A LIFT FOR TODAY

Awake to righteousness, and sin not.—I Cor. 15:34.

A good man is influenced by God himself, and has a kind of divinity within him; so it may be a question whether he goes to heaven or heaven comes to him.—Seneca.

Our Father, give to the world a new vision of the uplifted Christ, dying on the cross for our sins that we might find peace and salvation.

Girl Scout Week

This year Girl Scout Week will be observed from March 8-14. Completing 52 years of service the Girl Scout organization continues to move ahead to meet the changing needs of today's youngsters.

Girl Scout troops across the nation last year were organized in four new age levels instead of the former three. Girls begin their Scouting experience at age 7 in the Brownies and progress through the Juniors, Cadettes and finally the Seniors for girls 15 through 17.

From their earliest days in Brownies, a feeling of being needed is fostered in the young members and the theme behind Scouting is brought alive in terms of day to day activities and experiences—the disposition to try and the desire to be a worthwhile and useful person of service to others. Senior Girl Scouts are encouraged to enlarge their field of interest to merge with the adult world. Pursuing their goal of giving service, they may enter aid projects in cooperation with libraries, hospitals, museums and other institutions.

The responsibility of keeping Girl Scouting alive and vital falls on the volunteer troop leaders and local Scouting organization in communities across the country. The Girl Scouts of America deserve every recognition.

Moderation And You

In all the commotion caused by the recent tobacco report, many lose sight of equally hazardous habits practiced by many Americans.

Notably, these could include a never-ending list such as too much sugar, causing comas for diabetics, or over-eating, which triggers so much heart disease.

And it looks as if the government may have something to say about birth control pills in the future and other drugs, some of which are too new to have been fully tested. There are habitual coffee drinkers who swig ten or more cups a day. There are those who think they can constantly imbibe alcoholic beverages.

The general rule, with tobacco as well as most other things, is not to indulge excessively. Moderation can save your life in many ways.

We'll Take Ours Straight

It has been estimated that Americans suffer about half a billion colds a year, which makes for a lot of sneezing. And in the search for relief we certainly must consume millions of pills, tablets and liquids than the French eat snails.

At this time of year we open our mail almost eagerly, hoping to find an announcement that medical science has at last discovered a cure for the common cold. But such an accomplishment, it appears, is still beyond the horizon.

Meantime, we must continue seeking our cold relief wherever we can find it. Almost everybody has his pet remedy, as you can easily find out by sneezing twice. Most of these are nonsense... but no self-respecting editor would dare single out any one in particular.

We read recently that the common cold causes more economic loss in this country (in lost wages, production, etc.) than any other ailment. Something like $5 billion. Some of this goes for the tons of pills, according to a medical publication. We've always been big on straight aspirin to treat our aches and pains, but in recent years various combination products, including buffered aspirin, have come on the scene. According to this article buffered aspirin is no more than plain aspirin with a pinch or two of antacid salts... yet it will sell for almost twice as much as top quality plain aspirin.

We'll take our aspirin straight and save the difference.

Maybe it takes an intelligent farmer to appreciate the value of soil conservation!

Newspapers and their readers will reach a million as about the same time.

Heard & Seen By Buff

It makes fathers and mothers very happy and proud when their sons and daughters go away and make good. It does also a lot of good, too, for others to see young men who, it seems as only yesterday, were little codgers trudging off to school and taking part in athletics at school and other local activities. Such was the case Tuesday night when Leary Bros. Storage Company staged a Smith-Douglass barbecue dinner which was attended by a large group, mostly farmers. The principal speaker was J. Clarence Leary, Jr., who holds a very responsible position with Smith-Douglass Fertilizer Company. Young Leary very ably spoke about farm income and way of increasing it, with a lot of very valuable information at his finger-tips. In fact his address seemed sort of akin to the lecture: some of us have heard of Chautauqua programs years ago. Papa and Mama Leary were proud of him and add yours truly a another. Then, too, the Center Hill-Cros-Roads firemen again prepared barbecue chicken which was just as good as young Leary's address.

Town Councilmen will not eat ice cream—for free—at least next Tuesday night. And that's on account of Mayor John A. Mitchner being out of town that night and thus postponing the meeting of Town Council from Tuesday night, March 10 to Tuesday night, March 17. But the Mayor might not save much, for it gives the Councilmen another full week to work up an appetite for ice cream.

The Methodist Men's Club will sponsor another pickled herring breakfast at the church Saturday morning, March 7, from 7 to 9 o'clock. Quite a few have attended these breakfasts on account of they like pickled herring and for a much better reason that a lot of women refuse to cook 'em at home. Anyway, the boys will have 'em ready and are hopeful that they will also be able to serve herring roe.

