Giving thanks always for all things unto God.—Ephesians 5:20.

We thank Thee, O God, for Thy countless gifts that daily enrich our lives.

Hail The Pilgrimage

This spring the Biennial Pilgrimage of Colonial Edenton and Countryside will be held April 9, 10 and 11.

Edenton, which was known as "ye towne on Queen Anne's Creek", was one of the first towns settled and served as capital of the colony for about 40 years.

It is preservation, rather than restoration, that makes the Edenton pilgrimage one of the most outstanding of the home tours. Its town and country houses are nationally known for their authenticity and fine state of preservation with many dating prior to the Revolution.

The private homes, some still owned by descendants, are open to the public only during the tour.

Visitors are invited to return to Edenton's illustrious past by visiting the Littlejohn House, ca. 1780's, opening for the first time

Also on the tour are Sycamore, the oldest house in North Carolina built in the 1660's; the James Iredell House, 1759, home of the first Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court; the Iredell Jr. House, ca. 1780, home of Iredell's son, who later became governor; the Charlton House, ca. 1760, a fine example of three bay gambrel colonial roof; the Homestead, a pre-Revolutionary house significantly West Indian in architecture; the Paxton House, a three story house built in 1790's by a local merchant, and the gardens at Pembroke Hall.

Other major attractions are the Cupole House, ca. 1725, noted for its Jacobean architecture, now being restored by the Edenton Historical Commission; the Penelope Barker House, ca. 1782, the home of Mrs. Barker who, according to tradition, presided at the famed Edenton Tea Party in 1774; St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 1736, the second oldest church in the state; the Chowan Courthouse 1767, considered the finest Georgian Courthouse in the South, as well as many other sites of historic and architectural interest.

The Edenton Woman's Club, sponsors of the tour, have designated the first day, "Heritage Day". Other events will include a tea, a Revolutionary war drama, craft demonstrations, and waterfront tours by boat.

Mrs. R. J. Boyce, chairman of the tour said, all proceeds from the tour will be used for restoring and preserving local landmarks

The Pilgrimage is about the biggest thing to happen in Edenton and the entire Albemarle area. A lot of work goes into such a project and the members of the Edenton Woman's Club deserve the full cooperation of the community.

Treasure At Home

Cleared out your basement or attic lately? Did you discard old sheet music, ancient kitchen utensils, old food molds, or mechanical toys that delighted you as a child?

Have you tossed away any old match holders, stereoscopic views, dolls, worn out lamps, or merchandise catalogues of years past? If so, you may have consigned to the trash can something that somebody might be willing to pay for in cold cash.

According to a new book, "Treasure at Home" by John Mebane of Atlanta, just published by A. S. Barnes and Company, Inc., all of these and many other commonplace items of only a few years ago are now being collected, in some cases avidly, by people with a nostalgic interest in the recent past.

It is a result of increased leisure, according to Mebane, who concludes his volume with a list of national organizations of people who collect dolls, music boxes, buttons, early American glass, paperweights, antique automobiles.

To us, it points up, once again, the advantages of living in a pleasant small town where you can have a house with both an attic and a basement. No city apartment dweller has space for much "treasure" of this sort.

Heard & Seen

"By Buff"

Close to 200 people attended the Jaycee Bosses' and Ladies' Night banquet held at the Masonic Temple Thursday night, when Pete Dail was presented the Distinguished Service Award. It is quite a job to feed that many people, but the Eastern Star ladies put in motion a sort of assembly line system, so that the plates and dessert were served in record time. However, Mrs. R. E. Leary, who was delegated to put peas on the plates, said she never saw such rolling peas in her life. Well, maybe that was why some peas were left on plates as a crew of Eastern Star members gathered up the small mountain of dishes after the banquet. And that some men are very much accustomed to housework is evident by the activities in the kitchen on the part of Will Harrell, Jimmy Oglesby, Roy Leary, Philip Robey, Dick Tarkington, D. M. Reaves and J. C. Parks. The dining room and kitchen were very busy places for about two hours after the banquet attendees left for home.

Being among those who helped to gather up dishes after the banquet, here's one who wonders why some smokers prefer to dump their ashes on a saucer or even a plate instead of an ash tray. It's a nasty mess and one of the things that gets on the nerves of the ladies.

Then, too, some men know something about cooking. For instance, Bill Rosevear was telling me that in making bean soup, it will be a lot better if the beans are pressed through a colander before finishing the soup. Yeah, he has another reason, too.

Those who attended the Jaycee banquet enjoyed the entertainment provided by Mr. and Mrs. Alton Elmore, but they missed a little after they left. It was while Jimmy Oglesby was helping to clear up the dishes 'hat he gave a mighty good impression of a Norfolk Southern train starting and getting up steam with a long string of cars. It sounded just like a train and Jimmy ought to know, for he worked a long time for Norfolk Southern.

