Have faith in what you strive for
And the will to see it through,
But remember it takes courage—
It all depends on you.

It is so very easy to get discouraged when there's so much competition and stumbling blocks. Patience is the key word and many of us do not learn to be patient until we get older. I suppose the key word, instead of patience is "Stick-to-it-iveness."

at Montreat. As usual, her cheerful notes are something to look forward to, but best of all, she'll be home again real soon.

When someone is especially courteous to you, you can't help remembering how nice it was to have someone to take time to be considerate in such a busy world. While shopping one day this week in a super market, I was in all kinds of a hurry, with several packages of frozen food in my hand, and the lines of the check-out counters long, when someone said, "Here, get in front of me, I'm in no hurry." It was Peggy Benson (Mrs. Chuck) who was so gracious, perhaps a small thing to her, but it meant a lot to me. Thanks again, Peggy

Let me tell you one good way to "beat the heat"—go shopping in one of the cool, air-conditioned stores here in Edenton. Shop for your fall fashions — it's fun—with hot summer outside and autumn air inside. Believe, me, you'll soon forget the 90-degrees in the shade—outside. Another thing, is that it helps, knowing that it won't be long before you'll be wearing your new clothes in the coolness of fall.

If you've been in the vicinity of St. Paul's Church lately and if you'll use your imagination, when you see the lovely white crape myrtles, flanked on each side with the shades of pink crape myrtles, you will think of a beautiful bride in white with her attendants dressed in various shades of pink. Mrs. Lloyd Griffin told me about this scene and believe me it is truly lovely. Another example of God's handicraft and FOR FREE!

I received a note from Miss Lena Jones, who has been spending the summer

I can't help it, I just can't pass a baby by without taking a look and enjoying their sweetness for a minute. This past week I saw Margaret Smithson (Mrs. Rufus) carrying her tiny grandchild and it made me quite envious. And Mrs. Smithson didn't look at all like a grandmother, neat as a pin, after having attended summer school all day at Greenville—in this hot weather—whew! Another proud grandmother was Elsie Lee from over Merry Hill way—her blue-eyed grandson is a beautiful baby.
