CENTER HILL CLUB MEETS

Center Hill Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday night, April 21, at 8 o'clock at the Community Building with Mrs. Carlton Goodwin as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. C. Boyce, who presented the devotion.

Miss Pauline Calloway, county home agent, gave the demonstration on how to mat and frame pictures, using samples of mats properly and improperly cut, colors in mats to bring out the color in prints and showing sample frames as to width, color and different finishes, all of which was very interesting and informative.

Announcements were made of the music festival at Chowan High School May 3rd and of the Commissioners' luncheon May 4, at Advancing Community Building. Meeting was adjourned with the Club Collect and refreshments served.

This Is The Life

By DONALD R. THOMAS

Do you take your marriage vows seriously? When the preacher says in sickness, in health, in joy and sorrow, richer or poorer, until death do you part, do you really mean it or are they just words to you? Marriage shouldn't be taken lightly because it is from God and is as old as the family of man. It's a 50-50 basis and the wife will suffer also if a man makes a mistake. Man should be the breadwinner and the wife should take care of the home and children. Men, love your wife and help them... Your work is from sun to sun, but their work is never done. The home should recognize Christ as the head of the home. In all problems that arise, God should be called upon and His will followed. Train the children in the way of faith, love, truth and obedience and God will save the home. Trust, love and obey Christ who is the saviour of the home. The family which prays together, stays together.

The Bible says: "Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular, so love his wife even as himself, and the wife see that she reverence her husband." —Ephesians 5:33.

Make Church - Going a Habit

Sunday School Lesson

CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES IN DAILY WORK International Sunday School Lesson for May 3, 1964.

Memory Selection: "Whatever your task, work heartily, as serving the Lord, and not men." (Colossians 3:23).

Lesson Text: Luke 12:13-34; 16:1-13; I Thessalonians 4:9-12.

In our studies for today we must try to face the fact that people—and not material possessions—are of primary importance. And we must also face the fact that today, as in Biblical times, this fundamental fact was often buried under an over-active concern for self... man's instinct for survival being of primary importance in Nature's scheme of things.

In Jesus' time on earth, life in Palestine was a thing of simplicity personified... vastly removed from the complicated and organized social order of our world of today. The problem of earning a living, then, was one of the utmost importance. And Jesus, being a realist, knew that this would continue to be important to mankind wherever and whenever they might live.

His teachings, therefore, have relevance today, because the scope of his vision was not limited merely to the times in which he lived; his far-seeing mind encompassed generation after generation to come. Therefore, the eternal principles which he taught, serve us equally well today, as they served our forefathers in the past—as they will serve the yet unborn generations to come.

Today we see that as Jesus was teaching, one of the crowd around him interrupted, requesting that he settle a dispute about

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive.

"Don't forget Tippy's treat!" Even if we're a bit late leaving for church, Susan and Mark must take their paper bag of surprises for Tippy the squirrel. Tippy lives in the park beside the church, and he's one of many happy, heart-warming things that our family looks forward to on Sundays.

We are rearing our children in the Christian faith because we know from our own experience how much it means to young people growing up. Without a right sense of values, youngsters are so likely to get into trouble.

Already Susan and Mark are learning to trust in the loving protection of God, and to turn to Him with their little problems. Through the stories of Jesus they are beginning to understand what it means to follow Him. We pray that this childhood pattern will strengthen and form a steadfast foundation for the whole of their lives. No parents could ask for more.
