Olag Making Comeback

The star of this area's smallest manufacturer is about to rise. Olag, at 20, is becoming of age.

IN PLANT—Headquarters for Toothex Company here is a shed on West Water Street. Here Col. W. B. Rosevear, front, and Ed Bass turnout Olag toothpaste. The product is now ready for marketing in the Tidewater area.

The Public Parade

BREWED OWN CUP—There is some evidence that the moderate left is becoming disenchanting with far out liberals who now seem so strongly entrenched in our national government.

and south, white and black, has "reached a straining point in regard to demonstrations."

ON GETTING POORER—Friend Francis Manning, who rides herd over The Enterprise at Williamston issued the following comment on poverty.

Therefore, after 20 years and $50,000 he is ready to shoot the works. And in doing it he hopes to promote this area while proving there is room in big business competition for the little man who has the welfare of the people at heart.

Another liberal who is now going through an agonizing reappraisal of his situation is Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, who has leaned so far to the left for so long that he has developed into a human question mark.

Federal approval of a revised plan for desegregation, submitted last week by the Chowan County Board of Education, is expected to be granted by Friday.

Area for Olag toothpaste. Col. W. B. Rosevear, sole owner and only Toothex employee, has granted the franchise to Ed Bass, also of Edenton, for an area with a population of one million.

The development of Olag was started by the retired Army officer in 1946 in Greensboro. His wife had gum trouble and he set out to develop something that would clean the teeth, yet not harm the gums.

An earlier attempt at marketing the product was not too successful. But now the situation is more favorable. Acceptance of the product by the dentists has been slow, therefore the research period has been quite extended.

Toothex now operates a one-man—either Col. Rosevear or Bass—bench machine operation of production. They can produce 60 tubes of Olag an hour. They admit that production will be of this type for some time because of the formula the product could not be produced in mass, like other toothpastes.

Crowning Victim's Body Found In Sound Wednesday Morning

DISCUSS SEARCH OPERATIONS — Lt. Harold Wilson, a U. S. Coast Guard helicopter pilot stationed at Elizabeth City, points out into the Albemarle Sound as he and Capt. James P. Ricks, Jr., of the Edenton-Chowan Rescue Squad, discuss the search for Benny Harris, 18, 100 East Church Street. Coast Guardsman Bobby Henderson, a hospital corpsman assigned to the helicopter, is at left. The search for Harris began at 5 A. M., Tuesday after he was thrown from a boat during a violent storm late Monday afternoon.

Benjamin Harris Last Seen During Monday's Storm

The search continued here Wednesday for Benjamin Harris, 18, 100 East Church Street, who is believed to have drowned in the Albemarle Sound late Monday.

Capt. James P. Ricks, Jr., head of the newly organized Edenton-Chowan Rescue Squad, said the search will continue until the body is found.

Mathews Gets Roads Position

Don Mathews of Hamilton Tuesday became a member of the State Highway Commission representing this area. He and 13 other commissioners took the oath in Raleigh.

The search party, which at times numbered near 20 boats, combed the sound for 15 fruitless hours. They were back on the water at 5 A. M., Wednesday attempting to locate the body.

Rescued from the water which apparently claimed another victim were Dr. and Mathews will replace J. Gilliam Wood of Edenton on the commission. Wood served four years in the Sanford administration.

BULLETIN

The body of Benjamin Harris of Edenton was recovered from the Albemarle Sound at mid-morning Wednesday. Details of the recovery were unavailable at press time.

Mrs. Richard Hines. Their sailboat flipped over in the choppy waters and Mrs. Hines was unable to hold on to the boat.

Ricks and his father were in the vicinity in their cabin cruiser when the Hines' boat went over. They rushed to the scene and rescued the dentist and his wife.

Soon they received a radio message of a man being overboard in the same area, approximately a mile from the docks in Edenton.

Because of the weather, Capt. Ricks did not launch the extensive search operations until early Tuesday.

Reports were that Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Harris, and two companions, Kay White of Merry Hill and Kenneth Wright of Edenton were caught in the storm when the boat in which they were riding ran out of gas.

The victim was thrown from the front of the boat. He allegedly swam back to the boat, then decided to go back for his hat. The powerless boat drifted away and Wright threw Harris a foam cushion.

Because of the high waves and mist, Wright didn't know whether or not the victim got the cushion. The cushion was blown ashore at Cherry Point, near Hayes Plantation.

Rescue squads from Coleman and Bertie County joined the local unit and the Coast Guard during the search Tuesday. However, at about noon the Bertie group was called home due to an apparent drowning near Lewiston.

Helicopters from the U. S. Coast Guard station at Elizabeth City joined the group Tuesday morning but was unable to offer any assistance.

Capt. Ricks reports that at one time a complex of nearly 20 boats combed a wide area in the sound, attempting to locate the body.

The Barker House lawn became headquarters for the search party. Mobile communications kept the searchers in continuous contact with the shore and boats came in and went out throughout the operation.

