

Letter To The Editor

After reading the paper last week I found out that Bill Britt got his desegregated plans passed by a vote of 71 by the board of integration. We cannot call it the board of education any more.

It has already gone beyond that.

Bill Britt says it is a psychological thing. He and the board members must be getting paid by HEW, not by Chowan County because the parents I talk to do not want integration.

It has gotten so we have less sayso over our children's education program than we do our dogs. We don't force our dogs to go places they do not want to go. But our children are being forced. Our school programs are in it now so where do we go from here? To private schools. Is this the answer?

This is a lot of unnecessary spending that will hurt everyone especially the businessman. It looks like we are in a big turmoil.

Can our schools and colleges survive?

Herbert L. Chappell.
