The Roundup

Only until now has any Pope condescended to leave his ivory tower and mingle with the people of the world, as Pope Paul is doing. I think it quite possible that we have seen the end of major wars, such as World War I and World War II. The atomic bomb has frightened nations into a, at least temporary, moratorium on war. There is no doubt that but for the restraint of the total destructiveness of nuclear warfare, the world would have had before now a major war. We have had and are having crises that could precipitate such an event. . . . It may sound facetious, but I assure you no irreverence is meant: What can be more democratic than a ball field? And Pope Paul's PITCH for peace at the Yankee Stadium was the greatest PLAY ever made on that diamond. . . . When my editor left for England last week, I told him to be careful or he'd come back speaking like a Limey. Then he wanted to know if I'd like to go along. I said, thanks, but you are "Wrong-way Buffalo". If I ever take a trip, it will be toward the west—the Pacific, Hawaii, Samoa, Tahiti, the islands of stried tropical paradise. . . . There was one note of humor in the Pope's appearance at the Yankee Stadium, and that was when the wind threw his cape over his head and knocked his skull cap from his head. But that never fazed His Holiness; he held his cap in his hand for a few moments, and went off with his speech as though nothing had ever happened. . . . Here's something that has always bothered me: How can presidents, Popes, speakers of any kind stand bare-headed in the freezing cold and wind and make a speech and seldom catch a cold even. Me—if I walked a block without my hat, I'd probably come down with pneumonia.

Bible News

By MARY ALLED, Member of Women's Speakers Bureau, American Bible Society

At long last governmental permission was received this year to import a limited number of Scriptures to Spain. Distribution plans were implemented for 30,000 Protestants in 300 churches there.

In Nigeria the first 10,000 copies of the new TIV Bible were distributed in 20 days! It is anticipated that evangelical needs for 1965 in this country will exceed supplies.

Progress is being made toward completion of the Revised Arabic Bible for Egypt. This Bible is eagerly awaited by many Christians of North Africa and the Middle East.

Last year there were nearly 250,000 Scriptures distributed among African refugees, many of them in the Congo. One worker said, "The first thing that many of them ask for is the Bible." Stocks of Scriptures were made available in the BALUBA, BATELELA, DINKA and WATUSI tribe languages.

And did you know that the demand for Scriptures from the Armed Forces exceeds more than one million copies annually. Only half of the requests for Scriptures can be met with the present support to the Bible Societies.

Life would be much simpler if we didn't try to make people think we're what we're not.
