By KATE

According to several articles which I have read lately, the magic age for a woman is 23. Then she has one chance in five to be married soon, where in about ten years her chances will drop to about seven in 100. These figures are cold statistics, gathered from the number of letters written to counselors in newspapers. At 40 the odds are four to one and at 50 they are around 15 to one. The ages 15 and 45 are the critical ages. At 15 she begins to worry about whether she will get a husband and at 45 she worries about losing her looks and her husband. I haven't read about the worrisome ages for men, but I'm told they worry about their bald heads and their paunchy tummies. I wonder if they worry about losing their wives.

HOME—the best loved place for anyone. The home of our childhood days and the homes which we leave eventually. Then the homes which we make for our own families. The dictionary says that the definition of home is a dwelling place, but I don't agree with Mr. Webster. Home is where love and peace are synonymous. We just returned from a visit to my home in Maryland, where we were happy to be with my parents and family, but it was just wonderful to return to Edenton and home here. Right here is the most beautiful spot in the world.

Last week I gave a recipe for Hot Milk Cake, sent by Mrs. Will Harrell. Don't know why, but the amount of flour was omitted—which was two cups. 'Scuse me, please!

I read recently where some company is designing and selling a waterproof wig for a bathing cap, which is attractive enough to be worn all day at the beach. The Insider's Newsletter informs us that there is a new milk going on the market called Plant Milk. It is made directly from vegetable matter, but looks and tastes like milk. Which brings to mind that there is a strike on by the food chain store employees, especially in the state of Maryland. One thing good about it, it helps the independent grocer.

DO YOU KNOW—
Potatoes can be baked by wrapping them in aluminum foil and lay them on a top burner of the stove at a low heat.
To remove grass stain from clothes, work from the wrong side of the fabric, push the stain out, not in.

Put a couple drops of lemon juice on your shoes when polishing them and they will be more shiny.

Fashionable footprints will be made from shoes with round toes, according to fashion experts. The pointed toed shoe will "take a long walk."

Ever hear of potato candy? Try this: Boil several white potatoes and mash thoroughly. Add enough pulverized sugar to make very sweet. Roll out this mixture and spread with peanut butter. Then roll as for a jelly roll and slice. VERY GOOD!

Superstition: In the morning put your right sock on first to keep from quarrelling during the day.

Pete Dail Installed Jaycee President

Officers were installed by the Jaycee state administrative national director, Marvin Wilson, who was guest speaker. Mr. Wilson made a very enjoyable address, and it was very nice to have him as guest speaker inasmuch as he is a former Edentonian who is well known in the state for his Jaycee activities.

Jack Evans received the Key Man Award, which was presented by the outgoing president, Jack Habit. Jack did an outstanding job this past year as chairman of several activities.

The Spoke Award was presented to Ed Taylor, LaDell Parker, Richard Pate and Charles Stillwell for their outstanding work as Jaycees during their first year in the club.

The Spark Plug Award was presented to Nathan Owens and Caswell Edmundson for the third year. Jack Habit, Pete Dail, James Perry, Britton Byrum for the second year, and receiving the Spark Plug award for the first year were Larry Knox, Clyde Williams and Oscar White. District Vice President Merritt Hooper presented the past year's officers their pins.

Travel Counselors Pleased With Visit

Continued from Page 1, Section 1 merce President West W. Byrum, who was host for the group and was the M. C. at the Edenton Restaurant luncheon following the tour.

The tour was set up by the Carolina Motor Club with headquarters in Charlotte, and was the 16th travel counselors tour which is designed to promote travel in North Carolina. The travel industry in North Carolina is approaching the one billion dollar a year mark and is the third largest industry in the state.

Mayor John Mitchener gave the group an official welcome at the luncheon and John Elliott of the Carolina Motor Club made the response.

Davis said, "Historic Edenton will be the subject of thousands of words in newspapers and magazines within the next several months that will be written by the AAA travel counselors who hail from 17 eastern states. In my opinion the group was as impressed with the beauty and history that is Edenton's as any other city during the 5-day tour."
