

The Roundup

By WILBORNE HARRELL
I view with some trepidation and foreboding Miami's Police Chief Walter Headley's stand on combatting crime in his city, even though I have said that there is nothing wrong with this country, violent wise, that a strong hand and a few machine guns can't cure. But in this case Chief Headley intends to use shot guns and dogs instead of machine guns. There is one serious flaw in this stand—when you arm officers with weapons and live ammunition, it is also assumed that they are to shoot, and shoot to kill if necessary. If they are not to shoot to kill or bring a man down with a wing shot, you may as well arm him with a broom stick. Guns are made to kill, animals or men, and for no other reason. And one shot fired unthinkingly or hastily could bring on greater consequences. The whole business is a ticklish situation: on one hand we have deliberate law violators, who flaunt their actions in the face of law

Camden Rebels Defeat Bulldogs

By WANDA MORRIS
The Chowan Bulldogs journeyed to Camden High School December 12 to play their sixth game of the season against the Rebels.

The Bulldogs fought a hard battle, but they were defeated by a score of 34 to 20.

Goodwin netted six points for the girls, while Hinton and Nixon chipped in four each.

Leading the Camden Rebels were Williams and Ferebee with 13 and 10 points, respectively.

The Rebels also downed the Bulldogs by a score of 51 to 41. This was the Bulldogs' second loss to the Rebels.

Leading the scoring for Chowan was Co-captain White with 14 points and Copeland swishing the net for a total of 13 points.

Reynolds netted 17 points for Camden, while Berry and Seymour dropped in 12 points each.

Mass Schedule At St. Ann's

Father Joseph J. Lash, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church, announces the following schedule of masses:

Thursday, 7 A. M.; Friday, 7 A. M.; Saturday, 8 A. M. (Feast of Little Christmas); Sunday, 8 A. M.; Monday, 8 A. M.; Tuesday, 7 P. M.

At All Souls' in Columbia: Sunday, 10 A. M.; Wednesday, 7 P. M.

and order, and a law enforcement organization who must pull their punches in doing their duty. Planned violence we can not tolerate, must not tolerate. It strikes me that the present situation today is a perfect analogy to the conditions that prevailed in the Old West. The West was overrun with outlaws, rustlers and saddle tramps who lived by the gun. It took strong, fearless hands and straight shooters, then, to bring any semblance of law and order to the West, and it seems to me that it will take that today to put down the forces of senseless, rampant violence that is mushrooming in this country. So, after all, Chief Headley may have the right idea in combating this violence.

It was my great pleasure over the holidays to play host to the young lady who was my nurse when I was a patient in Norfolk General Hospital this summer and her wonderful family. One of the reasons that made the occasion so notable was, she didn't bring her needle with her this time.

William Craig Is In Exercise

VIEQUES ISLAND, P. R.—Marine Corporal William S. Craig, grandson of Mrs. Charles S. Morgan, 111 Oakum Street, Edenton, N. C., participated in an amphibious training assault at Vieques Island, P. R., as a member of Battalion Landing Team 1/8, Battalion Landing Team 1/8, comprised of members of the First Battalion, Eighth Marines, Second Marine Division, used modern amphibious warfare techniques along with support tanks, artillery and helicopters during the assault.

The exercise was the first of several extensive training operations to be held in the Caribbean as part of the Caribbean Ready Force.

GEARED POWDERS
Metal powders of nickel and iron are used to make strong, light and intricately shaped gears for small engines. The gears are formed by compression and heat.

TANKED CHEMICALS
To combine safety and economy, trucks carrying highly corrosive chemicals on the highways use specially designed nickel stainless steel tanks. The material resists corrosion by most chemicals and is exceptionally easy to clean.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

WHY JESUS CAME

International Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 7

Memory Selection: "The Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father) full of grace and truth."—John 1:14.

Lesson Text: John 1:1-42; 20:30-31.

It is fitting that we start off this new year with the studying of a new unit.

The aim of this—the first of our lessons in 1968—is to help us grow in our understanding of the redemptive mission of Jesus Christ, and to encourage us to accept its implications for the guiding of our own lives in this day and time.

Certain it is that we could find no finer passages to study, than those contained in the Book of John; for the Gospel according to John, fully embraces the life, death and resurrection of Jesus. Every "sign" and every miracle wrought by Him were recorded by John for a purpose.

The purpose behind the writing of the Gospel was twofold; it was written for believers, to strengthen their faith; and it was written for non-believers—that they might come to believe in the Kingdom; that they might see the Light, and avail themselves of the salvation of man that was provided through the spilling of Christ's blood, in their name.

Certainly it is an uncertain world in which we live. We are beset on every side by threats to our physical well being, with nations warring on nations, and men set against men; we are also beset by even more dangerous enemies—the evils of temptations and wrong-doing, which threaten that most precious of mankind's possessions—his soul.

Man was lost before Jesus came into the world, but he was lost of his own volition. Jesus came to light the way—to help man find God. He came to receive—and be received. And though in many cases he was denied and scorned, still He did not let that deter Him from His purpose. Even death could not conquer Him, nor overcome the Divine Will to give the Message.

God accepts all men—even the lowliest. He cannot, however, receive them into His Kingdom unless they first receive Him. He cannot forgive us our sins if we come to Him unrepentant, our hearts unforgiving towards others. So—if we close the door against our fellowmen, we close it, also, against ourselves. We cut off our nose to spite our face.

If we do not accept Him into our hearts and into our lives, we are as a ship without a compass; we wander aimlessly through this life, with no anchor for our hopes, our faith.

The laborer is not worthy of his hire if he accepts the pay check that provides his sustenance and does not a whit of work to earn it. We are not worthy of God's great concern if we do not try to be worthy of it, if we do not let His will be done in our lives.

How worthy are we?

come Look at the snow, mommy!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

There she was—blue eyes, rosy cheeks, thirty-five pounds of joy bundled up in a warm, wooly snowsuit. How could I resist her request—even if the ironing weren't done, and there'd be no pie for dinner. I pulled on my parka and went outside to join her.

We walked through the frosty winter world together and I seemed to see it anew through the eyes of a three-year old. Our commonplace street was miraculously frosted and furnished in silvery whiteness. From every corner beauty sparkled and shone.

And then we came to our church. It looked like a beautiful Christmas card, with the snow glistening blindingly from icy windows. Susie exclaimed, "Oh, Mommy, look—God is shining through!"

"Through the eyes of a little child" . . . this thought rang through my head, and I prayed that God's presence would always shine for her through the windows of God's Church.
