John A. Taylor Devoting Time to Science And Collecting Coins And Medals

A comparatively recent newcomer to Edenton is John A. Taylor, who lives on the Windsor highway near Edenton. Mr. Taylor, a very friendly and congenial person, is a numismatist—that is an authority in the science of coins, tokens, medals and objects closely resembling them in form and he has passed on his knowledge to many friends. In June he retired from the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company of New York and later decided to move to Edenton.

Seventeen years ago a friend of Mr. Taylor's presented him with a number of large silver pieces commonly known as "crowns." That ignited the interest and soon Mr. Taylor was specializing in collecting American, British and Canadian coins. From then it was but a hop, skip and a jump to studying the volumes written on coins, attending classes and making a point of meeting well-known dealers and collectors at some 20 conventions throughout the country each year. But the effort paid off, for soon Mr. Taylor could evaluate a coin without referring to the volumes—and nine times out of ten his appraisal would be right on the nose.

"Perfection in collecting coins is worth more than numbers", says Mr. Taylor. "Once you have decided upon a specific set of coins, you can constantly improve Continued on Page 3, Section 1

County-wide Swine Meeting At Chowan Community Building Friday Afternoon At 2 O'clock

A county swine meeting will be held at the Chowan Community Building on Friday afternoon of this week, February 14, at 2 o'clock. All hog growers, dealers, and all others who are interested in swine are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

"I realize that the general attitude is that hogs are too cheap and there isn't any profit in hogs," says County Agent C. W. Overman. "It is true that there isn't as much profit in hogs at 15 1/2 cents per pound as there is in hogs at 17 or 18 cents per pound, provided feed cost is relatively the same. On the other hand, the man who studies the situation and employs efficient production practices is finding even 15 cent hogs to be profitable. "A few years ago it was taking about 7 pounds or more of feed to produce a pound of turkey and today we have a turkey producer in Chowan County whose actual record shows that he is producing turkeys for a little less than 3 1/2 pounds of feed per pound of gain. A few years ago it took 5 to 6 pounds of feed to put a pound of gain on broilers and fryers and today good producers are putting a pound of gain on for approximately 2 1/2 pounds of feed. Efficient hog producers are putting a pound of gain on hogs for Continued on Page 3, Section 1
