

Edenton Merchants Plan For Tour On January 30 To Study Canopy Installation

Local Group Will Inspect Plan In Smithfield and Selma Business Districts

All over America, cities large and small are considering various methods to enhance the appearance, convenience and attractiveness to shoppers of their downtown business districts. Some of the larger cities have spent millions on malls, parks and underground roadways for parking facilities for vehicular traffic.

For some months the Merchants Committee of the Edenton Chamber of Commerce has been considering plans to erect a 14-foot wide all weather canopy above the entrances of stores along Broad Street. The canopies would be attractively designed, be strongly built of light weight metal and provide all weather protection for shoppers patronizing the stores between King and Queen Streets and perhaps extended as far as Water Street. Individual store fronts above the canopy would be painted in various pastel shades to further beautify the downtown business district.

A poll of merchants interested indicated that the time has arrived to visit at least one other city that has increased its popularity as a shopping center by the installation of a continuous canopy not only along their main street but also on several cross streets in the downtown district.

Therefore, the Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a trip to Smithfield and Selma, North Carolina, on Wednesday, January 30, to see an actual canopy installation, to meet and talk

'63 March Of Dimes Campaign Under Way In Chowan County

With the 1963 March of Dimes campaign now in progress, Scott Harrell, chairman of the Chowan County Chapter of the National Foundation, and David Ottaway, March of Dimes chairman, are hopeful that Chowan County will make a creditable contribution to this year's fund to fight the disease. "Give for the life of a child," they urge.

Both these young men are proud of the fact that a special treatment center in birth defects has been established at Chapel Hill. Seventy-four chapters in the state contributed to this

Acelets Given First Defeat Of Season

Boys Set Record In Scoring 76 Points Against Ahsokie

By KEN D. HOPKINS

The John A. Holmes High School Acelets had their winning streak broken at six as a group of fiery competitors from Ahsokie edged them by a score of 44-41.

It was the Acelets' worst game of the season for they could hardly do anything right, while the Ahsokie girls were doing nearly everything perfect. The main reason for the victory for the opponents was the defense they had set. This was forcing the Acelets to take unnecessary shots.

The Acelets led at half time but the Indians came back strong to pull a big upset.

20 Years Ago

As Found In The Files Of The Chowan Herald

Due to priority of materials, Chowan County Commissioners held little hope that Blount's bridge on Route 32 leading to the U. S. Marine Corps Air Station, would be widened at any time soon. A number of serious accidents occurred at the narrow bridge.

A number of automobile owners were cited to appear before the Chowan War Price and Ration Board for alleged violation of the ban upon pleasure driving. Most of the victims were rounded up in the vicinity of the Taylor Theatre.

Nominations Being Accepted For Outstanding Young Farmer

Edenton's Junior Chamber of Commerce now has under way a project to name Chowan County's most outstanding young farmer for the year 1962.

The honor will go to the young farmer who is chosen for his outstanding farming and creating better relationships between people in Edenton and the county.

The Jaycees sponsor this annual event in an effort to encourage young people to do a better job in farming and to participate in civic and religious affairs which will tend to create a better understanding between people in Edenton and

Billy L. Hardison Sent To Otis AFB

Airman Second Class Billy L. Hardison of Edenton, is being reassigned to Otis AFB, Mass., following his graduation from the United States Air Force technical training course for autopilot repairmen at Amarilla Air Force Base in Texas.

Francis Winslow Speaks At Meeting Edenton Tea Party Chapter Last Week

Francis Winslow of Rocky Mount, state chairman of the Carolina Charter Tercentenary Commission, said that the signing of the Carolina Charter is particularly significant in the Albemarle area, as it was here that government based on English Common law began.

He addressed a luncheon meeting of the Edenton Tea Party Chapter, DAR, here Wednesday last week, which members of the Charter Commission in District I attended as well as other guests.

"The charter signed March 24, 1663, by King Charles II is," he said, "an indispensable link in the chain of records beginning with the Magna Carta that establishes and preserves our political liberties to the present."

"Under the terms of the grant the eight Lords Proprietors became the owners of a vast area extending from Virginia to Florida and from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean."

He told how the Carolina Charter, owned by the State of North Carolina, is being preserved.

