

Report From Washington

By Rep. Walter B. Jones

Last week was a hectic one in Washington with the arrival of the full complement of the so-called "Poor People's March." On Thursday last, I was witness to actions which are unbelievable in this, the nation's capital. Several hundreds of protestors descended upon Capitol Hill and staged demonstrations in and around the Longworth House Office Building in which my office is located.

Under the present laws passed by Congress, no one is permitted to demonstrate within a certain area of the United States Capitol. Their presence was tolerated until such time as they began to chant, protest and make overt actions of demonstration. Then the police stepped in and several arrests were made. There was no violence, but nevertheless, I could not help but wonder what reaction tourists and visitors from foreign countries might have at such conduct.

Another tragedy of the so-called "Poor People's March" is the result it is having on the merchants in the City of Washington. Usually at this time of year, the capital is flooded with school groups and civic groups; but not so for the last few days. They are conspicuous by their absence. The greatest emphasis of these results can be seen in the parking garages, where usually at night it is most difficult to find a space in or near the theaters and cultural centers. But in recent nights they are filled only to about 10 per cent of their capacity, and no doubt, only by those whose business forces them to be on the streets.

After seeing many of these people involved in the march, I have come to the conclusion that many of them have been misled and misguided into participating and no doubt wish they had never made the long journey here to Washington. I am convinced that they have been misled with false promises by the self-styled leaders of this movement.

It is difficult to believe that the Department of Interior and the administration itself will continue to support this type of protest which is doing so great a damage to so many. I do not believe that the Congress will be coerced into hastily taking drastic actions as a result.

Recently I have often stated my concern over the fate of agriculture in this Congress, due to the reapportionment of its representatives. Well, it came home in full force this week when a bill which the House Committee on Agriculture had reported out unanimously, to continue the farm support programs for only a year, failed to receive a favorable vote from the House Rules Committee. The vote in the Rules Committee was an 8-8 tie, which means it could not be reported out. Of course, we expect to renew this effort at a later date, to try to get the legislation from the Rules Committee to the House floor.

Also, of interest to many of the citizens of the First District was the action of the House on Monday in passing a bill to provide for the payment of the land which had been taken by the federal government to create the Hatteras National Park. Some of this indebtedness extends as far back as 15 years, and I hope that we will be able to secure sufficient appropriations to settle these just debts once and for all at an early date.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my relatives and friends, co-workers and church organizations who remembered me with cards, flowers, gifts, prayers and many visits while I was a patient in Chowan Hospital. I would like also to extend a great deal of thanks to the doctors, nurses and staff of the hospital. Your kindness will always be remembered.

Mrs. Sadie Mae Davis.
