Program Given By Miss Bishop

Christmas was the theme at the December meeting of the Edenton Woman's Club. Miss Edna Bishop, area home economics agent, demonstrated a number of seasonal decorations and explained how to make them. The club will again sponsor the outdoor Christmas home decorating contest. Prizes of $15 and $10 will be awarded to persons most attractively decorating their homes. Mrs. Harold Summerford is chairman.

Mrs. Jerry McGee, fine arts chairman, reported that the club's theme for the float for the Christmas parade was "visions of sugar plums."

Jones Forming New Firm Here

J. Meredith Jones, vice president of James Talcott, Inc., has resigned to become president of Albemarle Industries of Delaware, Inc., with headquarters in Edenton.

Jones, active in banking and financial circles, was in charge of Talcott's Atlanta district for seven southeastern states. Prior to joining Talcott, he was senior vice president of North Carolina National Bank, having earlier served as assistant treasurer of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

The new venture will engage in a number of commercial and financial activities to develop the economic potential of the Albemarle section of North Carolina. Individually, Jones will represent Meinhard-Commercial Corporation of New York City, a division of CIT Corporation, in the Southeast. Jones will reside in Edenton with his wife, the former Elvira Creatham of Henderson, and their two children, Jay and Elvira.

Commissioners Talk About Jail, Hotel Property

County commissioners also began a serious study of a subdivision ordinance for Chowan which would insure no future inadequate land developments such as those in existence at this time.

Club Sponsors Yule Contest

Edenton's Woman's Club will again sponsor a Christmas door decorating contest here. Mrs. Harold Summerford, chairman, said first place winner will receive $15 with the second place winner getting $10. Judging will be on December 23. All residents of Edenton are encouraged to participate in the contest.

have discovered a situation at Chowan Beach and Arrowhead Beach where people have bought lots and are now unable to place a well or septic tank on them. There is growing unrest among property owners, one official said, and the sanitarians are attempting to work out a solution.

Chairman Bond said it is too late to pass an ordinance to correct the existing situations but one would be beneficial in seeing that there is no recurrence of this problem.

Other board members said such an ordinance was a necessity.

A state planning official told the board sub division regulations gives the county a chance to review plats before they are recorded. This allows the county an opportunity to set minimum standards on sub divisions.

At the request of West Byrum, chairman of the board of elections, commissioners agreed to give registrars an extra day's pay if they had to work Christmas and New Year.

The board passed a resolution favoring the employment of an area livestock specialist to work with low income farmers. The program, at no cost to the county, is being developed by the Economic Opportunity authority in this area.

United Properties was relieved of $3,870.77 in taxes as a result of some changes in listing while Joe Chrisanti was relieved of $123.67 in taxes for the same reason.

ported that the food stamp program, while moving along slowly, would be very beneficial to the county.

The jail report showed 25 persons jailed from one to 30 days at a total cost of $338.60.

The board passed resolutions concerning the death of Rep. Herbert Bonner and the retirement of Resident Judge Chester Morris.

During the annual reorganization of the board Chairman Bond was reappointed to his post for another year and J. Clarence Leary was reappointed vice chairman. John Graham was retained as county attorney.

In addition to Bond and Leary, board members present were Dallas Jethro, Jr., C. J. Hollowell and Carey Evans.
