What's For Lunch?

A new feature in The Chowan Herald next week will be the lunch menus from all five schools in Chowan County.

For many years the menus from the Swain and Holmes schools have been included. Sometime last year the menus were discontinued by the publishers.

There have been numerous requests from parents for all menus to be printed and furnished to them.

So, Ma, hereafter, there will be any excuse for having spanish rice for supper when Susie had it for lunch.

To Move Ahead

Edenton Town Council, upon recommendation of the Board of Public Works, has set priorities on improvement of the water system as well as expansion of both the water and sewer systems. The projects, while considered to meet minimum needs, are costly.

The total estimated cost of the projects considered to be the most urgent is $612,000. If a federal grant of at least 50 per cent of the cost is secured it will still mean $306,000 in local money must be forthcoming. Some of this will come through assessments paid by those who will receive the benefit of the new services while the greater portion must be secured from other sources.

Mayor John A. Mitchener, Jr., has

Voter registration books in six Chowan County precincts will open October 12, according to Mrs. George Hoskins, chairman, board of elections.

Mrs. Hoskins said the books will be open from 9 A. M. to 6:30 P. M. in the various precincts for those who have not registered as well as those who have moved since the May elections.

The chairman pointed out that in Yeopim, the registrar will sit at Edenton Municipal Airport Administration Building. This is a change from Perry's Store.

In other precincts, the registrar will be at the following locations:

West Edenton, Municipal Building; East Edenton, Court House; Center Hill, Rosser Bunch Store; Wardville, H & H

Grocery, and Rocky Hock, Rocky Hock Community Building.

Books will close Saturday, October 26 at 6:30 P. M. Challenge Day will be November 2 from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. No one will be allowed to register on this day.

A new provision has been made for new residents of North Carolina. A newcomer who otherwise meets voting requirements may vote for president if he has lived in the state for 60 days or more prior to November 5.

In the past, it was necessary to be a resident of the state for one year and of the voting precinct for 30 days to be eligible to vote. This is still the requirement for voting in any election except for the presidential contest.

A newcomer desiring to vote for the presidency must apply in person to the chairman of Chowan County Board of Elections not more than 20 days before the date of the election and not later than 5 P. M. on Friday preceding election day.

Those registered voters who have moved from the precinct in which they registered during the new registration in the spring must apply for a transfer at the precinct in which he now resides.

A qualified and registered voter who expects to be absent from the county during the entire period that the polls will be open on November 5 can make written application for absentee ballots to the board chairman not earlier than 45 days nor later than 6 P. M. on Wednesday before the election.

Halftime activities at the Edenton-Scotland Neck football game Friday night on Hicks Field will center around Homecoming. The event is sponsored each year by Future Homemakers of America of John A. Holmes High School.

There are three candidates for Homecoming Queen and three for Princess, chosen from their respective grades. They are: Elizabeth Williams, 10th Grade; Ginna Jones, 11th Grade, and Debby Adams, 12th Grade; Jackie Habit, Seventh Grade; Katherine Forehand, Eighth Grade, and Beth Katkaveck, Ninth Grade.

Aces Beaten By Williamston; Seek Second Victory

It's homecoming Friday night at John A. Holmes High School and the Aces hope to get back into the winning way as they play host to Scotland Neck.

The Aces are 1-1 in the 2-A Albemarle Conference, having lost a heart-breaker last week to Williamston, 7-6. It was the first time in 17 years that the Green Wave has been able to enjoy victory over the Aces. And it almost didn't come.

Although completely outmatched in the first two periods, the Aces held Williamston to a lone TD and in the fourth quarter were able to put points on the board themselves. With the score 7-6, Frank Niepraschk's boot was wide. The placekicker had booted 4 for 4 a week earlier at Northampton.

Gigi Leary and Jay Swicegood were honored Tuesday by the Quarterback

Club as back and lineman of the week, respectively. At the same time the club honored Earl Chesson and Allen Swanner for the posts for play against Elizabeth City.

Williamston scored on their second offensive play. Jimmy Hardison threw a quick pass to Ronnie Wynne who raced 22 yards for the score. The play caught the Edenton defense completely flatfooted. The Aces hadn't recovered from a busted play where the center threw the ball over Earl Chesson's head as Chesson stood in punt formation and Williamston took over deep in Edenton territory.

The Aces were able to stop several other Williamston drives and were on the Waves' three when the half ended.

In the third quarter the Aces were again in deep trouble due to another bad pass from center. Leary was able to stop Bebe Batts short of paydirt af-

Fair Booths Are Judged

The grand prize booth at Chowan County Fair was arranged by the Episcopal Young Churchmen of St. Paul's Church.

The booth, using the topic "We Serve The Community," was erected around the old country store theme.

Second place in the booth division went to three youngsters who erected an individual display titled: "Happiness Is a Clean Community." Those who presented the display were Henry and Mike McMullan and Grif Bond.

W. A. Perry, president, Chowan County Fair Association, said the booths were especially nice this year. "It is about the best displays we have ever had," he said.

Edenton Home Economics Extension Club won first place in the adult booth division and Byrd HDC won second. The YMW organization placed third.

Booths in the junior division placed in order, included:

Episcopal Young Churchmen, Holmes FFA, Oak Grove 4-H, Center Hill 4-H, Walker FFA, and Yeopim 4-H.

Entries in several other divisions were more than allotted space could handle, Perry pointed out. He singled out art as one of the fastest growing exhibits at the fair. He suggested that next year there might be a special art exhibit.

"We are extremely well pleased with the entries in each division," the leader said as he pointed to cured meat, a first for the fair, and many other items.

Judges were busy early Tuesday af-