The "Beatles" will "invade" Edenton Saturday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. A group of young fellows will present their version of the English Beatles at the Belk-Tyler store for about a 30-minute program. They will perform on the main floor and the public is cordially invited to hear 'em. The group has appeared in a number of Eastern North Carolina towns, where they have been enthusiastically received. They call themselves "The Four Kings".

There was a lot of shaking hands at the Court House Wednesday morning when Judge Richardson Preyer, Democratic candidate for Governor, spoke to a large group of supporters. Mr. Preyer stood at the door and shook hands with everyone who left the building.

And talking about shaking hands, it's nothing new for W. F. Sessoms, highway engineer. Mr. Sessoms usually turns up at the meetings of the County Commissioners and every time he goes around the table to shake hands with everyone present. He should be in good hope if he ever decides to run for office. However, his principal reason for attending the meetings is to see if he can do anything about any road problems, and he naturally likes to be friendly.

With the weather warming up a bit, apparently the fish feel more like biting, but fishing presents problems sometimes. For instance, the Missus and I tried our luck for a while Saturday afternoon and she landed 13 fish, while all I could catch totaled two. Billy Hardison can attest to the truth of that statement, for Billy, fishing nearby, was able to catch only one and was coached by the Missus to do that. What can a fellow do in such a case—especially when I've told her at times that she doesn't fish right?

Mrs. J. D. Elliott, Chowan County's new accountant, attended the County Commissioners' meeting Monday morning and was introduced to those who did not know her Chairman W. E. Bond did not attend the meeting because he was vacationing in Florida. Of course, he knows Mrs. Elliott, but she may not recognize him when he returns with a suntan—top of head and all.

It's interesting news to note that Southern Properties, Inc., purchasers of Bandon Plantation, have offered to give the old and historic Parson Earle Schoolhouse to the Edenton Tea Party Chapter of the DAR. Of course, the DAR will have to pay for the moving of this historic landmark to the Iredell property. However, with so much emphasis and value placed on historical sites, Edenton can hardly afford not to help in raising what money is necessary to move the building.

Officers Elected For Eastern Star

Open Installation Will Be Held Friday, March 27

Edenton Chapter No. 302, Order of the Eastern Star, elected officers for the new year at a meeting of the chapter Monday night.

Mrs. Grace Byrum was elected matron to succeed Mrs. Clara Boswell.

Other officers elected were Daniel Reaves, worthy patron; Mrs. Catherine Skiles, associate matron; J. N. Oglesby, associate patron; Mrs. Ruth Overman, secretary; Mrs. Mary Leary, treasurer; Miss Frances Marshbourne, conductress and Mrs. Kate Bufflap, associate conductress.

Mrs. Byrum announced her appointments as follows: Chaplain, R. A. Tarkington; marshal, C. W. Overman; organist, Mrs. Carolina Swindell; Adah, Mrs. Maude Reaves; Ruth, Mrs. Helen Wood; Esther, Mrs. Anita Tarkington; Martha, Mrs. Pearl Harrell; Electa, Mrs. Ethel Haskett; Yarder, Mrs. Blanche Moore, and sentinel, W. M. Wilkins.

Mrs. Byrum announced that an open installation of officers will be held Friday night, March 27, at 8 o'clock, at which relatives and friends will be cordially invited to attend.

Complaint Made Regarding Road

Mrs. Glenn Hobbs made a stirring plea to the County Commissioners Monday morning for some relief in connection with a road leading from Paradise Road to the H. T. Hobbs home. Mrs. Hobbs pointed out that the road is impassable due to work done on the Pollock Swamp watershed project and that considerable hardships have been caused due to the condition of the road.

The Commissioners agreed to do whatever they could to provide some relief.

WCSA MEETS

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met Tuesday night at the church, with Mrs. Marion Downum presiding. Mrs. Julia Hassell gave a most interesting program, after which a business period was conducted. Members were reminded to advertise the chicken salad supper to be held Thursday, March 12.

BAND MEETING

Edenton's Band Parents Association will meet Monday night, March 9, at 7:30 o'clock in the band room. Herbert Hollowell, president, urges every member to be present at this meeting.

New Books At Local Library

The Shepard-Pruden Memorial Library acquired several new books this last week, including the following:

A Fine Madness by Elliott Baker, the new Putnam award novel.

Mister Abbott, the autobiography of George Abbott, actor, director and producer of Broadway hits.

The Quiet Crisis by Stewart L. Udall. This book deals with the quiet conservation crisis of the 1960's. It is about America today poised on a pinnacle of wealth and power, yet a land of increasing ugliness, of shrinking open space, and of an overall environment that is diminished daily by pollution and noise and blight.

