this week in anticipation of meeting what may be the strongest opponents of the season.

A large crowd of Aces' supporters is expected to accompany them to Hertford.

MASS MEETING

A mass meeting will be held at Providence Baptist Church tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock. The meeting is sponsored by the SCLC.

SENATOR Sam Ervin SAYS

Morganton — This is the season when the Potomac River flowers more quietly, Capitol Hill offices begin to settle down to routine business for several months, and those who commute from Virginia and Maryland suburbs find Washington traffic moves more easily. Congress, which has inched toward adjournment for some weeks, was expected to adjourn about the time this column was being written, following action on two appropriations bills and the omnibus rivers and harbors bill.

The 87th Congress dealt with some old problems and some new ones that have arisen in the post war era. A new condition, the rise of a European Common Market, helped enact a broader trade law this session. Tariff laws have been a Congressional concern since George Washington's Administration. Also Congress laid down the ground rules for a new space satellite communications system dramatized by Telstar.

In the critical area of national security as well as in most Cold War issues, Congress gave the President solid support. It strengthened national defense and moved the U. S. space program to a high priority. It doubled our Polaris program, increased Minuteman program by 75 percent, and added five ready combat divisions to our Armed Forces. It is worthy to note, that in the last twenty months, the United States has launched 69 space vehicles into orbit. This is double the number of all previous years.

Congress voiced America's concern over Cuba and expressed support for a strong policy in that area. The Cuban Resolution adopted by Congress stated, in part, that the United States was determined "to prevent by whatever means may be necessary, including the use of arms, the Marxist-Leninist regime in Cuba from extending by force or threat of force, its aggressive or subversive activities to any part of this hemisphere."

Congress rewrote laws extending the farm program another year, allowed self-employed persons to set up tax deductible pension funds, and modified two dozen or more sections of the Internal Revenue Code under the tax revision act. Drug laws were tightened to insure safer and more effective medicines.

The Administration found its greatest support in legislation affecting the national security and encountered its greatest difficulty with legislation concerning welfare programs.

In summary, Congress labored in its longest session since 1951 to maintain the peace and at the same time, it endeavored to keep the country moving on an even keel in a troubled world.

Chowan County Commissioners were asked to request the State Highway & Public Works Commission to take over the road leading from the city limits at Beaver Hill Cemetery for about a mile through a rather thickly populated section.

What appeared to be another school controversy was settled at a meeting of the Chowan County Board of Education when the board let down the bars and allowed Rocky Hock patrons to send their children to the school of their choice, either at Chowan High School or the Rocky Hock Central School.

Complaints were made that a large number of gasoline ration books had been stolen from automobiles. The Chowan County War Price and Ration Board urged automobile drivers to carry the ration books on their person and not left in car compartments or other places where they could be picked up.

At a meeting of various organizations the Rev. W. C. Benson was elected permanent chairman of the Community Service Movement which was to provide wholesome entertainment and recreation for service people.

The Bank of Edenton announced that it would be open Saturday nights from 6 to 7:30 o'clock solely for cashing checks for workers at the Edenton base.
