

Edenton Negro Charged With Murder Of His Wife, Mother Of Nine Children

William Leroy Tyner Confined In Chowan County Jail Without Bond

William Leroy Tyner, 41-year-old Edenton Negro, is confined in the Chowan County jail without bond. Tyner is charged with the murder of his wife, Juanita McCleave Tyner, 40, and mother of nine children.

According to Edenton police, Tyner, a local construction worker, surrendered, saying that he admitted having a fight with his wife. He was believed to have been drinking and it was hinted that the fight developed over another woman.

According to the police, the body of the dead woman was found sprawled across a bed in the back room of the home of the victim's mother on North Granville Street, about 8 o'clock Sunday night. The woman was nude from the waist down and had been severely beaten.

Coroner Carroll A. Boyce in his examination stated that the time of death was about 8:20 o'clock Sunday night and that a crushed skull apparently was the cause of death.

In Recorder's Court Tuesday morning Tyner waived preliminary hearing and is scheduled to be tried in the September term of Superior Court on a charge of murder. He is in jail without bond.

Plymouth Water Festival July 25th

Outstanding Program Arranged For Annual Affair

Plymouth Jaycees will hold their eighth annual water festival Saturday, July 25. It will begin at 10 A. M., and continue throughout the entire day.

The boat parade is planned around the theme "America Changing Times," with a lovely girl on each boat. In this event the queen will be chosen and crowned by Betty Jane Cox, queen of 1963.

Other events to be highlighted will be a ski show, dunking machine and family runabout boat racing. A big dance will climax the day's activities. The dance will be held at the Moose Lodge beginning at 9 P. M., with music furnished by the "Playboys" of Roanoke Rapids.

The traditional barbecue dinner will be served at noon. According to Publicity Chairman Bob Ange, the proceeds will be applied toward the payment of a $1,700 obligation for the Little League park lighting.

20 Years Ago

As Found In The Files Of The Chowan Herald

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Edenton-Chowan Chamber of Commerce Marvin P. Wilson was appointed secretary on a temporary and part-time basis.

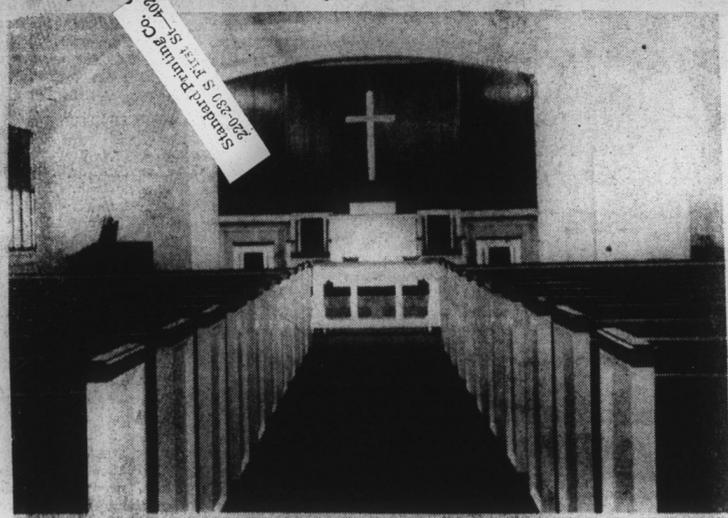

For the first time since 1935, the Edenton tax rate went over one dollar. The rate for 1944-45 was set at $1.15.

Edentonians became right much concerned when it was learned from the serology department at the Marine Corps Air Station that a severe tropical storm was heading toward Edenton. Mrs. J. N. Pruden, chairman of the Chowan County Red Cross Chapter, also received a wire from Red Cross headquarters to be on the alert and prepare for any eventualities.

The local disaster preparedness and relief committee swung into action to meet the storm.

Major Martin Wisely was decorated with the Silver Star, the Army's recognition for gallantry in action. Although his organization was pinned down by intense German machine gun and mortar fire, Major Wisely disregarded his own safety and moved into the front line where

Free Training Courses Again Planned To Be Held In Edenton

William A. Hollar, manager of the Edenton Employment Security Commission office, announces that free training courses in automobile mechanics and stenography will again be resumed in Edenton, beginning about September 1.

Two identical courses were started in the fall of 1963 and were completed in June this year. This training proved to be very beneficial and it was felt that it should be continued.