April will be designated as Albemarle Month; Various Events Planned

Representatives from all counties in the Albemarle area will meet in the Agriculture Building at the Court House in Elizabeth City Monday night, January 21, to map plans for the area observance of the state's 300th birthday. The meeting is called by L. S. Blades, Jr., Albemarle District chairman of commemorative events for the Carolina Charter Tercentenary Commission.

A Correction

An error appeared in the advertisement of Leary Oil Company, currently appearing in The Herald. The signature appeared as Lewis Oil Company when the proper signature should be Leary Oil Company. The error is very much regretted.

St. Paul's Elects New Vestrymen

Group Is Commended For Contribution Of Talent

James M. Johnston, Wilmer E. Malone, Mrs. Gertrude Rosevear, and Thomas H. Shepard were elected to the Vestry of Saint Paul's Episcopal Church in Edenton at the annual congregational meeting held Wednesday, January 9.

Retiring from the Vestry following a three-year term are Dr. Edward G. Bond, R. Elton Forehand, Jr., Charles H. Wood, Jr., and Thomas B. Wood.

Oscar E. Duncan was presented the Episcopal Medal in recognition of long service in the Senior Choir. Other members mentioned for their service and generous contribution of talent to the music of the church were Mr. and Mrs. George Mack, Mrs. Mary Coffield, Mrs. Mildred Elliott, Mrs. W. S. Harney, Mrs. Myrtle Leary, Mrs. Vol Patterson and Mrs. Leila Wood.

The well-attended meeting also heard reports from the Young Churchmen, Churchwomen, Building Fund Chairman, Every Member Canvass Chairman, and Treasurer. The budget was adopted with discussion and three changes as recommended by the vestry.

The rector, the Rev. George B. Holmes, reminded the congregation of past blessings, commended them for a "great year" and the spirit in which the parish served the needs of individuals, the community, and church at large.

Warren Re-elected Senior Warren At St. Paul's Church

The organizational meeting of the Vestry of Saint Paul's Episcopal Church was held Sunday and David M. Warren was re-elected Senior Warden.

The following appointments were made by the rector, the Rev. George B. Holmes:

Hog Market Show And Sale In Hertford Wednesday, March 6

The first Hog Market Show and Sale to be held in the Albemarle area will be held in Hertford on Wednesday, March 6. This show is open to adults, 4-H and FFA boys and girls in the 10 counties making up the Albemarle Area Development Association.

The hogs to be entered in the show should be either harrors or gilts, weighing between 180 and 230 pounds and grading either No. 1 or No. 2. Hogs that are too little or too heavy, or in the No. 3 grade will not be accepted for the show.

Hogs have been and are continuing to be the major producer of income in most of the Albemarle counties, and by having a market hog show, should be of educational value to all farmers by showing them what types of hogs are most desirable for the market.

To assist in illustrating, John

Tour Is Conducted By Robert Dannenbaum Who Explains Over-all Plans

Friday afternoon a group of over 20 of Edenton and Chowan County's leading business, civic and government leaders attended a very informative meeting at Cape Colony, a portion of the former Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

Host for the meeting and subsequent tour were United Properties, Inc., and United States Lumber Company. The group gathered in the office of Robert Dannenbaum, general manager, where, amidst a number of charts, aerial photographs and architect's drawings, a thorough briefing was held to inform the officials of the overall plans of the organization.

It was brought out by the master plan calls for subdivision of the property, in excess of 800 acres, into residential lots numbering in excess of 7,100. The first street, Colony Drive, will be opened to the public this week-end for inspection and purchase of individual home sites, and it was pointed out that some lucky families will get either a free lot or a free deluxe kitchen.

As an adjunct to the development of Cape Colony, the owners are considering a major recreational facility. While plans are not definite on the subject at the moment, there have been discussions centering around tennis courts, riding stables, use of the existing swimming pool, a convention hall, a yacht basin for interstate boaters, a motel and restaurant, vacation cottages, etc.

A marketing area of some 50 million people would be the potential patrons of the resort, with emphasis not only on the summer tourists but on the family who drives, flies or boats its way to Florida and back for the winter who would like to stop over and stretch its legs for a few days at the relaxing and interesting Cape Colony.