During January and February the library had 26 new adult members and seventeen new juvenile members. We welcome them and hope that more will come and use the growing advantages of the library. Your child will be glad he has visited the library with his parents before he enters school, and his teacher will be glad when he can sign his own name and become a member. The young child who has been read to has a better vocabulary when he enters school.

Mrs. Rowell Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Eleanor Pike Rowell, 75, died at her home on West Gale Street Friday morning at 7 o'clock after an illness of nine months. She was a native of Pendleton, S. C., and widow of N. K. Rowell, Chowan County's first farm agent. Mrs. Rowell was a past state program chairman for the national DAR and member of the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Paul's Church.

A daughter, Miss Audrey Rowell, is the only survivor.

A graveside service was held in Beaver Hill Cemetery Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. George B. Holmes officiated.

Pallbearers were Keith Reeve, J. P. Partin, James E. Wood, Elton Forhand, Hector Lupton and Kenneth Floors.

LIONS MEET MONDAY

Edenton Lions Club will hold its weekly meeting Monday night, March 9, at 7 o'clock at the Edenton Restaurant. Dr. A. F. Downum, president, urges a 100 per cent meeting.

Mrs. Pattie Fayton At Civic Institute

Mrs. Pattie Fayton, chairman of the Young Men and Women Club Program Committee, was among the 48 persons from 13 states and the District of Columbia to attend the Civic Leadership Institute for Young Adults. The Institute was held at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D. C., from February 23-29.

The unique program combined challenging speeches and group work with visits to important places in the Nation's Capital. The Institute was conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation with the Cooperative Extension Service. Groups represented included Rural Young People Organizations, Farm Bureau Young People, Farmers Union, The Grange and the Girl Scouts. Other states represented besides North Carolina were: The District of Columbia, Illinois, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

During the week-long program the delegation listened to Representative Fred Schwengel of Iowa, Charles T. Vetter of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and W. W. Eure, Charles Freeman and Theodore Hatcher of the 4-H Foundation.

A very detailed report was given by Mrs. Fayton at the YMW Club meeting on Monday night. She will also share her information and experiences with other county groups and YMW clubs organized in surrounding counties.

Preyer Speaks To Chowan Citizens

present. "We need women in politics," he said, "for the qualities they bring." He said North Carolina is a great state but that we can do even better in way of lifting income and raising the standard of living without paying too great a price. He commented upon school dropouts and that education is the moving force in progress. "The price of education is cheaper than ignorance," he said. He pointed out that many young people go out of the state for a livelihood and that every town should be a town where young people will want to come back to.

The speaker emphasized the importance of tourism and history. "Edenton has what appeals to tourists," he said as he referred to some of the historical shrines. He pointed out that tourism is the third largest business and that every effort should be made to take advantage of it.

Mr. Preyer said he was solidly back of making U. S. 17 a four-lane highway from the Virginia to South Carolina lines, and that this project should begin immediately. He said it is estimated that 200 cars per hour now use U. S. 17 and that with the opening of the Chesapeake Bay bridge-tunnel this number is expected to soar to 500 cars per hour and better. He said the four-laning is 275 miles long and will cost 150 million dollars. He said the project could be completed without increasing taxes. He pointed out that the Kerr Scott road bond issue will be paid off in 1965 or 1966, five years ahead of schedule and that the source of these funds could be used to make U. S. 17 a four-lane highway. "It is time to move on," he said. He also said more work should be done on secondary roads, pointing out that 800,000 people in the state still live on unpaved roads.

Mr. Preyer also said help is needed for industrial development and complimented Edenton for its industrial park and efforts to secure new industry. He commented upon lifting income from agriculture, research to increase income from fishing, food processing and sport fishing. As to commercial fishing, he said at present small fishermen have practically no voice in policy making, and if elected this would be changed.

"We need hope, will and courage to tackle our problems," he said in closing.

Following his address Mr.

Preyer met and shook hands at the Court House door as the guests left.

lars for Development" campaign in District Eight.

The letters ask from ECC alumni in Bertie, Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Gates, Hertford, Pasquotank and Perquimans counties gifts for overall development at the Greenville school, third largest in North Carolina.

Chairman of the drive in District Eight is Hiram J. Mayo, superintendent of the Edenton schools. He is District Eight's member of the Alumni Association board of directors.

Gifts through the Alumni Association's two-year-old program of annual giving go into a division of the East Carolina Educational Foundation, incorporated in 1947. Contributions are deductible for tax purposes.

County Council Meets March 11

"Interior Decorating" will be the topic of the demonstration to be given by Miss Charlotte Womble, housing and house furnishings specialist, Raleigh, at the March Home Demonstration County Council meeting.

The County Council meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon, March 11, at 2 o'clock in the ballroom of the Joseph Hewes Hotel.

Enterprise Home Demonstration Club will be hostess.