Local citizens, answering a plea for assistance, brought food and beverages to aid those participating in the search.

Another Boat Taken Locally

Another boat has been reported stolen, according to Police Chief James H. Griffin.

Police were notified at 8:05 A. M. July 4 that an 18-foot boat owned by Buck Manning had been stolen. It had not been recovered at press time.

Three Are Promoted In Town Departments

Mayor John A. Mitchener, Jr., today announced the promotion of three town employees—one policeman and two firemen.

Patrolman John D. Parrish was promoted to the rank of sergeant in Edenton Police Department.

W. E. (Monk) Mills and T. A. Goodman, both veteran firemen, were promoted to the rank of lieutenant in Edenton Fire Department.

All three promotions became effective July 1. Police Chief James H. Griffin and Fire Chief W. J. Yates hailed the promotions in their respective departments and said this is another step in improving the services offered by the Town of Edenton.

In the fire department, this will be the first time full-time officers have been designated. With Lts. Mills and Goodman, a ranking officer will be on duty at the fire station at all times. One officer will be in charge of fire prevention while another will be responsible for inspections.

Lt. Goodman is one of Edenton's full-time firemen. He began as a volunteer in 1930 and became a regular fireman two years later. In October he will round out 33 years of service with the department.

Lt. Mills became associated with the fire department in 1937. He became a regular in 1944.

In making the recommendation for appointment of Sgt. Parrish, Chief Griffin cited his "military type devotion to police duties, his alertness, good public relations and his always ready attitude toward police duties."

Sgt. Parrish, 26, was employed as a policeman in December, 1961. He has attended the area policemen's institute at East Carolina College in Greenville.

Huskins Named To State Board

Among recent appointments by Gov. Dan K. Moore was that of J. P. Huskins of Statesville to a six-year term on the State Board of Higher Education.

Huskins, vice president of The Chowan Herald, Inc., is president and general manager of the Statesville Record & Landmark, an afternoon daily newspaper.

Gov. Moore named Watts Hill, Jr., of Durham, head of Home Security Life Insurance Company, chairman of the board. Hill will also serve for six years.

Huskins is chairman of the board of trustees of Mitchell College in Statesville, a community owned and operated junior college.

The veteran newspaperman is also director of the North Carolina Press Association. His brother, Judge Frank Huskins of Burnsville, has been chosen by the governor as administrator of the new uniform courts to be established throughout the state.

JOINT DINNER MEETING William H. Coffield, Jr., Post No. 9280, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the VFW Auxiliary will hold a joint dinner meeting Tuesday night, July 13, at 7:30 o'clock.

Baptist Church Will Honor 10

Ten members of Ballard's Bridge Baptist Church will be honored Sunday night at a Girls' Auxiliary Coronation.

The program will start at 8 P. M., and a reception will follow.

Those being recognized for outstanding service to the church and community include Chris Hollowell, Joan Jordan, Beechye Lou Ward, Gwendolyn Ward, Kitty Evans, Rebecca Hobbs, Susan Jordan, Beth Boswell, Edna Earl Bunch and Lottie Baker.

Visitors are invited to attend the program.

Approval Of County's Compliance Plan Expected By Friday

Federal approval of a revised plan for desegregation, submitted last week by the Chowan County Board of Education, is expected to be granted by Friday.

Supt. C. C. Walters told board members at their meeting Tuesday night he had talked with officials in Washington and they advised that the plan is now acceptable.

The plan gives the student a "freedom of choice" of schools to be attended and puts the board on record as favoring one administrative unit in Chowan County by 1967.

If one administration unit is not realized by the 1967 deadline, then the county must construct another high school, according to the plan.

The agreements, yet to be ratified by the Edenton City Board of Education, will allow Negro high school students to continue to come to D. F. Walker High School for the next two years.

Favorable action by the city board is expected to be taken at their next meeting.

Supt. Walters reported the county schools finished fiscal 1964-65 with a surplus of $10,843.20. The board members said they will ask the county commissioners to allow them to retain this surplus in order to take up the slack between the board's new budget request and what they anticipate from the 1965-66 levy.

Also, the board discussed supplements for teachers at Chowan High School, which is in the new budget. They said no additional pay was voted for teachers at White Oak because they have just come off probation as the result of an attendance record investigation. The board members agreed that once the faculty members have proven themselves they will be included in the supplement.

Red Men Elect New Officers

Chowan Tribe No. 12, Improved Order of Red Men, elected three stump officers for a six months term and a trustee for 18 months at their meeting June 28.

Clyde Hollowell was elected sashem; Alexander DeBlois, senior sashem; Pat B. Pickler, junior sashem and Robert Whiteman, prophet. W. J. Daniels was re-elected as one of the three trustees. Fred Keeter was elected tribal deputy Great Sashem.

The new officers will be installed at the tribe's meeting Monday night, July 12.
