

Around The Farms In Chowan County

By C. W. OVERMAN

Mixed Peanut Varieties: Many growers are contacting me relative to peanut varieties to mix with NC-2 to be reasonably sure of getting a good fancy grade. Extension Peanut Specialist Astor Perry recommends that the following varieties may be mixed with NC-2: Florigiant, NC-1, NC-5, Ga. 119-20, Va. 61R. Mr. Perry suggests that enough of the other variety be mixed with NC-2 to be reasonably sure of bringing the fancy size above 40 per cent.

Generally I am finding that many growers who mixed half NC-2 and half of another variety last year were quite pleased with the result. This is the mixture we will use this year in some varietal test demonstrations here in Chowan County.

Growers who have double hopper planters have it made. They can put NC-2 in one side of the hopper and the other variety in the other side and get a good half and half mixture. Growers who have single hopper planters will probably want to mix the seed by rolling in a drum or some such container. In this case, I would suggest not more than two thirds to three-fourths NC-2. I think we should aim at planting around 80 to 85 pounds of seed per acre. This should put the seed an average of four inch to six inch spacing in the row.

April 29 to May 4 we consider the ideal six days for planting peanuts this year if weather will permit. Seeding rates should be about 80 to 85 pounds per acre. We advise using Si-Syston or Thimet at the rate of 7 1/2 pounds per acre on sandy soils and 10 pounds per acre on medium to heavy soils for controlling thrips and other early insects.

If a prepared herbicide is used, it should be used at the prescribed rate per acre and probably incorporated prior to planting. Pre-emergence herbicides should be used the day of or within three days of planting when moisture conditions are good. Cracking stage herbicide applications should be made just as the peanuts are cracking the ground well.

During the last couple of years many growers have found that by using a pre-plant herbicide incorporated and then over treating at cracking stage or slightly after with a band treatment of Dynap or Dinitro-

Dyphenapid was well worth the additional cost of the band treatment, especially where weeds and grass are a problem. Read the label and follow directions. Destroy all used containers.

If the soil continues warm, this week should be the ideal time for planting cotton in 1968. The best high yielding and high quality varieties are McNair 1032, Coker 413 and Coker 201. Other varieties recommended are Coker 100-A, Carolina Queen, Dixie King II, DeKalb 108 and Rex S. L. Seeding rate should be at about 15 pounds per acre when the seed germination is 80 per cent or better. This will be an average of about eight or nine seed per foot of row.

Herbicides For Cotton: Treflan and Nitrolan are the two herbicides recommended for incorporation before planting. (Caution: Do not use Thimet or Di-Syston where Treflan is the herbicide used. Information indicated that there

NEW LIQUID Enide® Dinitro E.C.

Enide Dinitro E. C. forms an emulsion with the water in your spray tank. It is the only true liquid solution formulation of diphenamid—and a real solution for weed control in peanuts. One application at cracking (when you know you have a stand of peanuts) gives up to full season control of a broad spectrum of weeds and grasses. See it now at:

RALEIGH—A portrait of Raymond R. Rich of Burgaw has been hung in the Pioneer Room of the Department of Animal Science at North Carolina State University.

Rich retired in 1965 after serving on the staff of NCSU for 32 years.

He began his NCSU career as a county agent in Gates County in 1933. He transferred to Pender County as county agent in 1938 and served in this position until 1949.

He then became an extension dairy specialist with NCSU, spending most of his time with extension agents and farmers in Southeastern North Carolina.

At a ceremony marking the placement of Rich's portrait in the Pioneer Room, Marvin Senger, specialist-in-charge, of extension dairy work at NCSU, said:

"We pay tribute today to Raymond R. Rich for his contribution to the development of the dairy industry in Eastern North Carolina by hanging his portrait along with other NCSU educators."

Accompanying Rich at the ceremony were Mrs. Rich and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Goodwin, Jr., of Edenton, his daughter and son-in-law. His son, R. R. Rich, Jr., of Shelby, was unable to be present.