A very welcome visitor in The Herald office for a short time Thursday afternoon was Aubrey Shackell. Many Edentonians will remember him as being connected with his father, the late R. G. Shackell, in publishing 'he old Edenton Daily News. Mr. Shackell now lives in Charlotte but does extensive 'raveling in connection with his work. His 'mother, many will be interested to learn, lives with him and, despite her years, is still very active. It was a rare treat for Aubrey to stop in and chat for a few minutes about 'he days of the old Daily News.

It's a big heart workers for the annual Heart Fund drive have placed at the foot of Broad Street. And they're hoping everybody will have a big heart in making their contributions for this most worthy cause.

With so many "weeks" being observed, Clyde Slade, one of The Herald's employees, came up with another suggested one due to the very cold snap we've been having. He suggested that there should be a "National Be Kind To Cold People Week". Wilborne Harrell seconded the motion.

Another good suggestion was made by Emmett Wiggins. One of the cold mornings this week he noticed a tourist taking a picture of 'he tea pot on the Court House Green. He 'old the lady that it would be very nice if she could turn a spigot on the tea pot and get a nice hot cup of tea. "It certainly would," the lady replied. Emmett advanced the idea that it would be a wonderful piece of publicity to be able to draw from the tea pot a cup of hot tea during the winter months or a glass of iced tea when the weather is hot. Well, what's wrong with that idea?

Another interesting visitor in The Herald office this week was Joe Lee. Joe used to sell papers for The Herald and do odd jobs around the shop. He's in the U. S. Army now and stationed in Germany. He's on a furlough and said he was mighty glad to get back where he can hear English spoken. Anyway, Joe is a fine specimen of young manhood, which he attributes to three square meals a day.

The Herald has lost a neighbor this week. Mrs. J. C. Manning, who has worked for quite a while for Harrell Gas & Coal Company in a part of The Herald building, has moved up the street in Ralph Parrish's store. Another change was made when Charles Harrell bought out Mr. Parrish, so that Mrs. Manning is now located in the new location. She will encounter one handicap for she'll have to make her own coffee or else walk a little farther to get a cup of coffee made by The

The Chowan County Hospital Auxiliary is conducting its annual membership drive, which will continue through February 11th.

Herald boys each morning, Bud Amburn plans to enlarge The Herald office by using the space heretofore rented to Charles Harrell.

Mrs. Lois Ashley, who lives at Virginia Beach, sent in her renewal to The Herald and had this little note enclosed: "Dear Buff—Keep sending the good ole Herald so we can keep in the know with our friends and relatives in Chowan County. Do tell Mrs. Buff that we enjoy her column very much and her recipes are just great. By the way, we like the 'new look' of The Herald."

In the mail this week was quite a lengthy letter from Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. P. Aynes, now living at Alexandria, Va. Mrs. Aynes said they often think of Edenton with fond memories. The Aynes family lived in Edenton about 10 years ago and Mrs. Aynes says it does not seem possible that it could be that long ago and that she misses knowing what is going on here. "We have had three transfers since Edenton and find it too difficult to keep up with every place we have been, much as we'd like to," she says. She mentioned some of the former Marine families who lived in Edenton and will be remembered by some of us. They included Col. M. K. Peyton, who has retired. The Waldo Becks, who lived at the Fish Hatchery, are living at Fredericksburg, Va. Major Fred Haines has retired and he is now working with programming and computers in Washington, D. C. Col. William Case is stationed at Alexandria. A son, born in Indiana after leaving Edenton, was named for John Marshall by his brother for his "best friend in Edenton." Mrs. Aynes said they didn't get up to Middletown, Del., for any football games last season and see Mr. and Mrs. Bill Billings, but expect to see them soon. It was nice to hear from Mrs. Aynes, who wrote a column for The Herald while living in Edenton.

Also Mrs. Herman White, Sr., Mrs. C. L. Quinn, Mrs. F. A. Jordan, Mrs. Sherlon Layton, Mrs. Jack Bass, Mrs. Bertha Dale, Mrs. W. W. Bunch, Mrs. Fahey Byrum, Mrs. Earl Smith and Mrs. Roland Ashley.

Also Mrs. Henry Bunch, Mrs. Lloyd Bass, Mrs. Edgar Pearce, Mrs. Graham Bass, Mrs. Gibson Perry, Mrs. Kernot Perry, Mrs. Florine Nixon, Mrs. Clarence Bass, Mrs. Carey Evans, Mrs. Rosa Harrell and Mrs. W. B. Rosevear.

