

Bank Employees Due Back Pay

WILMINGTON — U. S. District Judge John D. Larkins, Jr. has signed a judgment here which orders First National Bank of Eastern North Carolina to pay $40,157.55 in back wages due 189 of its employees under the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The order contains an exhibit which shows that the bank had previously paid $6,501.06 in minimum wages and overtime pay due 57 other employees.

The order further permanently enjoined and restrained the bank, Mitchell F. Allen, Bruce A. Bryant and Burnice W. Nash, their officers, agents, servants, employees and all persons acting or claiming to act in their behalf from violating the minimum-wage, overtime pay, record keeping and discriminatory discharge provisions of the FLSA. The named defendants were also taxed with the costs of the action.

The amount of back minimum wages and overtime pay due the named employees in the order ranges from $4.24 to $3,820.88.

The order related to branches of the firm in Wilmington, Jacksonville, Burgaw, Carolina Beach, Elizabethtown, Farmville,

Holly Ridge, Mount Olive, Pollocksville, Wallace, Edenton, Dunn and Boone. Judge Larkins entered the order after the defendants had stipulated the withholding of the back wages due from the named employees, waived all defenses and agreed to entry of the order.

The firm had been previously ordered by the court in October of 1967, to pay $2,500 fine on each of four counts, for a total of $10,000, after pleading nolo contendere in a criminal case under the provisions of the FLSA.

SURVEYS OF SOIL AID IN BUILDING HOMES

Because of lack of knowledge of soils, a person sometimes builds his house on unstable soils. Then damaging cracks often appear in the building. Information in soil surveys prepared by the Soil Conservation Service make it possible for an owner to pick a suitable site for his home.

Soil surveys also contain information that is valuable to engineers, architects and contractors in building roads and buildings.

It is held on the Wake Forest University campus.
