During Week In the Leaders For Classifications For Adults

Nine worthwhile prizes of nationally advertised fishing tackle await the winners of the fifth annual Spring Fishing Contest sponsored by the Edenton Chamber of Commerce and yet as of today there are no takers in the classifications of rock fish and bream. Oh where are the ardent fishermen of yesterday? The fishing contest open to youngsters under 16 that is currently running through the month of June has uncovered no contestants. Perhaps the publicity has been too sparse although several weekly news refrom the to believe that some of the finest recreational facilities in the state are of such disinterest to our young people. Once upon a time youngsters would play old swimming hole or to get a cane pole and go to the creel fishing. Now school is out and there is no needy to play hooky. It is hard to believe that there are no modern Huck Finns or

Tom Sawyers. Current title holders in the senior fishing contest are Murpersons expected to be trained in the largemouth bass classification whose entry weighed 81/2 pounds. In the speckled perch classification the present title holder is Gerald Lassiter, who is on record with a crappie weighing 134 pounds and Walter Adams with a 34 pound white perch. The field is still wide open in two classifications, that of rock fish and bream.

In the junior division there have been no entries in any of the classifications. Both the senior and junior fishing contest run through June 30.

Weighing stations for all con estants are Bunch's Gulf Service, Bridge Turn Service Stution, Byrum Hardware Co., Harrell's Marina and Hughes-Parker Hardware Company. Free contest blanks will be found at all these stations.
