

Music Groups Being Formed

Registration is set for these in the Chowan area who want to participate in the Albemarle Choral Society or take private study in voice and piano and organ.

Southwest Division registrations will be held at 7:45 P. M. September 9 in the Parish House of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Membership in the society is open to all singers in the 10-county Albemarle area of junior high school age and over. Past members are urged to bring their Messiah scores to this first meeting.

The Music Department of the College of the Albemarle announces private study registration will be held at the Parish House here from 3 P. M. to 5:30 P. M. September 9.

Late registrations can be made through the college music department office through September 13. After that date registration for the fall semester will be closed.

Scott Pledges Support For Firemen In State

RALEIGH—Lt. Gov. Bob Scott told members of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association here that as governor he will see that local communities receive as much assistance from the state as they need to protect their firemen and property in times of violence.

"A new element of danger has been brought into your work," Scott told the firemen at the final session of their four-day convention. "You never know when a brick may be hurled from the darkness or a shot may ring out. And all you have in your hand is a water hose."

"I am aware of this," Scott said, "and I want to assure you that, as governor, I will do all that is necessary to see that the state provides the assistance your communities need to protect their firemen and property."

"We simply will not tolerate violation of our laws," he said. "We will uphold the law in North Carolina."

Scott congratulated Concord Fire Chief Charles L. Miller, 70, whom the convention named the North Carolina Fireman of the Year, Thursday. Miller has been a fireman 44 years and chief for the past 19 years.

John A. Auten, association president, introduced Scott as a "friend of the fireman." Scott has previously been named an honorary member of the association.

"I am very conscious of the contribution you make to our life in North Carolina," Scott said. "I appreciate what you do, both as your lieutenant governor and as a private citizen."

Dixie Fair Feature

Chicken Barbecue Contest Scheduled

WINSTON-SALEM—Anyone who fancies himself an expert chef will get the chance to prove it during the Dixie Classic Fair.

The fair's first chicken barbecue contest will be staged Friday, October 11, during Fair Week. Any backyard charcoal chef is eligible so long as he or she is 14 years old or over, is not a professional cook, and is a resident of North Carolina or the Virginia border counties of Carroll, Grayson, Henry and Patrick.

"I suspect everybody has cooked barbecued chicken," said Neil Bolton, fair manager. "Since we live in chicken country, we thought it would be appropriate to see just how good some of our amateur chefs really are. I think we'll be able to separate the burners from the experts real quick."

Winner of the contest will receive $75 and a trophy. Second place receives $35 and a plaque, third place $25 and a plaque, and the fourth through eighth place winners will be given plaques. The contest is sponsored by Holly Farms of Wilkesboro, which will provide the chickens to be barbecued.

Each contestant must furnish his own barbecue grill, equipment, fuel and barbecue sauce. Holly Farms will give each chef three halves of chicken and judging will be based on (1) skill in use of equipment, (2) thoroughness of cooking, and (3) appearance and taste of the barbecued chicken. The cooking area will be adjacent to Arena 1 inside the fair grounds, and in case of rain the grills will be moved indoors. Official starting time is 3:30 P. M. though fires may be lit beforehand. All chickens must be off the grills by 6 P. M.

All entrants must pre-register for the contest by September 21. Entry blanks may be obtained from Dixie Classic Fair, Box 7525 Reynolda Station, Winston-Salem 27109.

A Thought to Remember

By MARVIN BARHAM

There is no denying that we live in a hectic world. Most all of us at times travel at a pace of maddening tempo, and with such frequency that we wonder where we're going.

The story of the ticket agent in the railway station who was telling the little old lady her train was leaving on track 25. "Track twenty-five?" she asked. "Yes, twenty-five."

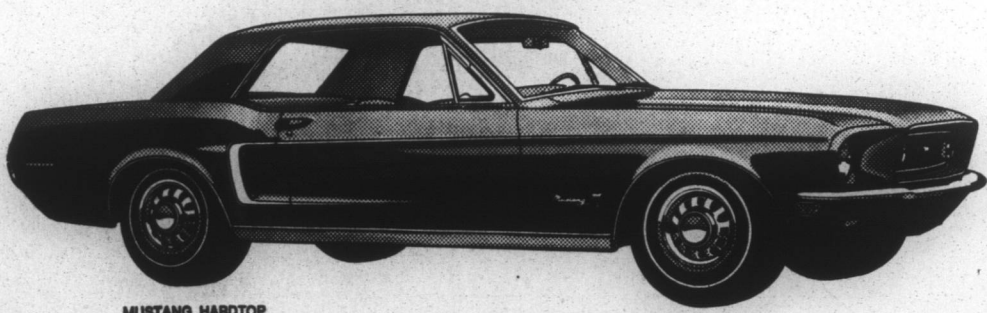

After repeating the track number to the lady, the next man in line commented: "You must really know your business to deal with the public the way you do." "The public," answered the ticket agent. "I deal with people—one at a time."

That is the secret to overcoming many of our maddening frustrations. Deal with them one at a time. When things start coming at you from all directions—remind yourself: "One thing at a time." You'll find your problems much easier to solve.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: The smartest person can really only do one thing at a time.