Also Mrs. J. L. Pettus, Mrs. John Bond, Miss Harriet Leary, Mrs. J. M. Thorud, Mrs. Wesley Chesson, Mrs. R. E. Forehand, Sr., Mrs. N. B. Crandall, Mrs. R. G. White, Mrs. W. P. Jones and Mrs. Fred Drane.

Also Mrs. J. E. Debnam, Mrs. C. T. Dixon, Jr., Mrs. Joe Conger, Sr., Mrs. Joe Conger, Jr., Mrs. Tom H. Shepard, Mrs. Jack Leary, Mrs. Roland Vaughan, Mrs. David Wright and Mrs. J. W. Davis.

Instinct and reason how can we divide? 'Tis the fool's ignorance and the pedant's pride. —Prior.

shopping with YOU in mind

By KATE

We are so very lucky here in Edenton, with though a small shopping district, we have a very adequate one with merchants who go "all out" to please their customers. Take Myrtle Cuthrell at the BETTY SHOPPE for instance. When she goes on a buying trip, she is careful to bring back only the latest in fashions in quality merchandise. The code of the BETTY SHOPPE is not to sell any garment which is not suitable to the specific customer. By the way, this shop is featuring winter merchandise this week at half price and one rack of ladies' dresses at $3. And while in there, don't forget to look at the beautiful new spring clothes which have just arrived.

If there's a teenager around the house, or if you'd like a small portable TV in the kitchen, stop by and look at the small portable, the "Gad About" TV with a 16-inch screen, priced at only $119.95 at the WESTERN GAS & FUEL OIL COMPANY. Caswell Edmundson will be glad to help you with your selection.

LADIES: If you've been wanting to try your hand at making a new Spring suit or dress, you can now get the latest in fashion patterns by Vogue in BELK-TYLER'S Pattern Department. They will be glad to have you stop by for a look at these VOGUE pattern books and make your selection. The patterns are then ordered and mailed directly to you within five days of the order. By the way, it was beginning to look mighty springy yesterday in BELK'S. Alton Elmore was decorating with the prettiest yellow spring flowers.

I stopped in to pay a bill at Ralph Parrish's store yesterday and found that he had sold out to the HARRELL GAS & COAL COMPANY. Charles Harrell was here at the time and tells me that they have uncovered many useful miscellaneous items which they have put on special. By all means, go to the HARRELL GAS & COAL COMPANY. You may find just the item you need.

Don't forget your Sweetheart or—your better half on Valentine's Day. MITCHENER'S PHARMACY has just received a large selection of Hollingsworth Valentine candy in beautifully decorated boxes. I also noticed what a grand selection of Hall-mark Valentine cards for every member of the family and for friends far and near at MITCHENER'S. And if you'd like a brief rest, have a seat there and enjoy one of their soft drinks and a sandwich.

Just found out recently that the C & D (Citizens Band) Radios, Antennas and supplies can be bought at JACKSON'S RADIO & TV SERVICE STORE on West Eden Street. Why go out of town to buy, when these supplies can be bought locally at Jackson's at distributor's prices? The Jacksons are outstanding in their radio and TV Service.

Have you forgotten something? Bill Elliott at ELLIOTT CLEANERS tells me that he has quite a few racks of dry cleaning, un-called for. Many of these articles have been there for at least six months. So, don't risk losing your garments. Their policy is a 30-day limit on all cleaned items. Pick up your dry cleaning today!

It's Anniversary Time at PHTHISIC'S SUPER MARKET. Margaret and Haywood Phthisic are proud to be a part of and to offer the public all merchandise in their store this week at reduced prices to celebrate this occasion. This weekend they are featuring all cuts of pork at very special prices. Be sure to congratulate Phthisic on their anniversary!

Do you have trouble finding storage places for all sorts of records, especially those from which you've made your income tax reports? Kermit Layton at EDENTON OFFICE SUPPLY tells me that he has just the thing to alleviate that storage problem, the economical Pronto Storage Files. So, rather than clutter up the house with miscellaneous files and papers, go down to the Edenton Office Supply on South Broad Street and buy a Pronto Storage File.

It's a funny thing about cold weather. I talked with Kathleen Skiles of the BARROW BOTTLING WORKS and she tells me that even though it's been cold and snowy, they've been selling a tremendous amount of bottled drinks, especially the new SUNDROP and the always popular Double Cola. I suppose thirst and good taste knows no season. Johnny Woodard of the COLONIAL FURNITURE COMPANY, reminds you all that they are still having a sale on all furniture and, really, he has some attractive furniture displayed throughout the store on West Water Street. While you are there, ask them to show you the Early American gallery.
