

Achievement Awards Given Chowan 4-H'ers

The 4-H County Achievement program was held at Center Hill Community Building Monday night. The purpose of the program was to recognize 4-H'ers for outstanding work during the year. Approximately 100 people attended the program.

The highlight of the program was Miss Beth Hurdle of Hertford showing slides and explaining life in Iran. Miss Hurdle was IFYE to Iran last year, living with seven host families and learning about the customs and family life of the people. The 4-H'ers were most interested in seeing 4-H members in Iran and how they live.

Local leaders were given certificates of recognition for the number of years they have served the 4-H organization. Bristoe Perry was honored with a framed certificate for having served 4-H for 20 years.

Two 4-H'ers were presented the Key Award for outstanding development in leadership, citizenship and in service to others. (This award is sponsored by Cities Service Oil Company). Bristoe Perry presented these awards to Miss Faye Parrish and Don Evans.

Miss Mary Sue Moser, district 4-H specialist, presented the 4-H district winner awards. Certificates were presented to 4-H'ers for county winners, district winners and for completion of projects, as well as special awards for canning, breads and cereals and foods and nutrition. Sixty-eight 4-H'ers received medals for outstanding work in the National 4-H Award Program.

Around Chowan Farms Changes Slated By Food Chain

By C. W. OVERMAN
Peanut Production Meetings: An old adage, "You can provide feed for a horse but you can't make him eat." Doesn't this apply to people also? Think about it in relation to agricultural know-how.

Your County Agricultural Extension workers, fortified by research developments and specialists' assistance, have most all of the present know-how information on producing crops and livestock. This is available to all farmers, gardeners and others interested, yet so many fail to take advantage of it.

In cooperation with the County Extension Advisory Board and sub-committee leaders, meetings and demonstrations are planned to convey information to the people. Extension specialists who have the latest research findings attend many meetings to assist. We can provide the food of information, yet unless you attend meetings and partake of the information, you don't get the food.

Last week we scheduled seven community meetings spotted over Chowan County. At these we gave pertinent information on the value of proper liming of all fields, soil sampling, filling out the field information sheet and interpretation.

pack tobacco tax, and $21 million per one cent increase in the gas tax (a three cents increase was recommended by the Governor's Highway Study Commission as part of a package of highway improvements and revenue sources). When the revenues from even these substantial tax increases are compared with the pressing demands for new services, it is obvious that the 1969 General Assembly is working itself up to an Excedrin headache when it comes to grips with this year's crop of money issues.

Legislative Organization

The General Assembly organized last week by selecting Democrats Earl Vaughn as Speaker of the House and Hector McGeachy as President Pro Tem of the Senate.

ing and understanding the new soil test report. The farmer planning committee suggested community meetings for farmers' convenience. So we tried it. No one came to two places, one attended another, three another, four another and 12 to 15 attended each of the other two. We don't feel that our time and effort was totally wasted because we reached a total of about 35 to 40 interested people who attended and we hope benefited. But couldn't we have reached as many people with one or two meetings? We think so and our time could have been used more efficiently.

On Thursday afternoon of next week, February 6, at 2 o'clock, at the Chowan Community Building the annual Chowan County Peanut Production meeting will be held. Extension Peanut Specialist Astor Perry and N. C. Peanut Growers Association Executive Secretary Joe Sugg, will assist us. This will be peanut information food for all who will attend.

If you miss this meeting on February 6, you will have an opportunity to attend a similar meeting in Perquimans County. The Perquimans meeting will be held at the County Office Building on U. S. 17 on Tuesday afternoon, February 18, at 2 P. M. Attend the meeting most convenient for you.

1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 1/3 cups flaked coconut.

1/2 cup chopped pecans.
Melt chocolate with butter in a saucepan over low heat, stirring until blended. Remove from heat; then gradually blend in evaporated milk. Mix sugar, cornstarch, salt thoroughly. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Gradually blend in the chocolate mixture. Pour into an 8-inch square pan. Combine coconut and nuts; sprinkle over filling. Bake at 375 degrees for about 40 minutes, or until top puffs and cracks slightly. Cool at least two hours before serving. Serve with cream, ice cream or prepared whipped topping, if desired. (Note: Temptation is to bake the dessert too long. Take it from the oven before it is set, when almost firm as you gently shake the pan. It sets while cooling. Never serve it hot, unless you want to eat it with a spoon.)
