

12 Negroes Assigned To Enroll In White Schools Beginning Of Next Term

10 Scheduled to Enter High School and Two In White Elementary School

At a meeting of the Board of Education of the Edenton City Schools, held Thursday of last week, action was taken on the assignment of 12 colored children. The assignment calls for 10 Negro students to transfer from the D. F. Walker High School to John A. Holmes High School and two to the Edenton Elementary School.

Members of the board held an informal conference with parents who had submitted application for pupil assignment.

In June Negro parents presented reassignment forms to the school board, but they were advised that the forms were for the county administrative unit. They were, therefore, given until July 8 to present their request on the proper forms. The proper forms were subsequently filled out, after which the school board approved the change in pupil assignment for the school year 1963-64.

At Thursday's meeting the board also employed Daniel Jones III, to teach English at the D. F. Walker High School for the 1963-64 year.

Wool Producers Receive Checks

According to the local ASCS office, wool payments in the amount of $177.45 have been mailed to 12 eligible producers in Chowan County.

These payments are for shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed from April 1, 1962 through March 31, 1963. The shorn wool payments amount to thirty percent of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool. This is the incentive required to bring the average price of wool to 47.7 cents per pound up to the previously announced incentive level of 62 cents per pound.

The payment rate on unshorn lambs is 57 cents per hundredweight to compensate for wool on them.

July 21-27 Is Being Observed National Farm Safety Week

President John Kennedy Calls Upon All Americans to Cooperate

President John F. Kennedy has proclaimed the week beginning July 21 as National Farm Safety Week. He calls upon all Americans to observe this week and its theme, "Inspection Plus Correction Equals Protection."

People and organizations working with agriculture are especially urged to join in the united effort to reduce the number of farm, home and highway accidents.

National Farm Safety Week is co-sponsored by the Department of Agriculture and the National Safety Council. They work in cooperation with the State Cooperative Extension Services, farm organizations, the farm press, radio, television and other groups.

Slow moving vehicles, hidden farm access roads, blind intersections, inadequate signs and markings are some of the more common rural road hazards. Always be on the lookout for them constantly.

What can you or your group do? (1) Find out exactly what your local accident situation is. (2) Learn what traffic safety work is now being done and by whom.

88 More Volunteers Needed For Peace Corps In India, Pakistan

India and Pakistan have asked the Peace Corps for 88 more volunteers trained in agricultural skills, County Agent C. W. Overman has announced.

Training will begin next September for 30 poultry specialists and 25 dairy husbandmen requested by India and for 22 agricultural extension workers, six farm mechanics and five vocational agriculture teachers to work in Pakistan, Overman said.

The Peace Corps already has 160 volunteers on the job in India and 205 in Pakistan. The call for additional workers reflects the need for trained agriculture personnel to help increase food and fiber production in these and many other developing nations, Mr. Overman points out.

The Indian request for more poultry specialists grew out of a pilot program started by four Peace Corps volunteers who developed a new, cheap feed from easily accessible local materials, upgraded the stock, wrote a handbook on poultry management in the Punjabi language and streamlined processing and marketing procedures. So successful was their program that the Indian government now plans, with Peace Corps help, to launch similar projects in other parts of the nation.

In addition to the poultry projects, volunteers skilled in dairy

Twins Cause Excitement

Twins have been born at Chowan Hospital on numerous occasions, but none caused as much excitement among the hospital personnel as the twins, pictured above, born to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Harrison, a boy and girl, Robert Williams and Constance Gray. Mr. Harrison is laboratory technician at the hospital. Although there are twins in their family, it certainly was a surprise that it happened to them. The twins are the first-born to Mr. and Mrs. Harrison. Mr. Harrison was especially excited and made numerous phone calls to members of the staff who were still in bed at 8 A. M. when the twins were born. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison are natives of Kinston, N. C. (Ricks Photo).

Chamber Of Commerce Joining In Seeking Contest Participants

The Edenton Chamber of Commerce is on a manhunt that may bring the city $10,000 for local civic use before the year's end. That unusual piece of news is announced by Chamber of Commerce President George A. Byrum, who explained that his group has been given the opportunity to represent Edenton in a nation-wide search for professional authorities in various subjects.

The professionals are needed for the new ABC-TV quiz show, "100 Grand", to face amateur experts who have to win a series of such encounters in order to qualify for a $100,000 prize. If Edenton's professional stumps the amateur, Edenton's citizens will enjoy a new civic improvement worth $10,000.

Mr. Byrum stated that the search here is already under way for professional authorities in such subjects as baseball, opera, the Civil War, the Bible, Abraham Lincoln, World War I, talking pictures and silent movies.

To insure the maximum security for the program, the results of the search will be kept in the utmost secrecy, thereby complying with one of the show's conditions; the professional authority's identity will be known only to the selection committee of the Chamber of Commerce until shortly before show time.

Edenton Receives Publicity In New Telephone Booklet

Sometimes it is good public relations to register a complaint, George A. Byrum, president of the Edenton Chamber of Commerce stated this week after receipt of a letter from P. J. Long, public relations manager of the Carolina Telephone & Telegraph Company with headquarters in Tarboro, N. C.

"A year ago," Byrum said, "the Carolina Telephone & Telegraph Company published a very fine little booklet entitled 'Welcome to Historic Eastern North Carolina.'" On the two center pages of the booklet was a map of eastern North Carolina but it failed to include Edenton on the map or anywhere in its pictures and text of historic eastern North Carolina.

"Of course," Byrum said, "this was altogether a natural omission because the Carolina Telephone does not serve this area and the phone & Telegraph Company booklet was designed to promote tourist interest in Carolina."
