

Bob Scott Enjoys Campaign Cake

Lt. Gov. Bob Scott ate "campaign cake" at a rally at Beaufort in Carteret County recently.

A full-color replica of the North Carolina flag made of butter cream frosting covered the top half of the 20-pound cake. Red icing on the bottom half spelled "Elect Bob Scott."

The two-layer pineapple cake was baked in two sections, then put together. It was baked by Mrs. Dale Styron for her brother-in-law, Eugene Willis. Both are from Atlantic, and Willis is a friend of the Scott family. It was the largest campaign cake she has baked.

It wasn't large enough, however, to feed the more than 600 people attending the rally.

"I understand my opponent is now an author," Scott told Young Democrats at a statewide rally.

"He has a publication which I hear is on the newsstands for a dollar a copy."

"It doesn't take a dollar to find out from me how I stand," Scott said.

"You can just ask."

Scott said the one thing he wants his administration to be noted for is "planning for the future."

"I want to be known as the governor who initiated a new look at our problems, and as the governor who sought answers for the future needs of our state and her great people."

Scott said he wants to plan "not just for the four years ahead—but for the year 2000 and beyond."

"One of the things we need to be thinking about is water supply," Scott said. "We have never had to worry too much about water in North Carolina. But the current drought brings into sharp focus our need for planning in this area."

Police Report Local Accidents

Edenton Police Department investigated two accidents within a four-hour period Saturday, according to Chief J. D. Parrish.

At 6:25 A. M., two cars collided at the intersection of Queen and Granville streets. Damage to the two vehicles was placed at $900.

Police report that Mrs. Carolyn S. Ricks of Morgan Park was driving a 1968 Dodge which was involved in a mishap with a 1968 Ford, operated by J. Wallace Goodwin, 65, Route 1, Edenton.

The other mishap, happening at 10 A. M., was at the intersection of Broad and Church streets.

A 1966 Oldsmobile, operated by Lloyd E. Griffin, 71, 107 North Granville Street, was damaged $100 when it was struck in the rear by a 1967 Pontiac, driven by Thomas E. Raines, 38, of Virginia Beach. Damage to the Raines car was placed at $200.

No charges were filed in either accident.

Lions Conduct Fund Campaign

Members of Edenton Lions Club are currently conducting their White Cane Drive to raise funds for the N. C. State Association for the Blind.

A. Caswell Edmundson, chairman, said the state association is a Lions project. It was organized by Lions in 1934 as a non profit statewide organization and is supported by Lions through an annual funds drive.

"It is a known medical fact that approximately 50 per cent of all blindness can be prevented if action is taken in time to save a person's sight," the chairman said. "Yet, many thousands of persons become totally blind or visually handicapped simply because they have not been informed."

The Edenton Lions Club asks that everyone in the community contribute generously to this project.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CHRIST: OUR HIGH PRIEST

International Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 13

Memory Selection: "Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need."—Hebrews 4:16.

Lesson Text: Hebrews 4-6; 8-9.

Continuing the theme that God is able to sustain His people in adversity, and that He through His Son, Jesus Christ, has provided us with a mediator without peer, we continue our study in Hebrews.

It is generally acknowledged that a priest—or, indeed, any member of the cloth—knows more about God than those of us in more secular pursuits. To them we look for advice, spiritual sustenance and guidance—just as we look in the professional field to attend to those things beyond the knowledge of ordinary men. For theirs is a specialized field, a calling for men of special caliber, special understanding of the problems that beset ordinary, every-day human beings.

Man—in his relationship to God—is a pigmy. True, we can approach God in prayer—as we should. But, to the thinker, God is acknowledged to be the Almighty, and awe can border on fear, so easily, that we become tongue-tied and ashamed of ourselves, and of our problems. It is no great wonder, therefore, that we identify ourselves more easily with Jesus Christ. For He assumed our form; He walked among humans, seeing their strivings, their failings, aware of their doubts, and of the limitations of their minds.

He was tempted by the devil, as we have been tempted from time immemorial. True—He withstood His temptations, whereas we (who are not of His strength) too often succumb to ours.

But anyone who has read the account of the Crucifixion cannot help but be moved by His last words—uttered before He gave up the Ghost . . . "My God, my God—why hast thou forsaken me? . . ."—these words bring home, more than any other possibly could, the complete and all-encompassing humanity that was in Jesus. Close to God (and none could be closer); a creature of infinite understanding of the ways of God, He nevertheless was beset by the very human feeling of despair. His suffering was very real—the suffering of body, of mind, of soul. His limitations were the limitations of the body and of the mind of man.

He had to learn obedience, as does any child from his father. The big difference is that God and Jesus Christ were one in a more exacting relationship than are ordinary fathers and sons, and it follows that the lessons were harder. He was taught by God through the instrument of suffering; but—had He not been human—He would not have had to learn these lessons—so many of them in travail. No—how can we doubt the humanity of Christ?

WHAT BELONGS WHERE??

THE CHURCH FOR ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The hub of a railroad—the classification yard. Could you, without training or experience, take charge here? Could you sort and "spot" thousands of cars, have them ready at the right time on the right track to go out with the right train?

But every day your mind performs an operation even more complex. You sort and classify your thoughts and impulses. You decide what is right and wrong. You determine which actions are urgent, and which can be deferred. You resolve that some goals are important, and others are secondary. And every decision affects your life, and the lives of others!

Preparing men and women—and boys and girls—to make the right decisions is one of the great functions of the Church. There are sound Christian standards by which life's choices should be sorted. There is confidence and strength for those who seek, learn and practice the true Way of Life.

Dear friends,

Grief at the passing of a loved one is both natural and normal. Even Jesus wept at the death of Lazarus, the Bible tells us. Death brings loneliness and emptiness — one with whom so much was shared no longer is sharing with us. Good friends will not belittle ones grief, but rather will help the bereaved, thru new interests, to gradually overcome their grief.

Respectfully,

Marion Schubert
