to make possible future joy.

Jesus exhorted His disciples to do as He had done—to serve one another, in the name of love. For only thus can the fullness of life be experienced—in a life of service that forgets self. Only thus can we make our lives meaningful—only thus can we grow, both as individuals and as Christians. We must accept others, for themselves, and not for our own selfish motives. We must permit them to enter our lives, in order that they will permit us to enter theirs.

The needs of each person are complex and varied, as are our own. In answering those needs, and (in turn) having ours answered, the way is opened for a closer kinship, a wider understanding, for uncalculated service.

Thinking of remodeling? Include modern electric heat in your plans.

If you've finally decided to remodel your home; don't forget about the heating system.
 Are you redecorating? Remember cleaner, flameless electric heat helps keep all your furnishings newer looking a lot longer.
 Adding on? Only an electric heating system can grow as your house does.

All you do is install new baseboard units in the new area.
 Building a basement playroom? An electric hot water furnace weighs only 90 pounds and takes up less than 3 cubic feet of space. It can be mounted on any wall in the house.
 But probably the best reason to install electric heat is to make your remodeled house more comfortable, and more pleasant to live in. And isn't that the reason you wanted to remodel in the first place?

 Your VEPCO-authorized Comfort Conditioning Contractor will be glad to give you a free estimate on converting your home. And help you choose the system that's right for your heating needs.
