

Edenton Naval Officer Is Commended

NORFOLK, Va. — An Edenton naval officer has received a letter of commendation for his superior performance while serving aboard an Atlantic Fleet aircraft carrier.

Cmdr. Burton H. Jones, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jones, of Edenton, received the letter from Rear Admiral S. H. Smith, Atlantic Fleet Supply Officer, during recent ceremonies at Atlantic Fleet Headquarters in Norfolk.

of hard work and a team effort." While serving as supply officer aboard the Norfolk-based antisubmarine warfare carrier USS Randolph from September, 1966, to September, 1968, Cmdr. Jones' "consistent display of professionalism" played a key role in winning the Navy "Blue" Efficiency ("E") award.

The "Blue E" was the first in history to be given to a supply department. Previously, the Navy awarded only the red "E" to engineering, the green "E" to aviation and the white "E" to administrative departments.

The citation from Capt. W. V. Whidden, USN, commanding officer of the Randolph, commended Cmdr. Jones for his "... competence, initiative and resourcefulness." And it was through his "ability and ingenuity" that new supply management programs were developed, implemented and brought to combat readiness, according to Randolph's commanding officer.

Cmdr. Jones is presently serving as supply officer ashore to the commander-in-chief, U. S. Atlantic Fleet, Admiral Ephraim P. Holmes.

The Atlantic Fleet maintains the combat readiness, training and logistic support of some 420 ships, 2,500 aircraft and 220,000 personnel in the Atlantic Ocean area. Major capabilities of the fleet are fast carrier striking forces, amphibious assault forces and defensive forces which protect sea lines of communications and coastal areas against submarine, sea or air attacks.

Cmdr. Jones was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1950, where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics. After completing Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps at the university, he was commissioned an ensign.

His other duty assignments include serving as supply advisor for the Republic of Korean Navy for the U. S. Naval Advisory Group, Korea, from June, 1961, to November, 1963.

He is married to the former Miss Jean Reinbrecht of Waterbury, Conn. The Jones' and their children, Margaret, 10, Sarah, 8, and Walter, 6, presently reside at 1429 Dunstan Lane, Virginia Beach, Va.

how does our church "stack up"?

Is its doors thrown open to all who need the sense of comfort, of strength, that a church should represent in the lives of every-day, ordinary human beings? Or is it an inner sanctuary reserved for the select few?

Does it involve itself in the life of the community—direct itself towards the betterment of EVERYBODY—or is it ingrown, concerned with only what affects the particular segment that constitutes its congregation?

Christ, as He died on the cross, for the sins of mankind, died for no particular sect, no particular creed. He died for ALL MANKIND. And when it comes to a question of love—a clarification of the word—we need, most desperately, to remember this.

Land Bank Plans Annual Meeting

More than 200 farmers are expected at the National Guard armory in Ahsokie Tuesday for the annual stockholders' meeting of the Federal Land Bank Association of Ahsokie.

The meeting will begin at 5 P. M. with George T. Underwood of Murfreesboro, president of the association, presiding.

Frank L. Barton, vice president of the Federal Land Bank of Columbia, will be the featured speaker. The topic of his speech will be "Financing Today's Agriculture."

Other events include the annual report on association progress by A. L. Wiggins, manager. The election of one director and the report of the board of directors on important actions taken during the year are also on the agenda.

In addition to President Underwood, association directors include J. G. Pollock of Gatesville, vice president; M. B. Johnson of Pendleton; H. O. Edwards of Ahsokie, and Frank W. Hollowell of Elizabeth City.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Ahsokie makes and services long-term loans to farmers in Bertie, Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Gates, Hertford, Northampton, Pasquotank and Perquimans counties. It is entirely owned by the borrower-members it serves.

CHICKEN PARMESAN is a delicious way to impress the family—or the boss.

- 1 1/2 medium-sized chicken breasts cut in half
- 1 egg, beaten with 3 tbsp. water
- 1 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1 stick margarine
- 1/2 cup cooking sherry (optional)

Dip chicken pieces in egg; dredge with mixture of Parmesan cheese, paprika, salt and pepper. Melt margarine in skillet over medium heat. Cook chicken slowly until brown and tender (about 30 min.). Drain. If sherry is used, pour fat from skillet, replace chicken and pour sherry over it. Cover and simmer for 45 min. or until fork tender. Serves 6 moderate eaters.

Cost of ingredients: less than $3; cost of electricity: 1c. Chicken and electricity—an economical combination.
