The Roundup

The Viet Nam war is a strange conglomeration of battle, truce and heated controversy. Many of us have not yet committed ourselves as to its rightness or wrongness. Some of us are doves, some are hawks, and some of us are in-between parrots. I suggest to further modernize the war and streamline it for 1967, we put it into the framework of industrial procedure — fight it on a 9 to 5, five day week basis, with fringe benefits and vacations. In that way, we will know exactly what we are doing — exactly what are we doing?

Has any book received a greater advance pre-publication publicity, the kind of publicity authors and publishers dream of than Manchester's DEATH OF A PRESIDENT? Harper & Row must be chortling and the author is not, I'm sure, ill-pleased. It is my bet that

The first edition has already sold out, and the book hasn't yet appeared. But nevertheless, despite the unfortunate furore over the book, it is a book that will turn the searchlight of history on a segment of our national life, and prove that people who live in high places have nowhere to hide and can hide nothing.

In regards to singing if TV offerings are any indication, the woods are full of sparrows who think they are canaries.

What puzzles me, is why the manufacturers of the little doll which has turned out to be made of highly inflammable explosive material did not know this. The material itself, to me, has a dangerous and explosive sound: nitrocellulose. They may not have been aware of the explosive potential, but if they were, no punishment could be too great for them.

Masonic Lodge Installation Set

Clarence White will be installed as master of Unanimity Lodge No. 7, A. F. & A. M., in ceremonies at the lodge at 8 P. M. today (Thursday).

R. T. Pickler, retiring master, said this will be an open installation and all members of the lodge, relatives and friends are invited to attend.

In addition to White, other officers include: Eugene Robey, senior warden; Hiram Weeks, junior warden; R. E. Leary, treasurer; W. P. Goodwin, secretary; Bernard Burroughs, senior deacon; Willie Spruill, junior deacon, as well as other officers appointed by Mr. White.

Hundreds of those dolls were sold at Christmas time, in many States, including North Carolina. So, if your little girl got a doll about 14 inches long from Santa this year—give it a second look. It may be a grenade instead of a doll.

Around The Farms In Chowan County

By C. W. OVERMAN, Chowan County Agent

Facing a New Year: Twelve months ago 1966 was a New Year. Now 1966 is passed and gone. What we did with that twelve months is history which is a permanent record and can't be changed. We can be happy for the pleasant memories, sad and try to forget the unpleasant memories, and try to profit in the future by our experiences of 1966.

A New Year of 1967 is upon us. How we treat it and how we use it depends upon each of us as individuals. We can make 1967 a better year than 1966 if we will so direct our thoughts, control our speech and guide our actions. To do this we must make it a year of unselfishness in our lives. In so doing we must also make it a prosperous year as much as possible.

A Prosperous 1967 In Agriculture: A prosperous 1967 on each farm is dependent upon a thorough analysis of past treatment and performance of each field and each livestock enterprise as well as the farm operation as a whole.

In some instances the farm operation attempted is larger than the operator's ability. Thus, a smaller operation with more efficient management will yield more net return.

In other instances the farm operation is too small to profitably utilize the operator's ability. Increasing the size of the operation to attain more income may be accomplished by a more intensive use of the present land, or by increasing the land area where possible, or by establishing or increasing livestock enterprises to efficiently utilize available labor and management.

Good Management is the key that unlocks the door to success in any business or enterprise. It is so true in farming.

Let us compare two farm operations that I know of on the same type soil with just a road separating them. For identity we will name them John and Bill. John averaged about 3,500 pounds of peanuts, 100 bushels of corn per acre, and similar yields of other crops over the last 10 years. Bill averaged less than 1,800 pounds of peanuts, less than 50 bushels of corn per acre and similar yields of other crops. Why?

During 1967 I hope that all farmers will make use of the "know-how" that is available, tried and proven. We, our Extension workers and other agricultural workers will do our best to help you do your best. Please take advantage of and make use of the meetings held, the letters, the news articles and the radio programs giving you timely information. Call on us as you feel the need. Let's make 1967 "A Most Happy and Prosperous New Year."
