What joy it is to hear him call
After you've been alone,
Hearing his footsteps in the hall,
Then . . . "Anybody Home?"

Ladies . . . if any of you get irritated with your hubby — just remember what I say — loneliness is terrible. So just be glad to see him and make him glad to come home.

From where I am sitting I can see the weeping willow tree which, in the past week, has gotten so beautifully green, a sure sign of Spring and Hope. The first day of Spring will be tomorrow, the 20th. This day will be exactly 12 hours long, the only 12-hour day of the year.

Well, I hear that the fish are really beginning to bite up the creek, in the river and in the various ditches around. Of course, most of us are after the game fish, the speckled perch, but to me a fish is a fish, just so it takes the hook. However, the March winds hamper the fishing a bit, unless you happen to be a brave soul like Madison Phillips or Ernest Kehayes.

I hear that the Newell-Tarkington wedding this past week was really close to perfection and what a beautiful day for a wedding! I also hear that the parents of the bride and bridegroom were just as handsome and happy as the young couple. Best wishes to Elaine and John.

Life certainly is not too boring for me. I no sooner get to feeling fine then I slip in the bath tub. A minor accident for sure, but I still feel the effects and slightly inhibited in daily meanderings.

Have you ever tried making Congo Bars? Well, here's the recipe, sent in by a reader, who says they really are delicious and easy to make:

- 1 1/2 sticks butter.
 - 1 box light brown sugar.
 - 3 eggs.
 - 2 cups flour.
 - 1/2 tsp. salt.
 - 2 1/2 tsp. baking powder.
 - 1 cup chopped pecans.
 - Small package of chocolate bits.
- Cream softened butter, add brown sugar. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add other ingredients. Pour in greased and floured sheet-pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Cut in squares.

A Few Hints
Dark washable clothing will come out of the laundering dark and clear if you add a half cup of vinegar in the last rinse water. White wash the inside of a window box before filling with soil. It preserves the wood and keeps out insects.
Nylon fishing line is great for hanging pictures. It is quite strong and hardly visible.
Add a little olive oil and garlic to your baked potatoes. It's tasty and contains fewer calories.