This training is authorized under the provisions of the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962. This act also provides for paying training, transportation, and subsistence allowances in some cases while enrolled in training. In no case will there be any charge to anyone enrolled.

Courses to be offered in Edenton will be full time and will run approximately 40 weeks. All persons enrolled will be referred to training by the local Employment Security office.

Anyone interested in applying or obtaining further information can do so by contacting the Employment Security Commission office at 709 North Broad Street in Edenton.

Crafts Workshop Dates Aug. 11-13

Mrs. B. P. Monds Requests Many From Chowan to Attend

Mrs. B. P. Monds, Chowan County Home Demonstration Public Relation Chairman, has now received the dates of August 11-13 for Crafts Workshop at East Carolina College in Greenville. This workshop has been approved for craft leaders to work with adult and youth groups.

The Eastern District will be the only district at the workshop, so there will be no limit per number from each county.

There has been much craft-work taught in Chowan County and much progress has been accomplished through the knowledge of trained leaders. "By all means, don't pass up this golden opportunity," says Mrs. Monds. "Let's go to this workshop and come back to Chowan County and help make it the best county in the state."

Those desiring more information can phone 482-3843 or contact Miss Pauline Calloway.

Miss Sandra Nixon Represents Chowan At Chicago Convention

Sandra Nixon, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Nixon, Route 1, Edenton, attended the 1964 national convention of Future Homemakers of America. The 3,000 teenage delegates and advisers represented over half a million members in all states, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

The theme of the four-day meeting, planned and conducted by the membership of high school economics students, was "Education — an Endless Challenge." Dean Herbert W. Schooling of the University of Missouri made the keynote address on this subject at the opening session.

Other sessions during the week were addressed by Mrs. Anita Goldberg, Washington, D.

L. H. Haskett's Car Stolen From Garage

Found Abandoned In Massachusetts Monday Afternoon

Leroy H. Haskett had the misfortune to have his car stolen sometime Friday morning. The car, a 1964 Buick was stolen from the garage at the back of his home on North Broad Street between 12:30 and 7 A. M. Mr. Haskett was called to his farm late Thursday night and arrived back home about midnight. He was very warm upon his return home and turned on an electric fan which, no doubt, prevented him from hearing his car moved from the garage. The irony of the theft is that at least nine other cars in the neighborhood were parked on the street and in a few of them the keys had not been removed. The car was located Monday afternoon. It was found abandoned in Matta Poisset, Massachusetts, near New Bedford, where it was out of gasoline. Mr. Haskett was informed that his car was located, but does not know if it has been damaged. He was informed that it can be driven back home.

Mr. Haskett left Norfolk by plane Wednesday morning for Matta Poisset to drive his car back home. He was informed that the thief or thieves had not been apprehended.

Farm Safety Week Observed July 19-25

This week, July 19-25 is being observed as Farm Safety Week and President Lyndon B. Johnson in a proclamation calls upon all Americans to observe this week and its theme "Safer American Families Everywhere."

All organizations and individuals who work with farm people are urged to unite in this effort to reduce the shocking number of farm, home, and highway accidents. Despite farm safety efforts, accidents continue to kill 8,700 and injure 800,000 farm residents yearly in the United States. The dollar cost is estimated at $1.5 billion.

No economic yardstick can measure the human aspects of accidents—the grief, pain, disruption of families and aspirations. Promote greater farm safety throughout the year, as well as during this special Farm Safety Week.

Mrs. Kinion Visits Governor's School At Salem College

Local Guidance Director At Holmes High School Observes Operation of School

Mrs. James Kinion, guidance director of the John A. Holmes High School, recently visited the Governor's School for the Gifted at Winston-Salem, to observe the actual operation at the school.

Mrs. Kinion had conferences with the superintendent and the special activities director who explained the entire program of the school. She was then permitted to attend the classes of her choice for observation. Following classroom visitation she talked with students from various parts of the state. She also visited David Ward, John A. Holmes High School student, attending the school.

The idea of creating the Governor's School for gifted and talented children originated with Governor Terry Sanford. The Governor submitted the proposal to the Carnegie Corporation of New York, which, in January, 1963, awarded a matching grant of $225,000. Another $225,000 was donated by 11 foundations and industries in Winston-Salem. The total grant of $450,000 was designed to finance the operation of an eight-week residential program in the summers of 1963, 1964, and 1965 on
